The United States Naval Transport George Washington Leaving New York Harbor, Wednesday, December 4.

This photo, the first received in Los Angeles, shows the President departing on his momentous mission to Europe. Mr. Wilson may be discerned upon the flying bridge of the great ship, from where, as the transport proceeded to sea, he made acknowledgment of the greatest demonstration accorded any person in the history of the port of New York. The President's flag snaps from the mast above the flying bridge and alongside is seen a battleplane flown by an army aviator.

HEARST GREATEST ALLY OF HUNS.

Secret Service Head Testifies There is no Other Man Whose Attitude was so Friendly to Germany in War, No Newspapers so Pronouncedly Pro-German.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, completed his testimony today before the Senate committee investigating brewers and German propaganda. For three days Mr. Bielaski had bared the confidential files of the department to show the vain efforts of former Ambassador Von Bernstorff and other agents of the Kaiser to influence public sentiment in America in favor of Germany.

Seven and one-half million dollars was the cost to Germany of the propaganda campaign in the United States, Mr. Bielaski said, the sum coming from the total fund of $27,850,000 held by the embassy in Washington. Part of the money went for the purchase of newspapers and the printing and distributing of literature, and part of it was sent to German consuls over the country.

Mr. Bielaski's testimony does not conclude the committee's inquiry into the activity of the German representatives. It was announced tonight that Alfred Becker, assistant District Attorney of New York, who conducted an investigation of German propaganda, and Francis Garvin, chief of the bureau of investigation of the alien property custodian's office, will be examined later.

Tomorrow the committee will hear Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard University, whose name was in the "important list of names" contained in Dr. Fuehr's diary and who has asked for permission to testify. After that the committee will adjourn.

In his testimony today, Mr. Bielaski read from a report made to Berlin by Dr. Karl F. Fuehr, counselor of the German embassy, on propaganda. This praised the attitude of William R. Hearst towards Germany and included in a list of "neutral" papers the New York Evening Mail, the Milwaukee Free Press, the Chicago Tribune, the Washington Post and the Hearst organs. Fuehr said that of these Hearst papers were the most valuable because of their large circulation and the fact that they were printed in so many different cities.

"The Hearst papers are not to be classed as blind champions of Germany," Fuehr's report said. "Many of the articles are not favorable to us. But for that reason they are much more effective than they could possibly be if pronouncedly pro-German.

HEARST MOST PRO-HUN.

Mr. Bielaski told the committee that of all the newspapers published in the United States, the Hearst organs "were the most pronounced in favor of Germany."

"There is no other newspaper man," said Mr. Bielaski, "whose attitude was so friendly to Germany.

"If this inquiry were limited to an investigation of paid propagandists we could not mention Mr. Hearst. There is no evidence that Mr. Hearst received profits from the German government or from anyone acting for it."

Hearst's attitude?" asked Senator Nelson of Minnesota.

"It probably was because Mr. Hearst was always anti-British and suspicious of everything that country did, or it may have been caused by his friendship with Count von Bernstorff," replied the witness.

QUESTIONABLE ATTITUDE.

"What was his attitude after the United States entered the war?" asked Chairman Overman.

"His attitude continued very questionable," replied Mr. Bielaski. "Many articles published in his papers, if published after the passage of the Espionage Act, as amended, would have subjected him to prosecution."

Mr. Bielaski said that all the department has to indicate that Hearst endeavored to get any favor in return for his support of Germany was his application for his paper to get a special news service German agents planned to send to newspapers in the United States. William Bayard Hale, Bielaski said, recommended that the request be granted because of the opportunity afforded for wide circulation of the news.

Senator King of Utah objected to placing in the record telegrams sent by Hearst from Palm Beach Fla., in instructing his editors in New York and elsewhere as to editorial policy, saying the messages were irrelevant. After an executive session, however, the committee voted

HURLEY GETTING SHIPS TO BRING BACK TROOPS

EARLY DISCHARGE PLANNED FOR OFFICERS; NEW GUN IS DEMONSTRATED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Negotiations for tonnage to bring home the American troops from France are progressing satisfactorily, Chairman Hurley said he already had conferred with Sir Joseph Maclay, British Minister of Shipping, and Sir Thomas Deavitt on the matter of using British tonnage.

Discharge from the army as soon as practicable of officers who have signified their desire to leave the service has been authorized by the War Department. Vacancies caused by such separations will be filled temporarily by officers who want to hold their positions permanently, or by those who have asked for commissions in the reserves.

An 8-inch gun, self-propelling on its caterpillar track, and prototype of a fleet of similar monsters that was being constructed for the American army when hostilities ceased, was demonstrated here today before Assistant Secretary of War Crowell, Maj.-Gen. Snow, Chief of Artillery, and a large group of American officers and engineers.

Gun and machine alike had successfully passed the firing tests at the ordnance proving ground before today's test, which was under direction of Pliny E. Holt and Col. J. B. Dillard, the designers.

The tractor gun drove its 55,000 pounds of bulk up a 45-degree ravine wall, developed a speed of four miles an hour on a level surface and demolished large trees with the same ruthlessness that its war brother, the tank, showed in action

SECRET SERVICE PICTURES HEARST.

Questioned about the attitude of William R. Hearst toward the war, A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the Bureau of Investigations of the Department of Justice, said:

"Of all the newspapers published in the United States, those published by Mr. Hearst were the most pronounced in favor of Germany. There is no other man whose attitude was so friendly to Germany in the war.

"After we entered the war his attitude continued very questionable. Many articles in his papers, if published after the passage of the Espionage Act, as amended, would have subjected him to prosecution.

"Bolo Pasha was brought to this country by a representative of Hearst. Bolo was introduced to Hearst, who invited him to lunch, and who later attended a number of meetings with him. Bolo's mission here was to obtain money to purchase a paper in France.

"Hearst's attitude toward Germany was praised by Dr. Fuehr in a report to the German government. Fuehr said Hearst's papers were most valuable because printed in so many different cities. Hearst once called at the office of Dr. Albert, German propagandist."

A letter from Hearst to Von Bernstorff asked that his moving-picture operator be permitted to work in Germany.

WOOD SAYS SOLDIERS' FOOD IS SATISFACTORY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The food served to the American soldier in camp and in the field has been "universally satisfactory," Brig.-Gen. Wood, acting inspector-general of the army, said in his annual report yesterday. Gen. Wood said one inspector reported not a single complaint regarding food had come to him during one trip which included visits to camps of 300,000 soldiers.

It is admitted that complaints have been recorded regarding some of the clothing equipment, but the report says "these defects were unavoidable in many cases and were

Plot to Break Up Soldiers' and Workers' Council Is Nipped; Conspirators Held

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 9.—A counter-revolutionary movement is in full swing at Potsdam, according to a Berlin dispatch to the National Tidente.

The Soldiers' and Workmen's Council at Hamburg has announced the discovery of a plot for a counter-revolutionary coup there on Monday night.

It was planned to arrest the members of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council, repress the workers by armed force and re-establish the former authorities. Several conspirators, including prominent newspaper men and Herr Blumm, former member of the Reichstag, have been arrested.

FIGHT SPARTACUS GROUP.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Saturday, Dec. 7.—The entire bourgeoise press and the majority Socialist organ Vorwaerts today presente a united front against the Spartacus group of Socialists. The Vorwaerts, in its criticism of the Independent Socialists, indicates that this newspaper finds it difficult to distinguish them from Karl Liebknecht's Spartacus group.

A savage onslaught against the majority Socialists and their representatives in the government is made by the Independent Socialist organ, and this newspaper's almost enthusiastic defense of the Spartacus group is construed here as showing that the Ebert-Haase factions are swiftly approaching a break. The Vorwaerts spiritedly attacks the Haase party organ's defense of the Spartacus group and Liebknecht and for its onslaught on the Ebert-Schiedemann faction, and asks whether the Independents have no sense of their responsibility when they endeavor to excuse Dr. Liebknecht's "vile activities."

OIL CRISIS IN MEXICO.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—All negotiations between the Association of Petroleum Producers in Mexico and the Carranza government with regard to the property rights of the oil companies have been broken off and the association's representative in Mexico, Newson Rhoades, has been recalled to the United States.

This action was announced following a meeting of a committee of the association at the offices of the Mexican Petroleum Company today.

After careful consideration had been given to the proposed oil law which is already before the Mexican Congress, the committee decided that the confiscatory features were patent, and that such being the case nothing further could be gained by carrying on negotiations.

If there is no modification of the law the producers will place reliance in the support of the United States, the position of this government having been set forth by President Wilson in a note to Carranza.

JAPANESE BUY LANDS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 9.—Matsui Tatsuta has arrived in Mexico City at the head of a commission of Japanese bankers, who are buying oil and other properties.

Arrangements are being made for the purchase of Haciendas Dante and Cussi located in Michoacan.

CALIFORNIA BREWERS ACCEPT DRY VICTORY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—California brewers, as represented by the State Brewers' Association, will make no organized protest against the Sheppard prohibition amendment to the Agricultural Appropriation Bill, the proposed amendment to the national Constitution providing for prohibition, or the order of President Wilson concerning prohibition, it was determined here today. This was announced in the annual meeting. There was no dissent to this decision.

At the meeting several invitations to transplant the State's brewing industries to the Orient were read, it was said. Optimism concerning the future of brewing in the Orient was expressed by many of those attend-

Lifting Food Embargo

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—Abandonment of the sugar and bakery divisions of the Federal Food Administration for California was announced today by Ralph P. Merritt, Food Administrator.

Other food administration agencies will remain intact, it was announced, until the formal declaration of peace, unless it should appear they might become unnecessary or that some of them might be consolidated.

From May 30 to December 1, the administration announced, the sugar division rationed 141,000,000 pounds, largely with volunteer help. Approximately 6 per cent. of the State's allotment was saved, it was announced. The allotment was between half and two-thirds of the State's former consumption.

Escape Bakersfield Jail

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 9.—Five prisoners escaped from the Kern County Jail last night by cutting their way through a barred window leading into the corridor. It is said that one whole tier of cells was left unlocked. The men had a woman confederate, who was outside the jail. None of the fugitives had been apprehended up to tonight, according to Sheriff D. B. Newell, who has sent notices to the peace officers all over the State to be on the lookout. The fugitives are:

James Furlong, who recently pleaded guilty to a charge of burglarizing a store.

B. Gonsales, charged with assault with intent to commit murder.

William W. Robinson, alleged forger.

Gompers Censured

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Charges that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, while in this city last Saturday "knowingly participated in a banquet served by strike-breaking waiters and cooks," have been drafted for presentation to the National Executive Council of the federation by the International Federation of Hotel and Restaurant Workers, it was announced tonight. The Central Federated Union of this city also will be asked to adopt a resolution of censure aimed at Gompers, it was stated.

Although Gompers did not partake of food served at the banquet, which was held by the Academy of Political Sciences, his presence at the meeting, according to the strikers, will be looked upon as an indication of "lack of unity in labor's ranks."

FRENCH SOB, GERMANS GAY.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TREVES (Germany) Dec. 9.—"Lest we forget" here in Treves, there is Solssons. Here in Treves the lights are burning brightly tonight. Over across the street from this pretty Porta Nigra Hotel a musical comedy has just ended and out of the stadt theater well-dressed crowds fill the sidewalks, some on the way to their homes, some to the cafes and restaurants and dances.

Street-car bells are clanging and boys are selling papers, and up from the throngs comes the sound of laughter. Waiters in evening clothes are waiting in the restaurants to serve Treves' merrymakers.

This is Treves, the well-kept and prosperous metropolis of this sector of the Moselle Valley.

Seated here in a flower garden of Hunland, my memory goes back metropolis of its part of the Aisne Valley.

There are no arc lights in Soissons tonight.

No merry crowds are coming from the city's theaters.

No waiters in evening clothes stand with the proffered wine list.

There is desolation in Soissons.

I can see standing stark the two maimed spires of its once noble cathedral. I can see its torn and tortured houses, once the beautiful homes of beautiful Northern France, now the habitat of scavenger rats, if they haven't all died of hunger. The clang of the street car bells is gone, and of laughter there is none. The war's curse has ruined the once fair city.

JOKER STARTS GERMAN RIOTS.

Ordered Officer by Phone to Jail Commissioners.

Machine Guns Soon Send Socialist Terrors Flying.

BY JOSEPH HERRING.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

(Copyright.)

BERLIN, Dec. 8 (via Copenhagen, Dec. 9.)—It is not quite clear yet whether the riots and shooting affrays here were nothing but an extraordinary series of coincidences or the result of sinister machinations against the government. A third explanation is, that in the main the events were really nothing but a badly-mangled, if well meant, and partly spontaneous, demonstration in favor of the Ebert-Haase government.

First Lieut. Fischer appears in the Prussian Diet building and declares the Executive Committee of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council is arrested in the name of the people's commissioners. About the same time some soldiers and sailors appear in front of the Chancellor's palace, offering Ebert the presidency of the republic. Then, at a meeting of the unemployed arranged by a council of deserters closely connected with the Spartacides, it is announced that the Executive Committee was arrested and that the government is trying to cheat the proletariat out of the fruits of the revolution.

"Let's hang Ebert! Down with the counter-revolution."

With these cries, the meeting marched down the Chaussestrasse and was received with machine-gun fire from the guards. It was here that the casualties resulted.

Meanwhile Lieut. Fischer had gone to the Chancellor's palace to request arrest of the committee, but if he is to hold them he desires a written warrant in place of the telephone message authorizing the arrest.

FISCHER ARRESTED.

The commissioners said they never authorized the arrest. Fischer himself is arrested.

While Fischer's men are still holding the Prussian Diet building another column of soldiers led by a private comes to the Diet building. They are told what has happened and that Fischer's men are in charge, whereupon they march away.

A column of underofficers commanded by Leader Suppe takes up a position along the Wilhelmstrasse, shutting the approach from the Linden for the protection of the Chancellor's palace. Franz and his soldiers appear at the offices of Die Rote Fahne and keep observation for nearly four hours until ordered to leave by the commissioners.

When Fischer and his party invaded the Diet building the soldiers and Workers' Council was in session. Fischer and twenty men entered the meeting-room, pointing revolvers at the twelve members, and said:

"Hands up. We arrest you in the name of the government."

The members desired to see the warrant. There was none, but Fischer insisted on having received authority by telephone. Fischer's men formed in two detachments, each taking six members to prison. Just then Barth, one of the commissioners, stepped in the room and told Fischer the commissioners could not possibly have ordered the arrest or he would know about it. Fischer is uncertain; his men waver. Finally some of his men remain in charge of the room while Fischer himself with others proceeded to the Chancellor's palace.

SOLDIERS FAVOR EBERT.

About 5 o'clock a long column of soldiers and sailors, headed by a drum corps, marched down Wilhelmstrasse, lining up in front of the Chancellor's building. Other smaller detachments joined. Spiro, Ebert leader, made a speech, giving expression to a wish for an early national convention. He said:

"The Executive Committee of the Soldiers' and Workers' Council must no longer be permitted to put its clumsy shoulder to the wheel of government or exert any pressure upon it. The Executive Committee's evil influence should be stopped immediately. We are acting in the name of the whole nation, and especially in the name of our brother soldiers."

Deafening applause and the roll of many drums greeted Ebert's appearance, who made a short speech, already reported.

Spiro addressed Ebert: "We must ask one more question: You, Herr Ebert, have just been proclaimed President. Do you accept, yes, or no?"

Ebert replied: "Comrades and friends, I am unwilling to accept your offer without first having consulted my colleagues in the government. This is too serious a matter and must be left to the council and the people's commissioners."

The soldiers and sailors had hardly marched away when Fischer and his men arrived from the Diet building. He sent word in that he wished to report that he had just placed the Executive Committee under arrest, as ordered by the people's commissioners, and that they demanded to see the written order for their arrest.

The commissioners told him very plainly he must be a fool to accept so important an order by telephone. Haase suggested probably the captain of Copenik had been at work again, but the others could not see the joke. They called the palace guard and placed Fischer and his companions under arrest and dispatched a trusty person to release the Soldiers' and Workers' Council and to explain the situation.

USE MACHINE GUNS.

Between 5 and 6 o'clock some 400 persons, mostly unemployed, gathered in the northern district to listen to speeches made by members of the deserters' council, who are in the pay of Liebknecht. Suddenly the door opened and a man called out: "Comrades, they have arrested the Executive Committee. This is the beginning of a counter-revolution. Will you permit Scheidemann and his junker friends to cheat you?"

The crowd proceeded toward the Chaussestrasse. They shouted "Hurrah for Liebknecht!" and bore along great posters reading "Down with Hindenburg. Down with the officers who hide in the soldiers' councils."

At the corner of Invalidenstrasse the guard fusileers were in position with machine guns. When the procession neared Invalidenstrasse the guard fusileers shouted: "Go back or we will shoot.".

The men carrying the red flag paid: "Comrades, you are not going to shoot us. We intend to protect the fruits of the revolution."

But the soldiers would not hear.

"Back or we fire," they said. Then the crowd surged forward.

"Fire!" came the command, and the machine guns began to rattle. Some isolated shots were fired from rifles. A ghastly shriek from 400 mouths went up. Down went the man at the head, his red flag torn by machine-gun fire.

Others dropped dead or wounded. Some stumbled and fell. In one minute all was over. The crowd dispersed. Dead and wounded were fifty-three.

CANTU PLANS NEW CAPITOL.

Asks Architects to Submit Sketches for Building at Mexicali.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CALEXICO, Dec. 9.—Gov. Estaban Cantu of Lower California has asked architects to submit sketches and plans for a new capitol which he announced he would build immediately at Mexicali for the northern district of Baja, California.

Mexicali is divided from Calexico only by the international boundary line, and the improvement of the Mexican town would benefit the American side also. There are a number of officials of the Lower California government now stationed at Mexicali.

MODEL GOVERNMENT AIM OF COMMITTEE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 9.—The committee appointed recently by Gov. Stephens to make recommendations for the reduction of State expenses adopted the name of the Efficiency and Economy Commission at its session here today.

The commission decided to make a study of all of the activities of the State government dividing them into groups such as agricultural, horticultural, labor and health. There will be eleven groups, it is announced. A committee composed of John L. Chambers, State Controller; Clyde L. Seavey and E. A. Dickson, members of the Board of Control, were appointed to segregate the various State departments and commissions into groups, and report at another meeting to be held here next week.

Subcommittees to hold advisory hearings throughout the State also will be appointed. An effort will be made to formulate a definite plan of economy and efficiency for Gov. Stephens to submit early in March to the Legislature at the second half of the biennial session beginning in January," according to A. E. Boynton of San Francisco, who was elected chairman of the commission.

"We hope to devise a model form of State government," Boynton said.

A MARVELOUS RECORD.

The Times' Proved Supremacy as a Business-Creating Agency—Struggling Rivals Left Far in the Rear.

The best criterion of the publicity value of a newspaper is the extent to which its advertising columns are used. About this there can be no doubt. It is indisputable and beyond controversy.

Measured by this standard, or any other, THE TIMES towers above all competitors like a mountain above a mole hill.

Last Sunday, December 8, The Times printed the enormous total of 12,110 inches of advertising, which is 4711 inches more than was printed in the second local Sunday newspaper, 8953 inches more than was printed in the third newspaper and 1553 inches more than was printed in the second and third newspapers put together.

In local display advertising last Sunday The Times led the second local newspaper by 2658 inches and the third newspaper by 5535 inches.

In classified advertising alone on the date mentioned The Times' lead over the second newspaper was 1619 inches and over the third newspaper 2621 inches.

The following figures show the total volume of advertising printed in the Los Angeles Sunday newspapers on December 8, 1918:

TOTAL ADVERTISING

THE TIMES	12,110 inches
Second newspaper	7,399 "
Third newspaper	6,158 "

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

THE TIMES	3,139 inches
Second newspaper	1,519 "
Third newspaper	508 "

The Times' unprecedented advertising business is concrete and rock-ribbed evidence of the fact that the experienced and farseeing advertisers realize that they can cover Los Angeles and all Southern California at one cost by using The Times alone.

JUGO-SLAVS IN ONE STATE.

Croats, Slovenes Join Serbs in Forming Single Kingdom.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Formal notice has been given the American government of the purpose of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes formally held subject by the Austro-Hungarian government to unite with the kingdom of Serbia, in a single Jugo-Slavic state, and to insist on evacuation of Jugo-Slav territory now occupied by Italy.

Official texts were presented to the State Department today of addresses by Prince Regent Alexander of Serbia and a delegation of twenty-seven members from the National Council of Zagreb, delivered at Belgrade, December 12.

The Prince Regent accepted the proposal of the Zagreb council for union under a parliamentary government, the delegation to be received to sit provisionally at Belgrade as representatives of their people until a constituent assembly can be held within six months after the conclusion of peace.

After submitting the proposal for union, the Zagreb delegation said:

"We are profoundly grieved to be obliged to place on record that a great part of our national soil is occupied by the troops of the kingdom of Italy which is allied with the powers of the Entente, and with which we desire to live in friendly relations, but we cannot recognize the opportunity of any treaty, not even that of London, which is in violation of the principles of nationality.

"We desire to draw the attention of your royal highness to the fact that the extent of the Italian occupation greatly exceeds the limits and the regions foreseen in the clauses of the armistice concluded with the commander-in-chief of the Austro-Hungarian army, after the proclamation of these territories as independent and an integral part of the Serb, Croat and Slovene state, and we will furnish the government of your royal highness with proof of this, in the full conviction that your royal highness will make it his task, together with our entire nation, to see to it that the definite frontiers of our state are drawn in such a way that they accord with the ethnographical frontiers, and are in conformity with the principles laid down by President Wilson of the United States and the other powers of the Entente."

The Prince Regent in his address said:

"In the name of His Majesty, King Peter, I proclaim the union of Serbia with the provinces of independent states of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes in the United Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes. . . .

"I and my government assure you of our complete acceptance of your desires which you have just laid before me.

"Faithful to the example which the King, my father, has given me, I will be solely the King of free citizens of the state of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes and will always remain faithful to the great constitutional and parliamentary principles, found on the general rights. For this reason I ask your collaboration for the formation of a government which will represent all the united fatherland.

"The government will have as its first duty to trace together with you the ethnographical frontiers of our entire nation. I have the right to hope that our great Allies will judiciously appreciate our point of view, for it corresponds to the principles they have themselves proclaimed, and for which they have poured out so much blood. I further hope that this point of view will also be admitted by the Italian government."

The regent's address was countersigned by the Minister of Finance, Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs ad interim, Stoyan Protitich and the ministers at Belgrade.

RUSH YANKEES TO COBLENZ

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

TREVES, Dec. 8.—A battalion of American infantry entrained at Treves and left for Coblenz to maintain order ahead of the arrival of the main army forces.

The last German forces will cross the Rhine today.

The German command sent a request to the American army's advanced general headquarters here, asking that a police force be sent to Coblenz to prevent disturbances between the departure of the retiring German army and the arrival of our army. A battalion of the Thirty-ninth Infantry of the Fourth Division was ordered to go to Coblenz, and thus American soldiers will arrive in that city four days ahead of their schedule.

The German request contained no mention of disturbances. We have no information of disorder. It is known that in the industrial city of Coblenz there is a Bolshevist faction against which not only the Allied commission, but the Germand command and workers' council stand determined.

The American police force leaving here is ordered to reach the Rhine city at noon.

No disturbances of any kind have occurred at Treves or any territory occupied by the American forces. There is much less friction between the German population and the Americans than there was between the population and the German army when it passed through.

Continuance of comparatively good food is causing much comment, in view of the German representation of impending starvation. The official army report says: "There is no evidence of suffering from lack of food in the territory occupied by the army," and there is no apparent lack of the necessities of life.

SOUTHLAND MEN IN CASUALTIES.

A victim of severe exposure received in a campaign in Belgium, Corp. Arthur C. Manahan, the son of Mrs. Martha Manahan of No. 186 West Thirty-ninth street, is dead of acute pleurisy, according to word just received. He left for Camp Lewis in October, 1917, and was attached to the Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry, Co. H. He went into active service abroad September 26, and was in the battle of Argonne Forest, from which he was sent to Belgium. Before entering service, however, the soldier was manager of a theater in Brawley, Cal. He leaves, in addition to his mother, a sister, Miss Mary Manahan, and the brothers, Clarence, Harry and Robert Manahan of this city, and W. L. Manahan of Prairie City, Or., and J. L. Manahan of Brawley.

That William D. Patterson, the son of Mrs. Marguerite Patterson of No. 604 North Boyle avenue, lies in a French base hospital severely wounded was the word received yesterday by his mother. He enlisted here a year ago and was sent to Camp Lewis, and later to Camp Mills, Long Island, thence overseas, where he was with Co. C of the Twelfth Machine-Gun Battalion. Before joining the colors he was with the Western Auto Electric Corporation here. He is 35 years old, and a brother of David Patterson of the police department, and Miss Hortense Patterson.

Private Ray Stirling, Co. A, Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry, is reported as having been wounded in action, degree of wound, undetermined, on September 26, according to a telegram received yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stirling of No. 2642 Pomeroy street. Before entering the army, Stirling was employed by the Crown Laundry Company.

SANTA ANA, Dec. 9.—Paul Arbiso, listed today as severely wounded, was born and raised at San Juan Capistrano. In a letter to his sister, Mrs. Soriada Combs, Arbiso said he lost some fingers from his right hand, but would be out of the hospital within a short time. It is believed he was wounded in the Argonne fighting of the Ninety-first Division.

FULLERTON, Dec. 9.—With his ankle shattered when he went over the top on September 25, Lloyd F. Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Fuller of this city, lay in the field a day before he was picked up, according to letters received by his parents. Fuller is listed today as severely wounded. He was one of the first ten men to be sent by the local board to Camp Lewis. When he wrote, Fuller was in the base hospital at Llonges, France.

Lester G. Kime of R.F.D. No. 4, Fullerton, is also listed today as severely wounded. No details of his wounding could be learned.

Peter Epson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Epson of Placentia. He is listed as wounded slightly in action during September.

SANTA ANA, Dec. 9.—In an effort to get some word concerning his son, Ernest, who was a member of the heroic lost battalion, J. E. Kellogg of No. 621 Orange avenue, today appealed to the Red Cross, and an inquiry will be started at once. Kellogg was a member of Co. L, One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry. The last letter received from him was dated September 18 and stated he was going into action. Since that time word came that his comrade, Nat Rochester, was killed in the fighting, but not a word has come concerning Kellogg.

Rev. W. C. Clatworthy, who resides at Forty-second street and Vermont avenue, yesterday received official notice from Washington that his son, Private Henry S. Clatworthy, of the One Hundred and Tenth Infantry, A.E.F., was seriously wounded in action in France on September 29.

Private Chatworthy, who is 23 years of age, volunteered from Los Angeles, and was sent at once to Camp Kearny, and from there went overseas. He was formerly in business with his father in Riverside.

Private Leon R. Fowler of Battery D, heavy artillery, died at Camp Lewis on December 2 after being ill four weeks with meningitis. He was 24 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fowler of No. 2904 Pasadena avenue, and was born in San Francisco. He was employed by the Union Oil Company, before leaving for camp with a contingent from board 18. The body was brought here, escorted by Mrs. G. C. Thornberg, a Red Cross field worker, wife of an army captain in France, and the funeral took place Saturday afternoon from the Los Angeles Undertaking Company's rooms. The pallbearers were cadets from the army training camps. Burial was at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

TO ENLARGE POWERS.

Horticulturists Urge County Commissioners be Deputized Under State Control.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 9.—A proposal to make the horticultural commissioners in each of the fifty-eight counties of California State deputies and place them under the supervision of the State commission will be considered tomorrow at the conference of county horticultural commissioners, which opened here today. Under the present plan, the commissioners act independently, but co-operate with the State authorities.

To have the commissioners under the direct supervision of the State would make for more uniformity in the enforcement of plant quarantine and other horticultural regulations, according to George H. Hecke, State commissioner. The proposed plan would require amendment of State horticultural laws and necessitate a State appropriation of approximately $150,000, it was said.

Practically the entire time of the conference today was devoted to discussion of various laws relating to the horticultural industry and proposed amendments.

HOW HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

Hun as Servile When Napoleon Entered Berlin as He is Today.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Dispatches reaching the War Department indicate that the Allied armies of occupation now entering Prussia and other points in Germany are being received by the German population with the utmost servility. A comparison with their attitude in the days of Napoleon, when that military genius had them at his feet, is interesting.

"The French marching in pursuit were received with open arms," says the Encyclopedia Britannica, "the people even turning their own wounded out of doors to make room for their French guests. Their servility awakened the bitterest contempt of their conquerors and forms the best excuse for the unparalleled severity of the French yoke. The inhabitants of Berlin, headed by their Mayor, came out to meet them, and the newspapers lavished adulation on the victors and abuse on the beaten army."

HUNDREDS CALIFORNIA MEN QUIT CAMP LEWIS.

SPECIAL TRAIN BEARING DISCHARGED SOLDIERS HOME; WOUNDED ARRIVING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMP LEWIS, Dec. 9.—Each day will see convalescent overseas veteran soldiers from Western States entering Camp Lewis for final treatment and examinations pending their discharge from the army, officers here said today. Six arrived Sunday and nine more were expected late tonight. Several score are reported en route here from overseas hospitals. All sick and wounded are to be cared for in a special convalescent detachment. Every freedom possible will be given the returned soldiers and citizens of Seattle, Tacoma and other near-by cities already are planning to entertain the men.

Five hundred men whose homes are in California were discharged and left camp today. They will go to San Francisco in a special train, departing from there to the various points from which they came. Another large lot of Californians will leave tomorrow.

Conscientious objectors who refused combatant service will be discharged immediately, according to orders received from Washington. On their discharges will be placed the following remark:

"This is a conscientious objector who has done no military service whatsoever and who refused to wear the uniform."

For the present all men on farms or indefinite furloughs will be recalled only after consultation with the employer to determine whether it is to the best interest of all concerned and at the request of the soldier whether he shall be discharged. All pay beyond the pay of a private soldier earned by conscientious objectors must still be given the Red Cross.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—The work of training disabled soldiers for vocations suited to them was begun here today with organization of headquarters for the twelfth rehabilitation district of the Federal board for vocational education. R. T. Fisher, formerly president of the Oakland (Cal.) Y.M.C.A., was placed in charge. He will be assisted by Dr. J. D. Maddrill, also formerly of Oakland.

The attention of the headquarters will be given only to permanently disabled men, men temporarily disabled being left to the care of other agencies.

HEARST PRO-HUN HOLDS BIELASKI

Secret Service Head Reveals German Activity.

No Other Newspaper Man so Friendly to Teutons.

to place some of the telegrams in the record tomorrow.

In the discussion by the committee of "neutral" papers named in Fuehr's list, Senator Nelson remarked:

"The Washington Post was had up to the death of John R. McLean. I used to read it every morning and swear. For a couple of years we had only one fair newspaper in Washington and that was the Star."

BOLO HEARST INTRODUCED.

Activities in this country of Bolo Pasha, executed recently in France for high treason, were touched on briefly by Mr. Bielaski, who said Bolo came here ostensibly to buy print papers, but in reality to obtain money for the purchase of a newspaper in France. Bolo, Bielaski said, was brought to this country by a representative of Hearst and was introduced to Hearst.

"There is one fact we have about Bolo Pasha which has never been published before," said Mr. Bielaski. "That is that Pasha was in touch with the German Embassy here shortly after war was declared by Germany in 1914. In a notebook of Dr. Albert, which we have in our possession, there appears this entry: 'Prepare telegram to Pasha: That we believe, shows conclusively that the Embassy knew intimately of Pasha and probably knew of his activities."

Bielaski read to the committee at length from the diary of Dr. Karl F. Fuehr, the German agent whose activities figured prominently in the investigation. The notes of Fuehr said that on the day following the publication of private letters of H. F. Albert, he consulted with Albert at Cedarhurst, N. Y., and later discussed the incident with Samuel Untermyer.

Letters were submitted to show that the Hans Lebeau relief bureau was organized in New York, with branches in principal cities, to aid Germans and Austrians to give up their work in munition factories. This bureau ostensibly was a philanthropic organization.

A report made to the German Embassy in February, 1916, by Lebeau showed that the bureau had placed 4456 laborers, and that many skilled workers who had no trouble finding other work themselves had been persuaded to leave munition plants.

The bureau also took an enrollment of Germans and Austrians who had had military experience, and it kept up its work until after Bernstorff departed, upon the breaking of relations between the United States and Germany.

LABOR CONSPIRACY.

Bielaski told how, when Capt. Frans von Rintelen came to the United States in 1915 to endeavor to stop munition shipments to Great Britain he met David Lamar, convicted afterward in New York and sent to prison for impersonating A. Mitchell Palmer, then a member of Congress. Von Rintelen formed labor organizations in the interest of keeping the United States out of the war, through Lamar, he said, and in connection with that work $500,000 was collected.

"Only a small part of it was spent, however," said Bielaski. "Lamar had a habit of taking credit for a great many things he had nothing to do with. At a mass meeting in New Jersey, at which Secretary Bryan spoke, Lamar took credit for organizing, but he had nothing to do with it."

The New York Staats Zeitung was mentioned by Bielaski in connection with the financing of a secret propaganda to the extent of $495.

Just what the project referred to was not disclosed by the correspondence, but the witness said it might have been in connection with the election of Congressman Buchanan.

A letter from Theodore Otto, German Consul at Allentown, Pa., addressed to the councillor of the German embassy, was read by the witness, telling of a conversation between Otto and an unnamed person.

"Our conversation drifted to the military preparedness of the United States," the letter said. "And I heard that a relative of this gentleman held a position in which he was able to give information in this regard. Perhaps it might be opportune to follow out this clew."

Bielaski testified that Germany spent more than $7,500,000 for the dissemination of propaganda in this country from the beginning of the war. Some of this, he said was used in purchasing controlling interests in newspapers, some for the printing and distribution of pamphlets, and some was sent to the German consulates in principal cities.

The money used for propaganda was obtained largely through the sale of German treasury notes in this country, Bielaski said. Evidence obtained by the Department of Justice showed that the funds of the German Embassy amounted to $27,-550,000.

NEGRO PROPAGANDA.

Efforts of the Germans to create pro-German feeling among the negroes of the South proved entirely unsuccessful, Bielaski stated. Stories were circulated there to the effect that the negroes were descendants of the Indians and were the rightful owners of the land instead of the white people. Another story, designed to create feeling against the English, was a perverted account of the aid given the South during the Civil War.

"The negroes did not take to these stories, however," Bielaski said, "as they were too loyal. Money spent in the South for propaganda was thrown away."

Activities of the labor's national peace council, organized in Chicago in May, 1918, were discussed by Bielaski.

The purpose of the organization was to crystallize sentiment for peace and to demand that the shipment of munitions to the Allies be stopped. The council accomplished nothing, Bielaski said, largely because Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, took a firm stand against it.

An attempt to purchase an American newspaper which would be in sympathy with Germany was made without success, Bielaski said, shortly before the United States entered the war. The Printers' and Publishers' Association was organized by Dr. Hugo Sweitzer, Max W. Steur, Emil Kippel and Henry Wiseman, he said, and an effort was made to obtain $3,000,000 for the purchase. The scheme fell through, however, when the German Embassy, refused to sanction it, on the ground that the organizers had "too German names" and that it would be under suspicion from the start.

Mr. Bielaski read from documents tending to show that Carl O. Bertling, referred to by him a day or two ago as being in charge of South American propaganda, received $150 a month from the German Embassy.

Senator Nelson asked whether Capt. Frans von Rintelen had any connection with the financing of Victoriano Huerta, the late Mexican dictator.

"We have evidence to indicate that Von Rintelen probably helped to finance Huerta, but it cannot be proved," he said.

Edwin Strauss, Alberta Lea, Minn., who was mentioned as a member of the German University League, today telegraphed the committee asserting his loyalty and asking that the telegram be included in the record.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said today he plans to make a statement tomorrow in the Senate regarding information presented last week by Mr. Bielaski that he favored the propaganda to stop munitions exports.

Samuel Untermyer of New York, whose name Mr. Bielaski mentioned in connection with efforts of the German agents to purchase a newspaper in New York, today asked Senator Overman that he be permitted to testify. The request was granted, but no date for his appearance has been set.

HEARST TO PUBLISH A PAPER IN PARIS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Hearst is trying to start a paper in Paris and wants to start it with the opening of the Peace Conference and later make it permanent as a rival to the New York Herald Paris edition. His men left here for Paris last week and plans seem matured and well advanced.

Important, very startling exposures are to come later in testimony before the Senate committee showing Hearst's orders to Carvalho to put the flag at the head of the editorial page and to try to make the State Department's ridding of Zimmermann's note on Mexico appear to be a frame-up.

BRITISH TROOPS IN PERILOUS POSITION.

March to Cologne Precipitous Country.

Germans are Civil, While King George's Troops.

Authorities Fear Bolshevism; Ask Armies to Hurry.

BY PHILIP GIBBS.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OUTSIDE COLOGNE, Dec. 5 (delayed.)—For some days new Bolshevist movements have been in progress in Germany. This morning were just outside Cologne. Their way led them through country utterly different from anything we have met on the marches through Belgium and Belgium, and perhaps different in its character, so that on crossing the frontier, the change was marked by the change.

From Malmedy to Montjoie to Duren, on the way to Cologne, they have been through steep hills covered with forests, going along the edge of ravines, round which narrow roads wind in sharp curves, perilous for motors, and dipping down into valleys of old fashioned German villages, reminiscent of Grimm's fairy tales. Nestling in valleys below are the stone cliffs.

Yesterday I passed quickly through English and Scottish troops on the march through the Forest of Ardennes and on high, winding roads over the plateau around. Dense forests, dark and gloomy in depth, between long glades and straight columned trees, with a wide sweep of green foliage studded with patches of scarlet bracken.

All was silent in those woods. No living thing stirred as we passed, except by glancing sideways to see through which the enemy had retreated. One might meet with ambushes in those forests, and expected now and then the wolf which said, "Good morning, my dear," to little Red Riding Hood. Beyond this forest the country rises steeply to brown moors, which we swiftly over boulders. Then the country for our motors.

Our motor lorries climbed on to the edge of ravines with the skill of the drivers who were used to toppling over. Our infantry trudged up slowly, one foot after another, slashing the waterproof covers of their packs with tunics already wet with sweat through the forest and out of breathing hard because of the climbs. I saw them at the top of the German villages, with their long legs, and their heads, built of black beams and white plaster, like those in Tudor, England, and on the hills above them. I saw them found the villages in a ruinous state, and them in a friendly way. Some of the white-haired German children and old men and women groups around them as they passed, and their horses and motor lorries and transports.

War is war, but still there is something in one's heart when one sees these fine young British boys' faces looking down on the German villages, when little maids with their hair in pigtails curtsey as one passes, and when old women in a serving maid's cap and apron, with appetite before one old man, stand around with anxious eyes, watching the effect of the food on the hungry men. Every man of them, officers and privates, doffs hat when a funeral procession passes, and if one does not make inquiry from German civilians how many of whom were there, the officers until a week ago were the greatest politicians.

There is no more beautiful country in the land."

Again and again during the last few days I have heard the remark, "Thank God the war is over, we have come," and I have noticed that with sincerity.

"The German military machine is more afraid, it seems, of the spirit of revolution than of the British army. It is watching the time of political unrest, of social revolution, of poverty, of starvation, and those who will not keep order, rather than the Spartacus mob, were anxious for the disarmament of the British as being the only force between the two evils, though they are not afraid of the British soldiers themselves.

Thus the Burgomaster of Duren came to me yesterday, with a request, which was granted, asking that the troops should not march earlier than prescribed, and that the bands and some gunners were not to march forward. This is for the preservation of order element of the population, who are now free from pillage and riot as they have been doing. I am told that this is true and as certainly they have been in Duren and other places.

At Duren, now occupied by the British, the first act of the Burgomaster was to call together the leaders of the Socialist group, partly made up of returned soldiers and partly of Bolshevists, to break into the meeting and arrest them. The German police were armed and degraded, but not otherwise hurt. There was a rising of window breaking, and the Burgomaster arrested a number of the mostly made up of ex-soldiers, with some with loaded rifles.

PRIVATE CONTROL OF RAILROADS FAVORED.

INVESTMENT BANKERS DEMAND HONEST MANAGEMENT AND DEFINITE RULING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.), Dec. 9.—Private control of railroads with judicious regulation was urged today in the report of the committee on securities Committee of the Investment Bankers' Association in session here today.

The pre-war plan of private operation, the report declared, was a failure, and the roads should be returned to their owners at once without providing for "burdensome amendments" which they have heretofore opposed.

William H. Moore, New York, chairman of the committee, declared that fraudulent advertising was responsible for that condition. He urged that unscrupulous persons who take advantage of the gullibility of the public by false statements and induce them to buy securities of another character than represented should be punished severely. He intimated that the government bonds issued to finance the war are frequently found to be worthless. He intimated that the association would be active in investigating and questing the bonds of the various companies to the end that the association would be able to help eliminate the evil.

ALLIES TO PAY WILSON HOMAGE

...ce and Fame Spread Among Common People.

...ticians Seek to Get His Ear for Schemes.

...e's Envoy in London to Invite Him to Vatican.

BY FARMER MURPHY.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Dec. 5 (delayed.)—The trends toward the coming of President Wilson is quite different from what it appeared in America. Almost all news reaching here respecting the American attitude seems to be that criticism, or opposition, or only mild approval. Here, while there may be opposition to his proposals on some points, all nationalities and all elements seem delighted at his coming.

There are mixed reasons for this. One is that his name and fame are well known among all peoples of the world, and the Entente countries especially wish to pay him homage. It is not doubted that the common people of all these countries look on him with utmost reverence and will welcome him with ardor that has never been surpassed.

Stories which sound exaggerated as they come from travelers in all quarters of the esteem in which he is held by these simple folks. In Italy, for instance, a picture is everywhere in the cottage homes, and I have been told stories where the French in some regions take off their hats in a peculiar way of him.

It is the popular side of the affair, which is ingenuous and spontaneous. On the other hand, there is seldom and the diverse social and political organizations which seek to get the President's ear and win favor from him. Undoubtedly each nation hopes to improve its particular viewpoint on the settlement and bend his will to its way of thinking.

The President will, therefore, face one of the hardest tasks of his life in framing his plan and carrying through to execution. If he shall decide to accommodate (to use a diplomatic expression of the President) these sharp differences, he will have won a tremendous victory in advance.

HEALTH BETTER UNDER WAR FOOD ECONOMIES.

MEDICAL EXPERTS HOPE HABITS WILL CONTINUE IN PEACE TIMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—War-time food economies ought to continue because they are best for the public health, declared Prof. Henry C. Sherman of Columbia University, New York City, before the American Public Health Associations' annual meeting today.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York City's Public Health Commissioner, followed with the statement that food saving and food control must continue because of present prices and small prospect of decrease.

Increased use of fruit, vegetables and perishable foods to save meat and sugar had greatly benefited the country's health, Prof. Sherman believed. But "when Johnny comes marching home," these food prices would have to come down, or there would be an awful time, warned Dr. Copeland.

"Federal and State food control must be continued and expanded," Dr. Copeland declared, "and such functions as are entirely local turned over to municipalities. An honest and co-operative market under municipal direction would increase food shipments sufficiently to lower prices, with investigation and correction of the large loss due to spoiling, and, if necessary, supervision of the middleman's business."

Chairmen of four "influenza committees" announced tonight are: Preventive Measures, Surgeon-General Rupert Blue, Washington; Relief Measures, Dr. D. B. Armstrong, Framingham, Mass.; Vaccines and Serum, Dr. W. H. Park, New York; Influenza Statistics, Dr. W. H. Davis, Bureau of Census, Washington.

It will be the aim of the committees to bring out the fullest information concerning influenza and try to form a national programme for fighting the return of the epidemic.

URGE BETTER ROADS TO CUT LIVING COST.

SOUTHERN COMMERCIAL CONGRESS HEARS SENATOR BANKHEAD'S PLEA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9.—Under the auspices of the National Highway Association, plans for constructing roads throughout the country for the transportation of products from the producer to the consumer were discussed at a meeting held this afternoon in connection with the Southern Commercial Congress.

Senator Bankhead of Alabama, chairman of the Senate Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, was the principal speaker. He told of the bill in Congress appropriating $100,000,000 annually for a five years' construction of highways and urged the body to get behind the bill.

"It is the most important matter before Congress at this time," said Senator Bankhead. "The President and the Secretary of Agriculture are backing it and it must be passed. We are facing a period of readjustment, a most serious problem, and to establish a system of road building now that will increase production and give work to the thousands of boys who are returning from Europe I consider one of the most important matters of the day.

"We must get back to normal conditions. The cost of labor must decrease. But the cost of labor cannot decrease without a reduction in the cost of living. Good highways will create a direct route between producer and consumer, bringing down the cost of living and naturally decreasing the price of labor. Constructing highways now will solve the problem of employment for the returning troops."

NAVY TO ASK QUARTER BILLION FOR DEFICIT.

DANIELS EXPLAINS INCREASED COST OF MATERIALS, PAY EXHAUSTS FUND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Congress will be asked shortly to appropriate about $250,000,000 to meet a naval deficit for the current fiscal year, Secretary Daniels, before the House Naval Committee today to say whether any part of this year's appropriations totalling $3,984,000,000 could be returned to the treasury, explained that the deficiency will be asked on a number of items for which expenditures will exceed the appropriations.

These include maintenance, which has increased as the result of an advance in cost of materials and in pay to officers and men, which will be greater for the year because of the increase in personnel.

On other items, Secretary Daniels explained, there will be savings, but these savings cannot be applied to deficiencies for other accounts.

NAVY IN BEST FIGHTING TRIM.

Highest State of Efficiency in History, Report.

Enormous War-Time Increase Doesn't Impair Service.

Greatest Task Now is to Man Merchant Fleet.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—War-time increase of the naval personnel from 56,000 to nearly 500,000 to man 1800 vessels instead of 176 is described in the annual report of Rear-Admiral Leigh C. Palmer, chief of the Bureau of Navigation, made public today. Every one of the ships in commission, from battleships to cargo carriers, Admiral Palmer says has complete complements of officers and men with excess personnel to provide for training new drafts. The navy also provided armed guard and radio crews for merchant vessels in trans-Atlantic service.

The great task now, in the opinion of Admiral Palmer, who recently was relieved from the bureau to take command of a battleship, will be in furnishing 220,000 officers and men for the Shipping Board's merchant fleet, estimated to comprise 1924 vessels by December, 1919. To accomplish this permanent training facilities have been expanded so as to accommodate 110,000 men at once. These include the Great Lakes station, with a capacity of 45,000 Newport and Hampton Roads, 25,000 each, and Pelham Bay, N. Y., 15,000. Hundreds of ships are used as floating schools, each being assigned a certain number of men to be taught the rudiments of seamanship, and fourteen institutions are conducting regular courses in the training of officers.

"Notwithstanding the enormous expansion of the personnel," the report says, "the various units of the navy have reached a higher state of battle efficiency than ever before."

Enlistment statistics show that every State in the Union contributed to the growth of the navy, such States as Montana and Nevada each sending more than 1500 men. There were 2703 desertions during the year, but the percentage of desertions dropped from 1.43 to .93.

Admiral Palmer reports that roughly, 412,000 of the 425,000 men in the navy are native born, and 13,000 are naturalized citizens. New York alone furnished 32 per cent. of the native born.

SEATTLE REOPENS FLU EMERGENCY HOSPITAL.

SAN FRANCISCO REPORTS 115 NEW CASES, BUT MASK BAN NOT REVIVED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—One hundred and fifteen new cases of influenza, with five deaths, were reported to the city health office today for the twenty-four hours ending at 5 o'clock. Since last Friday daily totals of new cases have exceeded 100, but health officials said it was impossible to give accurate figures for each day because of inaccurate dating of the reports mailed in.

Unless the situation takes a definite turn for the worse, Dr. William C. Hassler, city health officer, said late today that the Board of Supervisors would not be asked to re-enact its ordinance making the wearing of gauze masks compulsory. Definite decision on this step is to be made next Thursday. Meanwhile the Mayor has requested the public to wear the masks for "its own well-being."

SEATTLE, Dec. 9.—With 522 new cases of Spanish influenza and seventeen deaths resulting from the disease reported today, health authorities have opened the large emergency hospital used during the first epidemic of the disease. An earnest call for more nurses has been issued.

DENVER, Dec. 9.—The Reverend Father William Mouy, secretary to Bishop Tihen of the Catholic diocese of Denver, died here tonight of influenza. Father Mouy came to Denver five years ago from Washington, where he had been secretary to the Rt. Rev. Bishop Bonzano, apostolic delegate to the United States.

City records showing fifteen deaths from influenza during the last twenty-four hours, and 286 new cases of the disease during the last forty-eight hours were declared by Dr. William J. Sharply, city manager of health, to indicate a gradual but certain decline in the second outbreak of the epidemic here.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—A virulent outbreak of influenza in Paraguay was reported today to the State Department. In Asuncion alone there were said to be 25,000 cases.

AUCTION WOOL SUPPLY IS GOVERNMENT PLAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Wool now held by the War Department will be disposed of at public auction, Brig.-Gen. Robert E. Wood, acting Quartermaster-General, announced today. The amount to be offered at each sale will be such "as in the opinion of the wool experts the market can easily absorb." A minimum reserve price will be fixed below which no bids will be entertained.

Gen. Wood's statement said the question whether the embargo on importation of wool to this country will be continued is now having the earnest consideration of the War Trade Board.

To dispose of surplus supplies of various commodities and materials now in excess of the army requirements, Gen. Wood today created a surplus property division which will have charge of the disposition of all surplus stocks.

"It will be the policy to dispose of such surplus so far as possible to other governmental agencies," said a statement by Gen. Wood. "A considerable portion of the balance probably will be required for export by relief organizations of the United States, Belgium, Russia and other countries. Such balance as remains will be distributed in the open markets in such manner, at such times and in such quantities as to cause the least disturbance. In most instances offer of surplus property will be first made to manufacturers so they may purchase and resell if desired. Any surplus still remaining will be offered, if market and other conditions warrant, for public sale."

JOSEPH SMITH LEAVES $70,000 TO 47 HEIRS.

Few Escape.

There are few indeed who escape having at least one cold during the winter months, and they are fortunate who have but one and get through with it quickly and without any serious consequences. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and observe the directions with each bottle, and you are likely to be one of the fortunate ones. The worth and merit of this remedy has been fully proven. There are many families who have always used it for years when troubled with a cough or cold, and with the very best results.—[Advertisement.

Back to Pre-War Prices

But Only for a While, We Fear

The Mitchell Company today announces a daring short-time policy.

Tomorrow we go back to Pre-War Prices. Back to $1,275 for the 40-horsepower Six—back to $1,525 for the 48-horsepower. Back to former prices on the latest styles of bodies, open and enclosed.

That means a reduction of $190 on one model and $210 on the other—an average reduction on open models of $200 per car.

It means that these Sixes—always unmatchable values—are today the sensations of Motordom. The average underprice, compared with other like-size Sixes, is enormous.

It means in today's market a price so low that these great Sixes have no competition in the Light-Six class.

Prices May Go Up

The prices we announce now are experimental. They are based on pre-war costs.

They are possible now because most of the materials we are using were bought at Pre-War Prices. We stocked up heavily two years ago on steels.

Some parts, like tires, are costing much more, but for a few weeks we are going to stand that loss.

We want to see prices get back. Our war work has left us a bigger factory, a greater organization. We want to keep it going full speed. We want places for our soldiers who come back.

So we answer the price question—now in everyone's mind—by cutting off all of the war-time advances. That for a short time, until we see what comes.

But the steels we bought at Pre-War Prices will soon be exhausted. So with leather, so with other things. What these materials will cost after January 1st is yet to be determined.

If they come down—down to Pre-War Prices—we can continue the prices we announce today. If they stay high, our prices must go up.

Judge that for yourself. Our opinion is that Mitchell prices cannot remain this low. And that when they go up, it will be a long, long time before again you see the values that we offer now.

Why Mitchell Advanced

During war-time Mitchell prices advanced much less than others. The average on touring models was $200.

The reason lay in vastly reduced production. We turned our factory on to war work, until in late months we were running almost exclusively on trucks.

Selling costs—ours and dealers'—could not be reduced with output. Nor could overhead cost. So we had to get higher prices.

Then we wanted to keep down demand. National interests required it. As it was, thousands who wanted Mitchells in those war days could not get them.

Today's Transcendent Value

These Mitchell Sixes at these Pre-War Prices—while they last—are by far the greatest values in the Light-Six field today. No rival comes near them. Compared with some, the values are amazing.

In pre-war days, no Sixes of the Mitchell size and power and class sold at Mitchell prices.

Now those values are increased. During this war period we have added many improvements. Our engineers had leisure. They have worked out scores of betterments.

In that time also we have added many able men. And our whole organization has grown more efficient in meeting Government exactions.

We were never equipped as today to build great cars. So these Pre-War Prices now are buying better than pre-war cars.

A 16-Year Attainment

The Mitchell Sixes of today mark a 16-year attainment. All we have learned, all we have evolved, in those 16 years are in them.

They are built in a mammoth model plant—in a plant which is famed for its efficiency and methods. In a plant where we build complete cars—chassis and bodies—in the most scientific way.

At tomorrow's prices—while those prices last—they offer sensational values. Our belief is that the prices cannot last. It will be long, we think, before anyone can match them—in this factory or anywhere.

Come see the cars and talk the matter over.

FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT AGENTS IN CONFERENCE

MEET IN DENVER TO ARRANGE TO ASSIST SOLDIERS TO POSITIONS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DENVER, Dec. 9.—State directors of the United States employment service, summoned from seventeen Western States, conferred here with F. A. Silcox, field director of the organization, in an effort to perfect plans for providing employment for soldiers, sailors and other war workers upon their discharge from Federal service.

Mr. Silcox declared that after examining men in numerous cantonments throughout the country, he estimated that fully 80 per cent. of them will return to positions held by them prior to their entrance into military service. He also stated that much of the work of the organization will be lightened by the action of cantonment commanders, who will endeavor to establish former relations between their men and former employers, with a view to assuring each man his former position before he is discharged.

HUNLAND SHOWS BLOCKADE PINCH

Saarbruecken Prosperous, but Food Lack Seen.

Americans Share Unpopularity with British.

Rich Flee to Munich, but Returning Reassured.

BY WALTER DURANTY.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN GERMANY, Dec. 3.—(Delayed.) This dispatch is written from the Rheinlaeserhof, the leading hotel in Saarbruecken, a prosperous manufacturing town of 125,000 inhabitants.

It is not unworthy of note that, so far as the German masses are concerned, America appears to have inherited her full share of the English unpopularity. It is almost as if they regarded the French with a certain apathy—a "this was our war" sort of attitude—whereas the English and Americans "butted in" and spoiled the party completely. Whatever they think, there is no doubt that the blockade pressed them very severely.

In Saarbrbruecken work in the coal mines and the munition factories was plentiful and wages were high—twenty marks a day for unskilled labor—but, though they have had money the people have been unable to get a normal amount of food since America entered the war. Before that they seem to have got on pretty well, but all remember America's entry as the date from which the food shortage really became serious.

Though the inhabitants do not look thin and do not seem to have suffered real hunger, most of them, especially the children, have an unhealthy waxy complexion characteristic of malnutrition. In hotels, however, and the leading restaurants the menu is fairly abundant for those who can afford it.

There is veal in large quantities at eight marks per portion, with potatoes, ham, cold or cooked, two marks; beef, very rarely, 10 marks; excellent potato or other vegetable soup, one mark; hare and vegetables, eight marks; best Strassbourg pate de foie gras with toast, eight marks, and even pancakes or sweet omelet at ten marks. All portions are considerably larger than those served in Paris and on the whole prices seem to contrast pretty favorably with those of the French capital. It is possible to drink poor beer at half a mark a litre, and any amount of German wine at normal rates.

It seems—sometimes which I also observed in Alsace-Lorraine—that the well-to-do classes were more favored, as compared with their poorer brethren, than in France or England.

A decent suit of clothes can be bought for 200 marks. Leather boots are expensive—50 to 100 marks a pair, according to style—but leather vanity bags, gloves and so forth, seem little dearer than in Paris. The inflation of paper currency reduces the mark to about half its value in real money.

Glassware, electric fittings, cutlery and anything made of paper are both cheap and abundant, but linen and cotton goods are scarcely obtainable. Silk is made of wood fiber and is very expensive. It looks as though the Germans had made better use of substitutes than the Allies.

I am informed that the majority of the richer classes fled to Munich in anticipation of trouble. My informant added naively: "They will doubtless come back daily, now that railway communication is re-established and we find that the French will not annoy individuals.

WARDEN QUITS WHEN PRISONERS WALK OUT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BISMARCK (N. D.) Dec. 9.—Following the escape of three convicts, two murderers and another prisoner from the State penitentiary here in three days, Warden Frank Halcott resigned a few minutes after midnight Saturday, it became known today. No sucessor has yet been appointed.

The escapes began Thursday night when Joe Mylo, of Bottineau, serving a life sentence for murder, walked out of the gate accompanied by Mike Ulick, who was serving a twenty-five-year sentence.

D. M. Noah, sentenced three times to hang for murder, but whose sentence was automatically commuted to life imprisonment by the abolishment of capital punishment, made his get-away at 9 o'clock Saturday night. Noah and the other escaped prisoners were refused pardons by the pardon board last week.

GREAT FLEET TO ESCORT WILSON.

parri, the papal secretary of state, on December 22, according to a dispatch to the Temps from Rome today.

The League of Rights of Man has decided to send a deputation to Brest to meet President Wilson on his arrival in France. All sections of the league throughout France have been asked to organize meetings in order to inform the public of the principles for a democratic peace which the President has outlined.

PARIS, Sunday, Dec. 8.—Elaborate plans are being made by the French government for the entertainment of President Wilson. These plans include various state dinners and official calls and probably a gala night at the opera. The programme will be completed in the next few days.

It has been decided that the President, upon his arrival at the Bois de Boulogne Station at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, will be met by President Poincare and other government officials. He will then go immediately to the Murat mansion, which will be his home while he is in Paris. No definite decision has been reached as to what the President will do on Sunday, but it is probable he will drive about Paris. It is possible that other plans may be made before that time. Mr. Wilson's drive on Monday to the Hotel de Ville will be an occasion of considerable ceremony.

As soon as possible after his arrival Mr. Wilson will confer with Col. E. M. House.

The school children of Paris will be out in force when the President arrives. Thursday is usually a school holiday in Paris, as Saturday is in the United States.

Virtually all the mercantile establishments in Paris have notified their employees that next Saturday will be a full holiday. It is expected to be a larger celebration than any before seen in Paris.

BREST TO HONOR WILSON.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BREST, Dec. 9.—Brest is preparing to outdo itself in the reception of President Wilson when he lands, its Mayor indicates in a proclamation to the people.

"The importance of an event unique in the history of the world will escape none of us," the proclamation says. "Breaking with the tradition of isolation, the new world sends to the old continent, the cradle of its ancestors, the eminent man who is the incarnation of the ideal of free America. A universal union of peoples is in preparation, after the downfall of the powers of carnage and oppression.

"The population of Brest will be eager to celebration in notable way the arrival of President Wilson. All the people, irrespective of party, will deck their houses and join in the manifestations of esteem and deep affection which are in preparation."

The committee in charge of the fete intends to have a group of Breton men and women wearing picturesque costumes on the wharf to greet the President when he lands.

All the rooms in the hotels of the city have been reserved for the day of the President's arrival.

ARRANGE ROME RECEPTION.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Sunday, Dec. 8.—The officials of the Italian Foreign Ministry held a conference today at the American Embassy to decide on the programme for President Wilson's visit to Rome. It is not known how long the President will be here.

President and Mrs. Wilson and the President's party will be met at the station by all the members of the Cabinet, Prince Colonna, the Mayor of Rome, representatives of the Roman municipality and prominent Italians, who wear the collar of the Order of Annunziata, which entitles them to rank as cousins of the King.

Whether King Victor Emmanuel personally will go to the station to meet the President or whether he will send a member of the royal family has not been decided. The American visitors will be driven from the station to the Quirinal in royal carriages escorted by the King's bodyguard. The Queen will welcome the party at the royal palace.

Clubs and political associations have arranged for demonstrations in the streets through which the President will be driven. There will also be a demonstration in the square in front of the royal palace.

President and Mrs. Wilson will pay a visit to Dowager Queen Margherita and afterward will have a luncheon with the royal family. In the afternoon the President will place wreaths upon the tombs of King Victor Emmanuel II and King Humbert in the Pantheon. There will be a gala dinner probably the same evening at the court, at which King Victor Emmanuel and President Wilson will exchange toasts.

At the capital the next day the solemn ceremony conferring Roman citizenship on the President will take place. This will be followed by an official luncheon at the American Embassy, whence the President will start for his visit to Pope Benedict.

The remainder of the programme for the President's stay has not been definitely decided upon. It depends upon the length of his visit.

INVITED TO GERMANY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, Sunday, Dec. 8.—President Wilson is invited to visit Cologne by the Volks Zeitung of that city, which suggests that representatives of the German Foreign Ministry meet him there.

The independent republic of Schleswig-Holstein will soon be proclaimed, according to the Weser Zeitung of Bremen.

This newspaper also states that sanguinary encounters between hussars returning from the front and Red Guards occurred at Brunswick December 5. Finding a deputation of Red Gaurds and members of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council drawn up to welcome his men, the commander of the hussars ordered that fire be opened on the crowd. His men obeyed and the Red Guards replied to the fire. The mob tore the hussars from their horses, disarmed them and forced them to march behind the red flag into the city.

ASKS GARFIELD'S AID.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Fuel Administrator Garfield has been asked by President Wilson to hold himself in readiness to join the peace delegation in Paris to advise concerning problems of fuel production and distribution. Similar requests have been received by Manry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross War Council, and Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board. It is understood that the call for all three officials may come shortly after the President lands in France.

CIGAR MAN ARRESTED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Raymond L. Ramsdell, vice-president of the United Cigar Stores Company, was arraigned in a magistrate's court here today, accused of having exclaimed regarding President Wilson: "Wilson! I hope he drowns!"

A complaint charging disorderly conduct was made against Ramsdell and the case was adjourned until Friday.

PEKING, Dec. 9.—The International Bank has advanced $600,000 for the expenses of the Chinese peace delegation to Europe, though previously the Japanese had offered to finance the same up to a million.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—President Wilson has been made an honorary member of the University of Cracovia, according to a report from the Polish press bureau received here today through official channels. Former President Pulaski of the State Council of Poland has created a Polish-American league to tighten the bonds of friendship between Poland and the United States.

MORAL FORCES MUST BACK PEACE, SAYS FAY.

POPE'S ENVOY DECLARES WILSON WILL WIELD GREATEST INDIVIDUAL INFLUENCE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—A league of nations, supported not only by the governmental, but also by the moral forces of the world, was favored as a means of attaining permanent peace, in an address here today by Mgr. Sigourney Fay, domestic prelate to the Pope.

He declared that the greatest influence wielded by any individual in the coming international conclave would be exercised by President Wilson.

Speaking before the League for Political Education, as a member of the Pope's official family, but not, as he expressly stated, for the pontiff, Mgr. Fay leclared that the head of the Catholic church had utilized all the power he possessed to mitigate the horrors of war.

The Pope could not intervene between Lutheran Germany and Catholic Belgium, he said, but protested against outrages "by whomsoever committed," including Protestant Germany and Catholic Austria.

The pontiff, he stated, also made possible the diversion of large funds to the relief of Belgian sufferers.

In a review of Christianity, Mgr. Fay asserted that when various nations, after the Reformation, defied the Pope in the exercise of powers "granted by the people themselves," wars had continued for more than 400 years.

GERMAN AIR LOSSES SHOWN BY BRITISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Dec. 8.—What surrender of aircraft means to the Germans is shown by the official British figures of air fighting upon the British western front from January 1, 1918 to the date of the armistice. These figures show the number of enemy machines destroyed in aerial combats by the British to have been 3060, while enemy machines driven down out of control numbered 1174.

Germany is known to have lost well over 6000 airplanes destroyed and surrendered during the present year. On the other hand, the resources of the Allies are being reinforced by 2000 German machines of modern type and in good serviceable condition.

SHIP'S SURVIVORS LAND.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE AND A. P.]

HONOLULU, Dec. 9.—The survivors of the steamer Benito Juarez, which foundered in a storm off Molokai on Tuesday, December 3, arrived here today. It was reported that Charles Byrne, second engineer, and seven deported Chinamen were lost.

CABLE COMPANY SEEKS TO ENJOIN BURLESON.

SUES TO PREVENT PROPERTY SEIZURE AS IT IS IN PART FOREIGN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The Commercial Pacific Cable Company, allied with the Commercial Cable Company, asked for an injunction in the Federal Court today restraining Postmaster-General Burleson from further control of its 10,000 miles of cable between San Francisco and China, Japan and the Philippine Islands.

Violation of interpational law by Burleson is charged in the complaint, which asserts that the United States had not obtained consent to the seizure from the nations upon whose territory the cables land.

It is further alleged such consent would be unconstitutional without a formal treaty approved by the Senate.

This contention is upheld, the company declares, by information from its London office that a department of the British government has instructed the Commercial Cable Company representatives there to make no changes at the direction of the American Postmaster-General without first submitting them to that department for approval.

The bill of complaint filed for the Commercial Pacific by Charles E. Hughes and William W. Cook as counsel declares:

"That the United States government, in seizing the cables, has not secured the consent of the foreign nations on whose territories the cables land, according to the company's information, and belief.

"That this constitutes a violation of the principles of international law providing that one nation shall not encroach on or seize any part of the territory of another nation.

"That all nations are very properly jealous of landings on their soil of cables controlled or owned by other nations, and forbid it because it is liable to lead to international complications.

"That, even if consent of the other nations to the seizure of the cables and landings upon conditions satisfactory to them was secured such terms and conditions, pertaining as they would to the occupation by the government of foreign territory, would constitute the substance of a treaty, which, under the Constitution of the United States, can be made only by and with the consent of the Senate, which advice and consent has not been [illegible] that this is a violation [illegible] stitution of the United [illegible]

"Home-Coming Time" for Bank Accounts

January 1, every year, we open New Accounts with many people who have come to make Los Angeles their home.

At the beginning of the Term interest period, they have their Savings Accounts transferred to this Bank, from the old home. The reasons are many: Unquestioned safety; the highest interest rate consistent with that unquestioned safety; freedom from city, county or state taxation; convenience; and, above all the rest, the satisfaction of knowing that your money is at work, in the community where you live, promoting improvements, making business activity possible.

ARRANGE IN ADVANCE

The Security Trust & Savings Bank has correspondent Banks in all parts of the country. If arrangements are made IN ADVANCE we can have your account transferred to this Bank January 1, with a minimum charge for exchange and a minimum loss of interest while in transit—often no charge and no loss of interest.

We have a variety of Interest Bearing Accounts—one with checking privilege—inquiry of any Officer or at the New Accounts window will enlighten you as to the advantages of moving your bank account here, and as to the best way to arrange the transaction.

But attend to it NOW—while there is time to arrange by mail, before January 1.

RED CROSS TOYS CHEAT GERMANS

Juniors Make Many Articles Formerly Imported.

Christmas Plan Teaches Children Initiative.

Idea Originated in Los Angeles Now General.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—Quaint, interesting toys and a wide range of useful gifts, manufactured by Junior Red Cross auxiliaries under a plan originated in the Pacific division and subsequently adopted by the national organization, are being offered in Red Cross shops throughout the Pacific division, including California, Nevada and Arizona, it was announced at headquarters here.

This activity is expected to have these results:

Provide an unusual and attractive showing of toys and gifts for Christmas time.

Replace articles formerly imported from Germany.

Clear thousands of dollars for humanitarian work of the American Red Cross.

Give school children practical training in the manual arts, develop their initiative, teach them artistic values, and demonstrate what they may do to aid the national conservation programme.

The San Francisco exhibit includes well built, harmoniously-colored garden watering pots made of old coffee cans, painted wooden toys in endless variety, checker boards and other games, as well as basketry work, rag rugs, candle sticks and other useful gifts.

Reconstruction work is made the keynote of the collections of virtually all chapters. Soldiers and sailors, tanks, airplanes and battleships are still in evidence, but there are more Red Cross nurses, steamboats, houses and animals represented by the toys.

Mrs. Henry A. Kluegal, director of Junior Red Cross work has striven to make the work of practical educational value to the children in line with the aims of the National Education Association, to which she carried early this year the plan developed in Los Angeles, Pasadena and Berkeley the latter part of 1917. Through the central organization the work was extended this year throughout the country.

Only basic plans have been presented to the Junior Red Cross auxiliaries and they have been encouraged to develop variations according to their fancy. The result, Mrs. Kluegel reported, had been to develop initiative among the children. The simpler gifts have been made by the primary classes and others. Included were ingenious mechanical toys, manufactured by pupils from the fourth grade up through the high schools.

The youngsters have been instructed to keep account of materials used and this is expected to prove valuable experience in book-keeping. Salesmanship methods taught in the higher classes are to be used in marketing the products.

Christmas time articles aside from toys offered in the Red Cross Shops by the junior members fall into five classes:

Sewing products—Handkerchiefs, towels, aprons, rag dolls, baby dresses, etc. Primary manual arts—Boxes, lanterns, bookmarks, envelopes. Christmas cards, favors. Cookery—Jellies, jams, canned products, recipe books. Drawing—Posters, calendars, covers for recipe books. Arts and crafts—Trays, blotter pads, picture frames, swagger sticks.

Reports to Pacific divisional headquarters indicate that Red Cross Shops in all the larger communities will have representative displays.

KEARNY REVIEW WILL BE HELD SATURDAY.

PUBLIC MAY BE PERMITTED TO SEE SIXTEENTH DIVISION ON PARADE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMP KEARNY, Dec. 9.—The first and probably the only review that will be held of the Sixteenth Division, now in training here, will be next Saturday morning, according to announcement made at headquarters today. Demobilization, it is believed, will make it impossible for another such review of the division, which since the assignment of Maj.-Gen. David S. C. Shanks to debarkation work at Hoboken, has been under the command of Brig.-Gen. Peter W. Davison.

No announcement has been made as to whether civilians in general will be admitted to the review, but the opinion was expressed today that they will be if influenza conditions at the camp continue to show improvement, as has been the case for several days.

The report made today for yesterday at the base hospital includes twenty-two new cases, as against nineteen on Saturday.

LABOR SHORTAGE HERE, WASHINGTON REPORTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Generally good health in most of the large industrial centers of the country, with demand for labor equalling or exceeding the supply, are reported in telegrams to the United States employment service from community labor boards in thirty-four States.

The situation in the Far West is reported generally good, with the exception of California. In Los Angeles there is a seasonal labor shortage with conditions unsettled, while at Oakland the situation is acute and a large surplus of labor is reported. In San Francisco the supply about equals the demand. Washington and Oregon report conditions generally good.

NEW COUNTY STOPS 1000-MILE JOURNEY.

UTAH CREATES NEW POLITICAL DIVISION TO AVOID LONG TRIP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 9.—It is fifty miles from Manila, Utah, to Vernal, Utah, as the crow flies. But it is 1000 miles between those two points during about nine months of each year, and this mileage between these two towns is the reason an additional county was organized in Utah two years ago, with Manila the county seat of the new political subdivision.

Manila formerly was in Uintah county, the county seat of which was Vernal. The county seat virtually was inaccessible from Manila during a long period of each year, due to high mountains, a forest and other barriers. In this contingency Manila citizens having business at Vernal could journey to the county seat north to Green River, Wyoming, thence to Cheyenne, from there to Denver, Pueblo, and Grand Junction, Colo., and thence over the Uintah railway and stage line to Vernal.

An optional route was to journey west to Ogden, to Salt Lake, to Provo, and Springville via the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, to Mack, Colo., and there take the Uintah railway and stage line to Vernal.

And so it came about that Daggett county was created, with less than 500 population, who cast less than 100 votes at any election. Manila was made the county seat, the citizens of the new county consenting to assume the responsibility and expense of county government to obviate a journey of 1000 miles to their county seat.

HYGIENE, SANITATION SAVE DEATHS IN NAVY.

INITIAL INCREASE DUE TO EXPANSION OF FORCES, SAYS DR. BRAISTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The navy's excellent health and low mortality rate during the war is attributed by Rear-Admiral Braisted, Surgeon-General of the navy, in his annual report, today, largely to the increasing appreciation by commanding officers of the rules of hygiene and sanitation. Where defects in the health system have developed, he says, the blame falls largely on the country's unpreparedness for operations of such magnitude.

Compared with an annual rate of 2.7 per 1000 for the ten preceding years, the rate rose during the first quarter of this year to 8.9 per 1000 per year. This, Dr. Braisted finds, was due to the unavoidable circumstances brought about by the rapid expansion of the navy and the unusual weather conditions in the first quarter of the year. The death rate for the second quarter was only 3.3.

During the year 193 men were drowned, thirty died from exposure and forty-seven were killed by gunshot wounds.

The war has served, Dr. Braisted says, to clear the reputations of the men of the army and navy of the impression in the public mind that diseases due to social evils were more prevalent in the service than outside. Service doctors have contended all along, he adds, that the ratio stood three to one in favor of the train service man, and statistics compiled by the Provost-Marshal-General in the first draft support them.

EDITOR HARDEN SAYS KAISER RANK COWARD.

NOT GUILTY OF WAR, ONLY TOOL; SHOULD BE CABARET MANAGER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Maximilian Harden, editor of the Zukunft of Berlin, said to the correspondent of the Express, according to a dispatch from the German capital, that the impression abroad concerning former Emperor William is a false one. He said that he, himself, had suffered too much through the former Emperor to incur a charge of partiality, but that it was a fact that William Hohenzollern had no personal part in willing the war, but was a mere tool in the hands of the military party, by which he was regarded as a coward.

"When the moment for declaring war came, the militarists were afraid he would refuse to sign the declaration," said Harden. "The former Emperor missed his vocation. He was never happier than when posing in the limelight. He ought to have managed a cabaret or taken a show on tour."

Motor Vehicle Distributors!

I've Come 3000 Miles to Talk to You

The Denby Motor Truck Company desires to arrange with a capable organization for the distribution of Denby Trucks in this territory. It needn't be a present truck organization, necessarily.

The Denby line, with five models, ranging from 1 ton to 5 tons, has proved itself adapted to the work of Southern California; there are already over two hundred in operation here; and the Denby Company, realizing the huge market in this section of the country, is ready to give every possible co-operation in the utmost development of the business.

The factory—greatly enlarged to meet the needs of the Government—is in perfect shape to assure prompt and regular delivery.

With the return to peace-time conditions, the truck business has come into its own, and the coming year will find it among the real money makers—and nowhere in greater measure than here.

Denby distribution offers an unusual opportunity for the organization qualified to handle it on an adequate scale. The truck is not an untried product, but has been tested and proven by years of service in peace and war.

I shall be glad to go into the matter in detail with those interested. Getting representation is not difficult; but we want the right representation, which is why I've traveled 3000 miles to discuss it personally.

Magnates Beginning to Fuss About the Baseball Season.

BIG QUESTIONS TO BE SETTLED.

National Commission will be All-Powerful.

Senior League Club Owners to Gather Today.

International Chiefs Already are in Session.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—The National Commission will become the sole administrative power of baseball, settling the disputes of the major and minor leagues alike, if a programme agreed upon at a conference today between President Ban Johnson of the American League and A. R. Tearney, president of the Three I League, is carried out.

President Tearney, who is chairman of a minor league committee, appointed to demand several reforms from the majors in regard to the draft and "farming" of players, said that at his suggestion a joint meeting of committees from the American and National leagues and the minor leagues probably would be held in Chicago in January to take action on the proposals.

"President Johnson agrees with me that the board of arbitration of the National Association of Minor Leagues is unwieldy and, in fact, unnecessary," President Tearney said. "It is our plan to wipe it out and have the national commission the only court of baseball."

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—With election of a successor to John K. Tener as president and formulation of policies regarding players and play in 1919, as the principal scheduled business, National League baseball club owners were gathering here tonight for their annual meeting, beginning at noon tomorrow.

The field of presidential candidates has narrowed down to John A. Heydler, present secretary-treasurer, and John Conway Toole, a lawyer, who at various times has served as counsel for the league and the national commission.

Another interesting question has to do with the standing of Fred Mitchell, recently elected president of the Chicago club. Under the constitution no player or manager is permitted to represent a club at a league meeting and so far as is known Mitchell still holds the manager's authority. Except by unanimous consent, which is not considered likely, the constitution cannot be amended at one meeting.

A caucus of National League club owners was held here yesterday to discuss questions which will come up. The meeting was attended by Presidents Hempstead, Ebbets and Baker of New York, Brooklyn and Philadelphia clubs. Vice-President Jones of the St. Louis club and it was said representatives of Pittsburgh and Boston clubs also were present. It was the intention of the club owners to keep the meeting secret.

The most important questions taken up were naming of a new National League president and the candidate the National League will support for chairmanship of the national commission. What names were decided on is not known, but several members who have conferred with Acting President John Heydler of the National League reported he is not anxious to hold the office of president permanently.

August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club and chairman of the national commission, was not present. It is understood the caucus session went on record as favoring a neutral man, with no financial interests in baseball, as commission chairman. This would eliminate Herrmann, unless he severed his connections with the Cincinnati club and sold his stock.

The club owners of the new International League held the first session of their annual meeting here today and will reconvene tomorrow afternoon. All of the clubs were represented.

With the exception of John Dunn of the Baltimore club, all the owners said they were ready to continue next season and all were optimistic as to the future of the national game. Dunn, however, stated that in case the national commission, at its annual meeting in Cincinnati next month, failed to eliminate the drafting of players by major leagues, his club would not go through another season.

President-Treasurer Farrell's report of the 1918 season was read and adopted. In it the executive recommended that a committee be appointed to fix a club salary limit based on the receipts and disbursements of the season. The limit now adopted by the American Association is $3000 per month for each of its clubs.

It was officially announced here today that Manager Huggins of the New York American League club had purchased Pitcher Schneider from the Cincinnati club, with which he has been playing since 1914.

TIGER BACKFIELD WILL BE STRONGER.

Occidental will have three men in the backfield against Pomona Saturday who either didn't play against Redlands, or only lasted a few minutes. Mark Smith, the speedy half who hurt his arm against the Submarine Base, will reappear, and Storment, the other half, who was injured early in the Redlands game, expects to be in shape to last the whole performance Saturday. At full-back there is a strong chance that Dan McClintock, freshman captain two years ago, will make his appearance, as he came out for the first time last night and looked well at that job. Lieut. Wilson is busy this week with plans for the demobilization of the S.A.T.C., and Fred Johnson of Hollywood High is coaching.

THE VACUUM TANK.

Once a week or so it is advisable to open the drain cock at the bottom of the vacuum fuel feed tank. It will generally be found that a few drops of rust and water will flow out before any gasoline appears. Sometimes it is necessary to punk a wire up the drain cock to start a flow of any sort. The inference is that unless this foreign matter is removed at regular intervals, carburetion troubles may ensue.

"Bry" Sprott, California's Back-Field Star.

Yep, this is the same young man who so badly mangled Manual Arts two years ago while representing San Diego High School in the game for the southern prep championship. There are no less than seven San Diegans on the squad, not to mention two Pomona High graduates and one man each from Hollywood and Riverside Poly. With this preponderance Southern California can claim the Pacific Coast championship no matter which team wins.

COAST LEAGUE BASEBALL.

Johnny Powers, chief mogul of the Los Angeles baseball club, before leaving yesterday for Palm Springs expressed himself strongly on the subject of continuing the Pacific Coast League next season, favoring an eight-club league if it should be made possible through a lowering of the railroad rates which are at present prohibitive.

It is the opinion of the local club owner that there is no need for a meeting at this time as has been proposed by President Baum of the Coast League. On the other hand Powers firmly believes that the executive session should be postponed as long as possible in order that the leaders may learn the prospects for lower rates.

If conditions should continue as at present, Mr. Powers says that the league will undoubtedly be cut down to four clubs and the teams will travel from one city to another by motor bus, that being the cheapest form of transportation. It is possible that the league may start that way and then expand to eight clubs in mid-season should conditions warrant the change.

The inclusion of Portland and possibly Seattle or Spokane in the league is strongly urged by Mr. Powers, who believes that new faces and more clubs will do a great deal towards livening up the interest. The close of the war and the return of many of the old players who were in the service last season will help a whole lot.

TOUGH BATTLE TONIGHT.

Boxing fans who have found fault because the semi-windup has furnished more excitement than the main event at the Fecent Vernon shows ought to leave the arena satisfied tonight for Louie Rees and Billy Capelli, two slugging 135-pounders, will wind up the show. In their last meeting, in which Capelli took the verdict while the Rees followers clamored for a draw, the two shipyard favorites put up a great mill, going four rounds at top speed.

Tommy Nelson won his way into the semi-windup class week by knocking out Kid Layman and tonight he will make a start against Sailor Kramer, the boy who put up so many sensational battles with Kid Mende. The sailor has taken on so much weight that he towers over Mende now, but Matchmaker Wadhams believes that in Nelson he has found a scrapper who will put up a regular battle.

Paul Herman, a newcomer, has been after a bout for several weeks and will receive a tryout against George Lammerson. If he can get away with Lammerson he will not have to worry about future matches in the lightweight class. George Marks, bantamweight, is matched with Young Farrell and Walter Williams, former Coast bantamweight champion has been matched with Frankie Monroe. The curtain raiser will be between Joe Bygone and Ted Levin. Tommy McFarland will referee.

GOVERNMENT ROAD CONTROL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Highway transportation should be placed under the direction of a Federal government commission, according to Lieut.-Col. Uhler, president of the American Association of State Highway Officials, which began its annual convention here today with representatives present from nearly every State in the Union. He said the growing volume and importance of interstate transportation of freight by motor trucks over public highways rendered government supervision necessary. He said this class of traffic in the future should be given the same attention by Federal officials as rail and water transportation.

SHORTEST AND LONGEST GAME.

Tennis Tourney Features Funny Matches.

Bill Hawks Finally Defeats His Opponent.

Ladies' Match Finished up in a Hurry.

The longest and shortest matches of the Los Angeles county tennis tournament were staged yesterday afternoon at Exposition Park, the extensive affair being strung out most of the afternoon by Bill Hawks and Stelzriede, the decision at last going to the former by scores of 8-6, 7-9, 6-4, while the brief encounter found Mrs. Henry victor over Miss M. Lang by the convincing score of 6-0, 6-0.

Brother Stelzriede, it appears, is a sergeant of police who has some 230 pounds of meat hung on a frame 6 feet 3 inches long. He has been trying to get famous on the courts with more or less success for five or six years and was rather expected to prove an easy victim to the hard-hitting Mr. Hawks, but the score goes to show that it never pays to get gay with an officer.

Wild excitement was rampant yesterday afternoon when it was announced that Ken Hawks will return to Los Angeles in time to play in the men's doubles with Brother Bill, which puts another fast team in the running for the championship. The drawings in the men's doubles probably will be made tonight and play commenced later in the week.

Yesterday's results: W. Hawks defeated Stelzriede, 8-6, 7-9, 6-4; Mrs. Henry defeated Miss M. Lang, 6-0, 6-0.

Today's schedule: At 1 o'clock, Sinsabaugh vs. Craig; 2 o'clock, Miss Huff vs. Mrs. Rameson; 3 o'clock, Russell vs. Hickman; 4 o'clock, Chappalet vs. Bullock.

BROCKMAN JOINS TROJAN PLAYERS.

The soul of Dean Cromwell burst forth into song yesterday afternoon when Kenneth Brockman's stalwart figure appeared on the U.S.C. gridiron encased in a set of football togs. This 190-pound specimen of animated excitement will undoubtedly be found occupying one of the tackle positions when the Trojans mingle with the Bears on Saturday.

WRESTLING DEFI HURLED ABROAD.

Young Gotch, who wrestles at 158 pounds, has come to Los Angeles and wants to meet Pete Buzukos. Gotch says he will put up $200 that he can beat Buzukos, the money to go to the Red Cross if he can't make the grade. Incidentally Gotch has an eye out for Walter Miller, saying that he challenged him for a match at $1000 a side in St. Paul but Miller refused the bout. Gotch is going to meet Jack Woods of the Naval Reserve next week in San Pedro and is willing to take on Pete Buzukos either before or afterwards. Gotch has been trying to get a match with Miller here for two months, he says, and is willing to meet him at any time.

AUTO MEN MEET AT SACRAMENTO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 9.—A decision to have seven committees appointed to draft proposed amendments to the Motor Vehicle Act to be submitted to the Legislature at its biennial session beginning January 6, next, was reached today by approximately thirty representatives of the automobile industry who met here in conference with F. J. Tehaney, acting superintendent of the State motor vehicle department. Chairmen of the seven committees, under this agreement, were to comprise a committee of the whole to prepare the amendments and submit them for approval at another meeting to be held in January. John Stetson of Oakland was selected chairman of the conference, David Smith, Los Angeles, vice-chairman, and Tehaney, secretary.

PREP FOOTBALL IN SIGHT AGAIN.

Prep school football fans can take heart again! The latest news concerning the temporary ban placed upon high school athletics by the health board is contained in a circular gotten up by Dr. Herb True and "O.K.ed" by Dr. Shields of the Board of Education to be sent out to various high schools.

In substance, the restriction against athletics, including football practice and games, will be lifted on the recommendation of a psyaician sent out by the Board of Education to each school. This is expected to be more or less of a formality and the schools hope to begin to play off the City League games in the very near future. The circulars will probably arrive Wednesday and the heroes will be out on the gridiron again next week in all probability.

GOBS ARE HOME.

The Naval Reserve football team of San Pedro, which is to meet the Submarine Base at Washington Park on Saturday, is back at home after a strenuous week in the north and the players are recuperating and not working too hard just now. Towards the end of the week Coach McClung is expecting to drive his men hard. The Reserves trimmed the St. Mary's eleven on Wednesday by quite a flossy score, but were themselves beaten on Saturday, 20 to 0, by the University of California's strong eleven. The Gobs assert that the two games in four days were too much and that they weren't in shape to put up their best game against the Bears. They hope to upset the dope Saturday by cleaning up on the Subs.

BASEBALL MEETING.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—The annual meeting of the National Baseball Federation will be held here January 18, it was announced tonight. The Executive Committee will meet January 17.

Released for civilian duty

Like a lot of your friends, the AutoStrop Razor was drafted—every set we could manufacture.

Soldiers must shave regularly because clean faces and smart appearance help keep up morale—also because gas masks must fit so close to the skin as to be air-tight.

We multiplied production many times over to meet the demands of the Government for our fighting men.

Now for the first time since last April we are permitted by the Government to make shipments of the AutoStrop Razor for civilian use.

Your dealer's stock has been depleted. Now he will be able to supply you.

People Warned Against Too Rapid Socialization.

Demand Made for an Earlier National Assembly.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (Sunday) Dec. 8.—The commission appointed by the present government to work out a plan for economic socialization, has held its final session, but beyond organizing it has adopted no specific programme of procedure. The Berlin Bourse and banking and industrial circles, so far as the correspondent has been able to ascertain, do not expect immediate enactment of radical measures.

The impression prevails that the Ebert-Hasse government is convinced that the present political and economic situation is inauspicious. This seems to have been confirmed by recent utterances of the leaders of both wings of the social democracy.

Eduard Bernstein, who represents the revolutionary government in the national Ministry of Finance, and who, with Karl Kautsky, Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs in the soldiers' and workmen's government, shares the intellectual leadership of the independent Socialists, in a speech last night, said the most urgent problem at present was maintenance of the nation's economic system.

STATE INDUSTRIAL CONTROL

"Socialization cannot come over night," said Bernstein. "It can only be carried out gradually, but it is bound to come, for the people now are sovereign. Our important weapon is suffrage reform, which is now a fact. It will completely reconstruct society and eventually lead to state control of important industries."

Bernstein said he was opposed to confiscation or expropriation.

"Our present situation is most critical—more so than most of us realize," he added. "We are lacking in raw products, foodstuffs and other commodities, to procure which we shall require immense amounts of money.

"We cannot seize the wealth of the rich people, for then the whole system of production would become paralyzed. Our state railways, which in bygone years netted a surplus of 6,000,000,000 marks, now show a deficit of 1,000,000,000. Our credit abroad is undermined, the Dutch and Swiss banks refusing us accommodations because of the instability of our economic conditions."

Paul Hirsch, Prussian Minister of the Interior, and one of the leaders of the majority Socialists, in the course of an address, declared that the date fixed for the national assembly was too remote, and that immediate convocation was of urgent necessity for the purpose of giving the new state organization needed stability.

FEARS INTERVENTION.

Hirsch asserted that a dictatorship was undesirable, as it would be incompatible with the principles both of socialism and of democracy. He predicted that the Rhenish industrial classes would not hesitate to call on the Entente to restore order if the present conditions of suspense was permitted to continue. He then discussed the financial situation, saying that the substitution of a tremendous deficit for the former surplus would compel the administration of the state railways to increase the tariff by 60 per cent. This measure already had been planned by the former government, he added.

The speaker said he opposed as arbitrary the attempts of Adolf Hoffman, former editor of the Socialist organ, Vorwaerts, to disestablish the church as an issue for far-reaching consequences which should be left to the determination of the ministry.

Emil von Strauss, one of the leading directors of the Deutsche Bank, said he was of the opinion that the government would be slow in carrying out its programme for economic radicalization and that the final decision would be rendered by the people. He pointed out that there was imperative need of avoiding extreme measures, which might impair German credit abroad, as the country naturally desired to enter the war markets as buyer and seller.

WARNS HUN LABOR.

Seizure of the nation's gold supply by the Entente, Herr von Strauss pointed out, would mean the destruction of Germany's credit basis and result in financial anarchy and inability to purchase foodstuffs, which was the first requisite toward righting the present situation.

Von Strauss added that he was of the opinion that the thoughtful elements of the German working classes would realize that the exorbitant wage demands made in isolated quarters would mean the prompt elimination of Germany from competitive markets, and result in a situation least of all suited to economic experiments.

FOR A CONSIDERATION.

Attorney Says He'd Fight Southern Pacific Harbor Rights for Twenty-five Thousand Dollars.

Charging that the ordinances granting perpetual franchises to the Southern Pacific and subsidiary corporations to water front rights at the habor, valued at $2,000,000, were illegally adopted, Robert G. Loucks, an attorney, filed a communication yesterday with the Council offering to contest the validity of the measures for a "contingent fee of $25,000." The communication will be read to the Council this morning.

Attorney Loucks said the ordinances should be set aside as illegal, null and void, because there was "no application therefor; no publication of notice; no award to highest bidder."

Attorney Loucks concludes his letter with the following:

"If your honorable body will give me sufficient legal authority as attorney, I will have said ordinances made null and void and will take said ordinances through all the courts to the United States Supreme Court, if necessary, for a contingent fee of $25,000."

LAWYER IS WINNER.

Disbarred Attorney Who Was Jailed on Contempt Charge Gets Out on Habeas Corpus Writ.

Taking the ground that although he had been disbarred from practice in the Superior Court of California, on account of unprofessional conduct he could appear as an attorney in the justice's courts, the District Court of Appeal yesterday allowed the writ of habeas corpus sworn out in behalf of W. J. Hittson, who was disbarred by the local Superior Court, October 2, 1918, and ordered his release from the custody of the Sheriff of Los Angeles county.

It appears from the record that after Hittson had been disbarred that he accepted employment and appeared in five cases tried in the local justice court. This was considered contempt of court and he was sent to jail. The writ of habeas corpus was to secure his release from such confinement.

The court says it is desirable that the Legislature enact that a person disbarred should be ineligible to appear in a justice's court, but the court does not say that a Justice of the Peace may not possess inherent power to refuse to allow a disbarred person to appear as attorney for a litigant.

SHOWS BUSINESS IS PICKING UP.

Good Indications of Revival in "The Times" Advertising Columns.

On Sunday The Times issued one of the greatest advertising numbers in its history.

That answers the question, "How's business?"

Business is good.

After knockouts by the war and the influenza, General Business is now making a successful drive.

For proof of it look at the Sunday Times' advertising columns—showing a total of 12,110 inches of advertising, as against 10,910 inches on the corresponding Sunday of last year—a gain of 1200 inches. The Times printed 3129 inches of classified advertising on Sunday, in comparison with 3044 inches a year ago.

The lead of The Times over its would-be rivals was prodigious. The total volume of advertising in the Sunday Times was nearly double that of its nearest competitor and far exceeded that of the other two morning newspapers put together. Comparative tables of total advertising, Sunday, December 7:

	Inches.
The Times	12,110
Second paper	7,399
Third paper	5,158

The people are keen to do business. "Go!" is their motto. There will be no holding back. And, as usual, the people are finding the right medium through which to make business hum.

now, at the end of the war, said Mr. Barnes, Britain stands with absolute hegemony in European policies, her navy greater than all other European nations together, and could crush them all if she would.

As for the United States, the new great naval power has sprung to second place at a bound, said the speaker. Thus the whole power of the world is in the hands of the English-speaking peoples. How would they use it? In a struggle for rivalry? Unthinkable. In an alliance of union for their own advantage? More unthinkable. No, only in a union to police, to govern, to protect the whole world at large for the universal good.

Speaking of the problem of the wounded soldiers Mgr. Barnes declared it was not as gloomy as might appear; that of all places in the world the military hospitals are the most hopeful, the most courageous, the most cheerful, and he was convinced that even when we have lost a large part of ourselves, we can still live to enjoy a dignified and useful life. His intimate facts anent the English university men were the most poignant, that class which has suffered most, those men upon whom Britain depended for the statesmen of her future. Oxford and Cambridge, formerly 4000 graduates strong each, now numbered 350. His own University College had but eight left out of 190. Trinity College, Camoridge, had thirty left out of 400. Corpus Christi one out of ninety—"the wiping out of a generation," because of that British tradition that the officer must lead his men. They were not wounded, they were dead. But the speaker saw a greater effort of principle on the part of the surviving men, a greater moral force to compensate the world.

This brought the speaker to the subject of religion. He saw the passing of so many religious prejudices, a greater unity of the Christian peoples, minus the old bigotries. Then he told of the glorious significance of Palestine and its restoration to Christian rule. His description of the mighty Te Deum that went up in Britain upon Gen. Allenby's capture of Jerusalem—dark and silent Britain, which broke all Zeppelin said lawn and rang its bells and lit up its churches in a mighty Thanksgiving. He told of Gen. Allenby's masterly Christian proclamation that Jerusalem, which had been taken without firing a shot, need have no fear; that the armies would protect and aid the inhabitants, protect the sacred shrines of all religions, and maintain the sanctity of that land which is holy to Jew and Gentile alike.

Woman's City Club.

Dr. C. C. Selecman, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South, recently returned from France, was the speaker at the City Club. Under the title of "A Message from Our Boys," Dr. Selecman admitted that Los Angeles is not as immortally artistic as London or Paris, but that its people are far superior to live with. He opined that the womanhood of America is responsible for the fact that in all the manly qualities, the American army is the finest in the world. He talked of the superior influence of American motherhood—and the Woman's City Club was properly gratified.

An interesting visitor at the club was Mme. De Caen, a French Countess, who is the last of her line, and who, after four years of devotion through the war, is here on behalf of the French wounded soldiers. Her admiration for the British women is unstinted, and she told an hitherto unpublished secret to the effect that while French girls were striking at Tours for higher pay in caring for American soldiers' comforts before the arrival of the Y.M.C.A., the Englishwomen came over in their hundreds at $2.50 per month and filled the breach right royally.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Ebell Club.

Very Rev. Mgr. Arthur Stapleton Barnes, M.A., LL.D., is the sort of speaker that keeps his audience studiously attentive until the last word. Ebell has rarely had a more polished, scholarly, socially charming speaker, thoroughly informed, utterly devoid of melodramatics, yet making every point convincingly. Associated with both Oxford and Cambridge universities, he is in himself the embodiment of their best traditions. Nor did he give his originally scheduled lecture on war conditions which the great peace has made passe, but talked of the problems of the future, the great questions before the new-made world, the palpitating subjects of today and tomorrow. For he appreciated, as few speakers do, that a reaction of feeling has set in, a war-weariness of the intellect, as well as of the body. The future, rather than the immediate horror-ful past, absorbs us now, he said.

He passed promptly to the burning question of sea power. After a tribute to America for that masterly "knockout blow," he reminded how history repeats itself, and how for the fourth time in history the British navy has saved the world—in the days of Elizabeth against Spanish world-ambitions; in the days of Louis Quatorze, and later of Napoleon of French history, and now against Wilhelm II, of Prussia. So CHARGE VIOLATION OF HIGH EXPLOSIVE ACT.

Assistant United States District Attorney L. Young yesterday issued a complaint charging the San Fernando Mercantile Company with violation of the high explosive act, in that they had stored in a magazine not properly or safely locked the following explosives: Three hundred and seventy-five pounds of 40-per-cent. extra Hercules dynamite, 100 pounds black blasting powder and 400 pounds blasting caps. The complaint was sworn to by John M. Griffin, United States explosive inspector, of San Francisco. The representatives of the company will appear before United States Commissioner Long this morning.

SEARCHING SKY FOR AIR LANES.

Three Separate Army Groups Working in Southwest.

Noninflammable Gas Discovered for Balloon Inflation.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—California's quartette of airplanes from San Diego is to make the flight to the Atlantic, having arrived in El Paso on time in the record-breaking flight from Rockwell Field. The hundred miles from Deming to El Paso was made in forty minutes and the second leg of the trip from El Paso to Arcadia, Fla., will be undertaken tomorrow.

This squadron was assigned the task of collecting scientific data, air-mapping the country, and locating landing fields in the work of establishing an air route through the South from ocean to ocean. Roughly estimated, it has worked its way east about 700 miles in four days. On account of the many miles of desert country over which the squadron has been flying, the work has been particularly difficult and consequent delays have ensued.

After the squadron reaches the air routes nearer the Mississippi, which are already well charted, it is expected that the trip will be made much faster.

M'CAULEY REACHES COLUMBUS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO, Dec. 9.—Maj. Albert Smith and his three flying mates will leave here early tomorrow for San Antonio. They arrived yesterday morning from Deming, N. M.

LORDSBURG (N. M.) Dec. 9.—Maj. T. C. McCauley, flying east from San Diego, landed here at 4:45 p.m., for gas and water. He wired ahead to El Paso requesting that bonfires be started so that he could continue his flight to El Paso and make a safe landing.

COLUMBUS (N. M.) Dec. 9.—Maj. Theodore McCauley, who is flying from San Diego, Cal., to Fort Worth, Tex., stopped here tonight. He became extremely tired after leaving Lordsburg, N. M., where he stopped for oil and water, and decided not to fly on to El Paso as intended. He will resume his flight tomorrow morning.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 9.—Five stops will be made by military airmen carrying mail between San Diego and El Paso, according to tentative plans submitted by those engaged in mapping the air lanes between the two cities. Those stops will be: El Centro, Cal.; Yuma, Ariz.; Tucson, Ariz.; Douglas, Ariz., and Columbus, N. M. Mail will be dropped and other mail taken on at these places.

Army aviators today expressed the opinion that by flying at hours when the winds are generally favorable, especially in the crossing of mountain ranges in California and Arizona, the actual flying time for the entire journey may be cut to fourteen hours. That would necessitate a speed of more than eighty-five miles an hour.

Computation of the time required for flight from San Diego and cities on the Florida coast will be made after full reports from Maj. Albert Smith, commanding the squadron now at El Paso, are received.

LAS VEGAS (N. M.) Dec. 9.—The three army airplanes piloted by Lieutenants Graham, Hancock and Aubineau of Fort Sill, Okla., started to Santa Fe today, but one returned because of motor trouble and the other two were forced to land on account of high wind. The flyers returned on a train.

DISCOVER NEW BALLOON GAS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Discovery of an inert, noninflammable gas designed for use in balloons, dirigibles and other lighter than air craft, was revealed by the Navy Department today in a statement explaining expenditures now being made jointly with the army for its production. The department said the use of this new element, officially termed "argoh," will eliminate the hazard of fire and explosion that always has accompanied balloon operations where hydrogen has been used to inflate the gas bags.

The gas from which "argon" is obtained comes from wells at Petrolia, Tex., owned by the Lone Star Gas Company, the statement said, and a ten-inch pipe line which cost $1,050,000 is being laid for a distance of ninety-four miles from the wells to a plant at North Fort Worth, where the gas will be compressed into cylinders for shipment to the balloon fields.

High-proof gasoline is obtained in a ratio of about five gallons per 1000 cubic feet of gas, it was said, and after the 1 per cent. of "argon" is removed, by agreement with the Lone Star company, the remainder of the gas is turned into the city mains of Fort Worth and Dallas.

The department estimates that the plant at North Fort Worth, designed by the navy bureau of yards and docks, and which will cost $900,000, will be completed by next April 1.

AIR INVASION PLANNED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—More than 500,000 high capacity demolition bombs with which to carry the war into Germany had been ordered for the air service before last June 30, and 1028 had been delivered, according to the first annual report of the Bureau of Aircraft Production, made public today. The report signed by Acting Director Potter contained no recommendations.

Actual orders for fighting aircraft placed in the United States up to June 30 totalled 12,500 and deliveries totaled 529 De Haviland and twenty-four Bristols, all day bombers. In addition 500 Handley-Page and 100 Caproni night bombers were on order and 1000 Se-Five pursuit monoplanes. The De Haviland orders totaled 8000 and the Bristol contracts, 2000.

Engineers for service planes totaled 30,500 and deliveries 2392. More than 100,000 machine guns of various type also had been contracted for, and 40,000 had been delivered.

Enormous size of the air programme is further shown in the spruce and fir shipments, a total of 65,000,000 feet of spruce and 25,000,000 feet of fir having been delivered for airplane construction during the period from May 24, 1917, to June 4, 1918, which the report covers.

Director Potter shows that available appropriations for the air service for that period totalled $682,646,647, of which actual cash expenditures of $208,410,000 had been made on material and $164,898,494 on buildings and flying fields."

CAMP MILLS (N. Y.) Dec. 9.—Announcement was made tonight that 1200 members of various aero squadrons included in the first American troops to return from England, will leave here tomorrow for Camp Dodge, Iowa, to be mustered out. The contingent comprises men from Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa and Illinois.

LIPSNER ASKS INQUIRY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Capt. B. B. Lipsner, who recently resigned as superintendent of the aerial mail service, tonight appealed to Lawrence Y. Sherman, United States Senator from Illinois, for a Congressional investigation of proposed expenditures for air mail and of several recent appointments to the service.

Capt. Lipsner in his appeal to Senator Sherman, repeated statements which he made in his letter of resignation, that efforts were being made to have the Postoffice Department "spend tens of thousands of dollars unnecessarily in constructing special airplanes," and that "novices" were being employed in the service. Both of these statements were declared untrue by Postmaster-General Burleson in accepting the resignation.

In his appeal to Senator Sherman, Capt. Lipsner gave the names of several men recently appointed to the aerial mail service who, he declares, lack aircraft experience. He also urged the present use of the airplane facilities of the army to the fullest possible extent in place of the purchase of costly new equipment.

PEACE MISSION ORGANIZED

Chart of Groups Worked Out Through Secretary Grew to Workers.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Saturday, Dec. 7.—The plan of organization of the United States peace mission, which is now tentative, but which in its essentials undoubtedly will stand unchanged, shows the body which will look out for America's interests when the world's delegates gather at Versailles as complete in every detail.

The chart of the organization, which has been prepared here, shows the large American organization headed by the members of the peace commission itself, with the chart lines running from this group to that of the first secretary, John C. Grew, to the second, or liaison, of diplomatic intelligence group, and the third, the group of advisers, principally technical, with large staffs of assistants.

Under the liaison and diplomatic intelligence group are military and naval officers, including the commander of the American Expeditionary Forces, naval and military attaches and foreign representatives. Under some of these heads are officers dealing with the peace commission, delegates of organizations and ceremonial officers, whose duties will be along such lines as the making of formal calls and attending to similar matters.

One or the other of the two assistant secretaries will have within his secretarial duties the looking after of the printing of communications, the distribution of press information, filing of reports, coding matter for transmission to the signal corps and wire terminals, etc.

A subetitute branch of the liaison and diplomatic intelligence office is a bureau in which American civilian activities will be represented, such as those of Herbert C. Hoover, the Food Administrator; the Red Cross, the Y.M.C.A., the Knights of Columbus, the Knights of Pythias, the Salvation Army and the War Trade Board.

BRITISH DELEGATION.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Dec. 9.—While the official announcement of the makeup of the British delegation to the Peace Conference is delayed for various reasons, the London Times's statement of its composition—Lloyd George, Balfour, Bonar Law and George Barnes—is generally taken to be a fairly accurate forecast.

There has been no public comment of note on this reported selection, but real satisfaction has been given by the appointment of Lord Cecil to hold the British section concerned with the league of nations. Lord Robert has full sympathy with the ideals of such a league.

Balfour's presence at the conference will be a great asset. He and President Wilson have for each other high esteem and respect and probably a better mutual understanding than is likely to be always the case.

Prime Minister Lloyd George will head the British delegation and Mr. Barnes will give a certain amount of representation to labor, although his influence with his old party unquestionably has been weakened by his refusal to leave the coalition.

Bonar Law's inclusion is considered essential because financial elements will undoubtedly play a considerable role in the Paris discussions.

SELPH IS BACK.

Ewald E. Selph, returned to his desk at the District Attorney's office yesterday. He appeared in uniform having lately been discharged from the army. He was attending the Central Officers' Training School for Field Artillery, at Camp Taylor, Ky. and was mustered out with other officer candidates. He told of the death from influenza of Mark Keyes, also former deputy District Attorney. Mr. Selph said that when the officer candidates left most of them were without civilian clothes, as they had given such attire to the Belgian relief.

WOULD EXTEND ALLIES' CREDIT.

M[illegible]doo Asks Congress Con[illegible]e Loans Year Longer.

Suggests Legislation to Change Existing Laws.

Europe to Buy Great Quantities of Raw Materials.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Congress was asked by Secretary McAdoo in a letter made public today to authorize the continuation of loans to the Allies for one year after the termination of the war to finance the purchase of foodstuffs and reconstruction materials in this country. No additional appropriation for loans to the Allies was sought, but it was suggested that the proposed peace-time provision apply to the $1,500,000,000 of the $10,000,000,000 appropriated for Allied loans, which Secretary McAdoo estimated will remain unexpended when peace is declared. Under existing law the United States may lend to the Allies only for war purposes and during the war.

In line with this policy, the Secretary also sought to have new legislation provide that credits extended after December 15 be for "purposes growing out of the war," to make their use more flexible.

The present law requires that the securities of foreign governments which the Secretary of the Treasury is to take in exchange for loans must be of the same maturity as that of the preceding Liberty Loan from which the funds came. Mr. McAdoo would change this to give the treasury limited authority to determine the maturities, in view of the prospective issuance of short-term bonds for the fifth loan.

Treasury officials have ascertained that foreign governments are prepared to buy great quantities of food, iron and steel, machinery, cotton and other materials from the United States during the next few years, to aid in their physical reconstruction programme. Since the United States has absorbed much of the world's supply of gold in the last few years, the nations have not the resources, either in cash or ready credit, to pay for their purchase without these loans, officials maintain.

REGAINED PROVINCES HAPPY UNDER FRENCH.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Dec. 9.—There naturally has been concern in connection with the reincorporating of Alsace-Lorraine into France, as the population has become largely German since 1871.

Recent reports from there have been reassuring on this point. Lord Burnham of the London Telegraph, who has been spending ten days in Alsace-Lorraine, told me today that the situation there was most excellent. There was universal satisfaction among the populations at joining France, and nowhere was there a single sign of unfriendliness or discontent.

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 9.—An extraordinary demonstration took place in Posen, which was decorated as for the greatest festivals. Every street was decked with the Polish colors and the whole population was in the streets in national costume. A great demonstration was held in the market place. National airs were played and shouts of "Long live united Poland" were raised by the tremendous concourse of people. Men, women and children paraded the streets.

In the church Archdeacon Stychel, leader of the Polish party in the Reichstag, preached a sermon in which he said:

"Here and now the Polish people, solemnly before God and before those great nations who have decided the destiny of the world, demand full national freedom and independence."

USE RAZOR AND POLE.

Handy Weapons Employed in Exposition Park Quarrel Over Ten Dollars.

The use by two owners of racing horses, at Exposition Park of an eight-foot pole and a razor as combative weapons to decide a $10 dispute yesterday brought John B. Whekins to the Receiving Hospital and White A. Wright to the University Station, the latter charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Whekins is a Bakersfield rancher and Wright is a Sacramento horse breeder. They quarreled over the payment of a jockey who had ridden a horse belonging jointly to them, they told the police. Wright took his choice of weapons, a razor, and in self-defense Whekins grabbed a pole and hit his erstwhile partner over the head, he said. Wright, however, came right on, and Whekins was treated by Assistant Police Surgeon Dunsmore for several cuts on various parts of the body.

PRISONERS ESCAPE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 9.—Carefully sawing their way through two strong iron bars of a window on the second story of the Kern county jail, built at a cost of $200,000, five men under cover of darkness early this morning made their escape, and are now at large, with a posse of deputies from the Sheriff's office searching far and wide for the men.

REDS CAPTURE EBERT GUARD

Rush Armored Cars Drive Soldiers from Guns.

Liebknecht Praises Act in Public Speeches.

Invalided Troopers Beg in Streets of Berlin.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Dec. 9 (via Copenhagen.)—Some thirty political meetings of all parties, of which twenty-two alone were Socialist, took place yesterday in Berlin and its suburbs, all of them passing comparatively quiet. "Kal," as Liebknecht is generally called by all Spartacides, spoke at Treptow and several other places, racing from one place to the other in an armored car, accompanied by his bodyguard of twenty-five hardened warriors.

Notwithstanding an arduous day, Liebknecht appeared about 7 o'clock in Unter Den Linden accompanied by his usual following, in automobiles armed with machine guns. Speaking from their vehicles, he and other orators soon gathered enormous crowds around them. They then went through the Wilhelmstrasse, towards Liepzigerstrasse, being met on the way by other columns moving from Potsdamer Platz toward the Linden.

"The crowds were shouting vociferously passing the Chancellor's palace, which, however, was strongly guarded by machine guns. At the corner of Voessestrasse there were three large cars armed with heavy machine guns. The crowds came up hesitatingly, recognising them as belonging to the government's police service.

"Don't shoot, don't shoot," cried the crowds.

The men aboard shouted back they would not so long as the people behaved themselves.

Suddenly the crowds rushed forward, and before the soldiers knew what was happening they were swept from the armored cars and their places occupied by the tumultuous multitude. The cars were then taken past the Chancellor's palace, winding their way through the enormous masses that by this time nearly blocked the Wilhelmstrasse. In front of the Brandenburger, Liebknecht again addressed the people, praising them for what they had done.

"It was a brave thing," he said, "to rob the government of its means for shedding blood," meaning the seizure of the armed cars, and then he proceeded to tell the people how several of the guard regiments were held several days already at Nicklasse, between Potsdam and Berlin, to sweep on the capital should the men in power find they could no longer withstand the anger of the people. He said Martin Matuschka and Rheinbaben were in the pay of the government, and should be shot on sight by any honest Spartacide.

After that the crowds dispersed, some soldiers apparently belonging to the Liebknecht group taking charge of the captured cars.

SOLDIERS BEG IN BERLIN.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROTTERDAM, Dec. 9.—The street scenes in Berlin are extraordinary. There are lively crowds everywhere, but the most striking feature is the number of discharged soldiers trying to gain a livelihood as street vendors, recalling ominously what happened in Petrograd after the revolution.

The following picture is drawn by the Berlin correspondent of the Nieuwe Rotterdamsche Courant:

"The streets of Berlin exhibit now the same joyful crowds of former years in the period when Christmas approaches, and especially noticeable are many couples oblivious to all ills in the happiness of reunion. One notices no apprehension of revolutionary troubles in the demeanor of the public filling the streets, but a clean indication of the new situation is the hitherto unknown sight in Berlin of a large number of soldiers mingling with the crowd and offering for sale all kinds of trifles.

"They are selling in the streets cigarettes, pamphlets, newspapers, red badges, and revolutionary postcards, among them more or less successful caricatures of the Kaiser. In this respect Berlin also is beginning to bear resemblance to Petrograd, as I saw it in the days of the revolution. Another very striking resemblance is that now and then invalided soldiers are seen begging."

REPORT SHOWS WAR PERIOD ACTIVITIES.

MANY ARRESTED HERE DURING HOSTILITIES; WAS "RUNWAY" TO MEXICO.

Collector of Customs Elliott's report showing the arrests of individuals and seizure of merchandise in the local collection district for the period from April 6, 1917, the date that war was declared, to November 11, 1918, when the present armistice went into effect, was transmitted yesterday to the Washington authorities. It shows:

Los Angeles, arrests, 16, seizures, 0; San Diego, arrests, 4, seizures, 3; Tia Juana, arrests, 61, seizures, 3; Campo, arrests, 4, seizures, 2; Calexico, arrests, 35, seizures, 28, and Andrade, arrests, 9, seizures, 1.

In addition at least thirty fugitives from justice, and more than 100 violators of the war regulations and of the Espionage Act were arrested by deputy collectors along the Mexican boundary line. In addition about forty persons were taken from vessels in the various ports, and the campaign instituted by the collector, having for its object the apprehension of alleged draft evaders, was most successful, and scores were turned over to the army and navy intelligence bureaus.

On account of its proximity to the border, the local district was the favorite runway, it appears, for the national law violators seeking to make their escape into Mexico, and the figures only approximately indicate the activities of the deputies under Collector Elliott.

REVENUE BILL NOW IN SENATE.

House Tax Plan Cut to Under Six Billions.

Debate on After-War Measure to Begin Today.

Fight on 1920 Imposts to be Led by Penrose.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Effects of the nation's transition from a war to a peace basis and of prohibition legislation on the present and future problems of taxation are outlined in the Senate Finance Committee's report on the revised war revenue bill filed today by Chairman Simmons.

The report explains the steps taken to revise the House bill so as to raise by taxation next year $5,978,466,000 instead of $7,500,000,000, as planned by the House before the signing of the armistice and the enactment of prohibition legislation.

Proposed taxes in 1920 of $4,000,000,000, the reason for fixing them at this time and the manner in which they will be raised also are explained.

The most distinct changes made by the Senate in the House draft of the bill are noted by the committee's report, as follows:

Elimination of the 6 per cent. corporation tax on undistributed corporate earnings; fixing a 20 per cent. maximum on bona fide sales of mines and oil and gas wells; elimination of the tax on new State and municipal bonds; substitution of a single war excess profits tax for the alternative plan; exclusion of individuals and partnerships from war excess profits taxation and reduction of the taxes on beverages and tobacco.

DEBATE BEGINS TODAY.

Senate debate on the measure will begin tomorrow with a statement by Senator Simmons. A dissenting report on the plan to fix 1920 taxes in the pending bill will be filed by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania for the Republicans of the Finance Committee.

Separate views also will be presented by Senators Smoot of Utah and La Follette of Wisconsin, Republicans.

A considerable part of Senator Simmons's report is devoted to the plan for reducing taxes in 1920 to $4,000,000,000.

"The country has a right to know how soon and in what degree the burden of war taxes can prudently be reduced," the report says. "During this period of reconstruction, business, particularly new business, is entitled to go forward without the burden of an 80 per cent. tax on war profits. In time of peace the existence of an 80 per cent. profits tax would be an absolute evil, for the perpetuation or continuance of which no sufficient reason has been or can be given."

For 1920, the report estimates, a reduction of $1,400,000,000 by eliminating the 80 per cent. profits tax, reduction of the excess profits rates and reduction from 12 to 8 per cent. in the normal rate and individual incomes and other corporation taxes. A further reduction of about $500,000,000, it was estimated, will occur from miscellaneous sources and shrinkage in beverage revenues.

GIST OF REPORT.

"The main outline of the programme proposed by the committee thus becomes clear," the report states. "For the normal year 1919 it is planned to raise nearly $4,600,000,000 from income and profits taxes and something over $1,400,000,000 from other sources; for the fiscal year 1920 it is planned to raise somewhat less than $3,000,000,000 from profits and income taxes and about $1,000,000,000 from other sources. About the general wisdom of such a programme we entertain no serious doubt.

"It is imperative that profits and income for the year 1918 be heavily taxed. This not only is necessary, but it is equitable and in accordance with sound public policy.

"The profits realized during the year 1918 are in large part war profits; they are now in the pocket of the taxpayers; they should contribute heavily before they have been dissipated or reinvested toward the payment of the expenses of the war to which, in large measure, they are attributable.

"But it is equally important that these special taxes should be reduced as the occasion which inspired and justifies them recedes into the past. To fail adequately to tax the war profits of 1918 would constitute a manifest miscarriage of judicial justice. Not to provide now for the reduction of the war profits tax would be equally inexcusable."

PROHIBITION REDUCTION.

In addition to the tax reductions due to the fact that the government now copes with peace instead of war conditions, prohibition is expected to reduce revenue returns greatly.

Beverage taxes under the House bill was estimated to raise $1,137,000,000 during the first twelve months of operation and $850,000,000 for the 1919 fiscal year.

"At the present time, under changed conditions," the report stated, "it is possible to count only upon $500,000,000 for 1918-19, and $13,000,000 for 1919-1920 from this source."

Analyzing in detail the committee's radical changes, Senator Simmons's report explained that the revised individual surtax rates graduated upward on 1 per cent. on each $1000 over $5000, are more equitable than the arbitrary graduations of the House bill.

The bill retains the House provisions for income taxation of salaries, including those possibly of the President and Federal judges, legality of which, the report stated, is left to the courts if the question is raised. The report, however, says that the House clause for Federal taxation of new State and municipal bonds was stricken out as "it seemed unwise for Congress to attempt to impose this tax upon the obligations of States and municipalities as long as the States are not free to tax in a similar manner obligations of the United States."

The plan of requiring affiliated corporations to make consolidated income tax returns, the report states, will do much to prevent tax evasion and the new tax on life insurance companies' "true income" from investments in lieu of war excess, income, capital stock and other taxes is more equitable.

SIMPLIFY TAXES

"The war excess profits section, the report states, has been simplified and reduced. The House alternative plan of levying war and excess profits at whichever rate would yield the most revenue the committee found objectionable, because its constitutionality is questioned and its administration troublesome to taxpayers.

Regarding the tax on beverages, the report says no sound reason was found for the House proposal for doubling the present rate of $2.20 per gallon on nonbeverage alcohol largely used for medicines and household necessities.

Exemption from bond and other costs on distilled liquor remaining in warehouses after "bone dry" prohibition becomes effective next July the report states, is to prevent hardship upon owners.

"To prevent the total loss, owing to prohibition, of vineyards developed through many years," the report adds, regarding wine, "it was provided that under proper regulations, wines may be produced and existing stocks of wine may be utilized for the making of nonbeverage spirits and nonalcoholic wines."

AUTO HURTS NEWSBOYS.

Three Injured When Machine Grazes Street Curb on Which They were Sitting.

Three newsboys, John Bergquist, 12, of No. 1724 South New Hampshire street, and James and Leonard Harig, 11 and 10 years old, of No. 1327 West Fourth street, were injured last night when an automobile driven by Albert Silver of No. 401 California street swerved while turning a corner at Seventh and Figueroa streets and grazed the curb on which the boys were sitting.

James Harig was the most seriously injured of the three, having his teeth loosened and receiving a deep laceration on one leg and a severe contusion on the other.

Silver was placed under arrest by Patrolman H. R. Higgins. He said he was forced close to the curbing by an execution in the street and by another automobile. He was released.

WAS IN BORDEAUX.

Pasadenan Home From France Describes How Staid City Celebrated Victory.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Dec. 9.—Arthur Hill, 1414 Garfield avenue, has returned from France. He was at Bordeaux, waiting to sail, November 11, when news came of the signing of the armistice. "I never heard so much noise in all my life," was his comment today on how the news of victory and peace was received in Bordeaux. "All restrictions on soldiers and civilians of all nationalities in the city were lifted that day and everybody cheered, sang and caverted for joy, particularly the French population. It was the biggest racket that staid old French town had ever seen."

Hill had been in France since last March with a unit of the Friends' reconstruction service, operating with the American Red Cross. His tasks varied from assisting refugees to driving ambulances. He was under fire a number of times.

Mr. Hill is the first Pasadenan who was in France when the war ended to return to Pasadena. He came on the Rochambeau, which brought back many wounded Americans.

MUNICIPAL TREE.

Monrovians Planning Christmas Celebration in Liberty Park.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONROVIA, Dec. 9.—Officers were appointed and plans made today for the coming municipal Christmas tree celebration in Liberty Park. Henry S. Gierlich, City Engineer, who successfully planned the initial celebration last year, when a huge evergreen tree in the park was transplanted for the purpose, was re-elected chairman of the committee. C. H. Price, vice-president; William L. Hanna, secretary, and Mrs. C. H. Anson, treasurer.

A committee, consisting of Rev. George Lord of the Methodist Church, Dr. L. N. Wheeler and Mrs. Anson, was appointed to decide upon the hour when the presents are to be given. Fear of the "flu" causes some opposition to the children being out in the park in the evening, the usual time, but it is pointed out that if held in day time, there would be no opportunity to illuminate the tree. Last year's tree still stands in the park and is growing lustily.

TO CUT PRICES ON STEEL, PLAN.

General Committee Favors Reduction January 1.

Urges Trade Barometer Point Way to Prosperity.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Moderate reduction in the scale of maximum prices for steel, beginning on January 1, is favored by the general committee on steel and steel products of the American Iron and Steel Institute, which meets with the War Industries Board on Wednesday.

This was announced by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the committee, at a meeting here of steel manufacturers today, with the recommendation that the question be referred to the committee with power, which was done.

Mr. Gary opposed any effort to reduce wage scales at present, declaring that, while labor is receiving higher compensation than ever before, the rates are no higher than are "proper and just," in view of the cost of living.

Perhaps the most satisfactory way of reducing "the present basis of general prices that are abnormal," Mr. Gary said, would be the making of simultaneous reductions "in every direction," but this he declared would be impracticable.

He urged, therefore, that the steel industry, as the "barometer of trade," begin reductions in prices, even at the cost of sacrifice. Such a course, he declared, would result in price reductions by persons buying steel, and "so on down the line," until a stable business basis was reached.

"If the workmen are treated fairly and liberally," he said, "they will stand and contend for fair treatment of the employer.

"You have a chance to do something valuable toward sustaining the business equilibrium of the country. While some might suffer losses at present, perhaps it would prevent greater losses in the future. We would be leaders in a movement calculated most beneficially to meet conditions in an orderly way. We might have some influence on steadying business generally. And remember, the workmen are more interested in this question than any others, for labor constitutes the greater part of the cost of production from the raw material down to the final product and its use by the consumer.

"Our employees must continue to be treated liberally with respect to their compensation and general welfare. We will continue to show them that it is our intention to consider its merits and to treat them as associates and valuable assistants in our work.

"There is no ground for believing as sometimes hinted that the workers of this country are desirous of controlling the methods of production and distribution. They know they could not be successful in the experiment."

Mr. Gary predicted that, if business is fair to its employees, its customers and its competitors, the next five years "will be the most progressive, prosperous and successful in our history."

"The iron and steel men have been broadminded, liberal and big in every way, and I appeal to you at this time with confidence," he declared.

Full responsibility in the matter of prices soon will rest on the individual manufacturers again, Judge Gary said. He asserted that in a short time, "perhaps sooner than we now know," the War Industries Board will be relieved and price-fixing discontinued.

LATE COMMISSIONER HONORED BY COUNCIL.

The City Council yesterday showed marked respect to the memory of Civil Service Commissioner S. H. Bradley, who died on Saturday, by adjourning and ordering the flag on the City Hall placed at half mast. Mr. Bradley was appointed a member of the commission by Mayor Woodman, and was considered one of the most efficient men who ever served in that capacity.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the parlors of Gates, Crane & Earl, Hollywood.

BREAKS RECORDS IN LOS ANGELES

Powers of Medicine Shown in Case of Mrs. Kissee.

Remarkable as it may seem, more than twenty thousand (20,000) bottles of Tanlac have been sold and distributed at retail to the people of Los Angeles since its introduction here five months ago. In one day alone, recently, more than seven hundred, or to be exact, seven hundred and twenty well-known people called at the Owl Drug Stores to purchase the medicine. The list of testimonials grows daily as new tests of its powers are made.

Mrs. Ellen Kissee, residing at 3309 South Main street, in relating her experience with Tanlac said:

"I am now feeling better than I have in many years and I must give Tanlac praise for doing me so much good in so short a time, as have just finished my second bottle. I have suffered with extreme nervousness for years and kept getting worse until it seemed that I was right on the verge of nervous prostration. Any little thing out of the ordinary that happened would upset me so that I could not control myself and I could hardly sleep at night, as the least noise would startle me. My kidneys were out of order also, my ankles would swell very badly and it seemed that every nerve in my body pained me. My appetite was so poor that I never enjoyed anything to eat and what I did eat failed to nourish me.

"I had tried so many things without results that I had almost despaired of ever getting any better, but Tanlac has been a revelation to me, it is so different from other medicines I have tried. I have been improving ever since I began taking it and my nervousness is so much better now that they scarcely bother me any more and I sleep just fine every night. The swelling has almost entirely disappeared from my ankles, my kidneys are in good shape and I don't notice any pain at all. My appetite is just splendid. I enjoy all my food and if I continue to improve like I have in the past three weeks it won't be long until I am perfectly strong and well., I am convinced already that there is nothing else so good and I am glad to recommend it to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Company under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—[Advertisement.

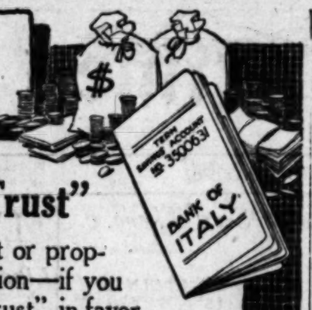
Bank of Italy Trust Service Covers the State



Create a "Living Trust"

If you have funds to invest or property that requires supervision—if you desire to create a "living trust" in favor of your wife, your children or yourself—if you wish to take the proper steps toward the permanent conservation of your estate—consult the Trust Department of the Bank of Italy.

It is next to impossible to find an individual agent or trustee who can do the same amount of work that this bank can do for you, with the same degree of satisfaction, promptness, fidelity and safety. Our fees (fixed by law) are no larger than those paid to an individual.

The Original Nut Butter

NUCOA

Just What You've Been Looking For

Churned from Nuts and Milk

NUCOA displaces cow's butter—and does it without a single apology. Try it just once. It is not an imitation of anything. It is just its PURE self. Do not confound it with animal oleomargarine. There is no possible relationship. We compete with creamery butter on quality lines, and save you a lot of money.

Let us tell you how it is made. We import the Sun-dried meat of the Cocoanut from the Isles of the South Pacific. This is crushed and refined into a cream white butter. It could not be finer. It does not contain a trace of water. It is just pure Cocoanut butter. Highly refined, rich, peanut oil is added. This is just like olive oil in color and texture. The richness and mellowness of peanut oil make it very valuable. These two products are churned with cultured milk, first having been pasteurized, received daily from California dairies. When it leaves the churn it is worked and salted the same as creamery butter.

Laws enacted before NUCOA was perfected compel us to label it Oleomargarine, but it does not contain any animal fats, as our raw materials are not packing house products, but rather the fruit of the Cocoanut Tree, whose home is the Isles of the South Pacific NUCOA is white. Capsules containing exactly the same vegetable color as is used in every pound of creamery butter, are free. Coloring process simple. Details surround each print.

Whereas, the United States government, State of California, and city of Los Angeles have officially indorsed the California Liberty Fair; therefore, be it

Resolved, that the City Council of the city of Los Angeles hereby prays His Honor, the Mayor of the city of Los Angeles, to bring the above facts forcibly to all the commercial and industrial interests of this city in such manner as to result in universal co-operation that the California Liberty Fair may be visited by these interests and thereby fulfill its highest function, and be it further

CHAMBER SEES IT.

A party of Chamber of Commerce officials yesterday were enthusiastic guests at the fair and passed the afternoon in inspecting the industrial, agricultural, horticultural and various exhibits denoting the constructive activities of the Southland. Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and dean of exposition directors in the United States, kept well in lead of the party and there was scarcely an exhibitor that did not greet him by name. Of the more than 100 men in charge of the exhibits, there were only two who did not know Mr. Wiggins personally. One of these admitted having passed the last twenty years in Alaska and the other recently had reached Southern California from South America.

SCHOOL HOUSE FIRE.

Two Bungalows of Hostetter-Street Institution Are Entirely Destroyed.

Two bungalows of the Hostetter-street school were destroyed and a third one damaged by a fire early yesterday morning. According to the police the flames probably started from the interior of one of the buildings, possibly by a marauder, who lit a fire in the stove.

The loss to the buildings was about $4500. School was held as usual.

DEFER APPOINTMENT.

For some unknown reason the Council yesterday deferred action upon the appointment of D. Joseph Coyne as a member of the Social Service Commission. He was appointed a week ago and confirmation was deferred a week. When it came up yesterday a motion was made that the matter be postponed until next Friday.

BIG SALARY TIED UP.

Thomas Thorkildsen Must Get Along on Fifteen Thousand Pending Divorce Trial.

When Thomas Thorkildsen, borax millionaire, testified in Judge Wood's court yesterday that he had an income totaling $35,000 a year, the court ordered him not to dispose of $20,000 of this amount, pending the trial of the divorce action of Selina Livingston Thorkildsen, against him.

"I want to use the money in business, Your Honor," protested the defendant. I am paying on $10,000 worth of Liberty Bonds.

"Well, you cannot have the $20,000; that's tied up," answered the court. "You can use $10,000 to buy Liberty Bonds. When the bonds are bought, you cannot dispose of them either until the suit is tried.

Last week the court denied the application of Mrs. Thorkildsen for temporary alimony, on her showing that she had an income of $500 a year. The court said that alimony is for indigent wives.

FURNISHED LIQUOR TO FIGHTERS, IS CHARGE.

Assistant United States District Attorney Young, yesterday filed complaints against the following individuals, all of whom are in the San Diego County Jail, charged with the violation of the law against giving liquor to soldiers. Dexter Humphrey, Jose Deniro, Glenn Rogers, G. J. Shipman, Ed C. Ryan, Charles McLeoran, Joseph W. Gardner, La W. Fleener, R. G. Sherman and San Walko. The cases will be presented to the Federal grand jury Friday, and in the meantime the accused will be removed to Los Angeles and placed in the County Jail.

DRAMA.

POTASH, PERLMUTTER.

"BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE" AT CLUNE'S AUDITORIUM.

The public cannot get too much of those genuine American business men, Abe Potash and Mawruss Perlmutter, and their numerous appearances are greeted with roars of sympathetic laughter—in stories and plays and motion pictures. Nor did Montague Glass invent them. They are too good, too human, perhaps even too funny, to be the mere creatures of any man's brain. They simply existed, and Montague Glass saw them and described them exactly as they are. He made them immortal.

In "Business Before Pleasure," the richly humorous and human comedy that is being presented at Clune's Auditorium this week, our old friends have taken a flyer in a line of business so far and so foreign from that of "popular dresses" that it is no wonder they reach bankruptcy in less than six months. For that business is nothing short of the "motion-picture industry," which Mawruss finally declares is "not a business but a dissipation."

The various predicaments in which the two find themselves, with the "vamp" leading lady, with the cameraman, with the man who financed them, and with their own wives, make much genuine drama—albeit melodrama—as well as much genuine humor. The talk, indeed, sparkles with the repartee of Abe and Mawruss, whose effect may be that of a sledge hammer, but of a sledge hammer with a ring all its own and one that fell pleasantly on the waiting and expectant ears of the thousands that crowded the huge auditorium at Clune's last night.

The play is spoken drama, but an attractive feature is added when we see Abe, in motion pictures, taking a joyride with a man who wants to sell him a machine. Seventy-five miles an hour was not fast enough for Abe, and he was willing to run into something if it was something cheap. The chauffeur obliged him. As a consequence, every "rib in his back ached the next day." In brief, we have here the old, familiar Abe and Mawruss—and what more is to be said?

Pantages.

You will go to Pantages this week to see the Spanish Dancers, and you will be surprised to discover that you are getting full value for your admission, even before that big number, with its bevy of Spanish senoritas and their wonderful grace and beauty comes on the programme to finish the bill. That's a most mystifying presentation of so-called telepathy by Aleko, the Greek seer, and his astonishing assistants; Phil La Tosca, a favorite in Los Angeles with his rollicking "tramp juggling" act; a lively and animated colored team, Green and Pugh, whose antics and funnyisms will make you laugh until your sides ache; Sandy Donaldson, the laddie from the shipyards, presents a happy selection of songs in a rugged Scotch dialect with handsome changes of plaid costumes.

Those who saw the Pantages Spanish Dancers during their brief and interrupted engagement the week the theaters were closed, will want to see them again, while those who missed seeing this great and elaborately staged act, will surely not miss it again. It's more than a vaudeville act or a theatrical entertainment. It's a delightful bit taken direct from the life of Spain and transplanted to America, and is claimed to be the only genuine all-Spanish act on the stage in this country today. Surely it was a connoisseur who selected the girls; an expert in beauty, grace and cleverness.

Brilliantly costumed, elaborately staged, with a catchy, dreamy musical score adapted from the folk songs of Spain, it is an effort which is entitled to be called a production. There are twenty numbers on the programme, each representing a Spanish dance from a different province. The principals, Senor Balbao, Senoritas Deloretes, Mazantiniti, Carmen Lopez and Madriles, are claimed to be the most expert dancers in all Spain, and the chorus is composed of real artists, also.

Hippodrome.

"Unexpected Places," featuring Bert Lytell, which is at the Hippodrome the first part of this week is about the cleverest and funniest crook play seen in some time. The thrills and suspenses are frequent, while comedy is interspersed throughout the film just enough to make it highly enjoyable. A very good cast is seen in support of Lytell, including Rhea Mitchell, Rosemary Theby, Colin Kenny and John Burton.

Eary and Eary start off the vaudeville show with a punch in their exceedingly novel ring act. Stanley and Dale, two peppery boys in full dress, perform some fast new dances, sing a little and offer some pleasing banjo selections. Herbert and Lee, in "Opportunity," a timely satire, present some specially witty dialogue on present-day occurrences, with the woman in the garb of a farmerette. Miss Hope Wallace, a dainty little entertainer, comes with some new songs and stories, while Lucas and Inez are really unusual acrobats with their iron-jaw sensation. De Fay and Henry carry off comedy honors with their eccentric offering of songs, stories and imitations.

Palace.

The programme at the Palace this week is one of much entertainment and many laughs. Mary Pickford in "Johanna Enlists" is the usual lovable Mary; Roscoe Arbuckle in "Fatty's Suitless Day" provides the rough and tumble stuff that appeals to the side of our nature which justifies the Darwin theory. And the Christie comedy is a knockout for old man gloom.

"Johanna Enlists" is a picture in which the comedy is supreme and the themes most timely. As for Miss Pickford in the titular role, one loves every freckle (false, of course,) upon her dainty nose, and becomes fairly maudlin when she assumes her rightful beauty in the latter part of the picture. A romance full of beauty, typical of the pen of its author, Rupert Hughes, is enough said for any screen story.

Morosco.

All the beautiful pathos and humor of Lee Wilson Dodd's famous comedy success, "Pals First," drew the eager theatergoer to the Morosco last week. The popular comedy is to remain for a second and last week at Oliver Morosco's newly-decorated playhouse. The delicious humor of the southern negro mammy, played at the Morosco by Lillian Elliott, the rich and deep affection of the old negro porter, the cameo-like perfection of Aunt Caroline, a lady of the old school; the boy-like enthusiasm of Dominnie, when he reaches a haven of soft living; the lasting love of the girl, Jean, made a perfect gem of acting by Florence Malone, and the gentlemanly crook-wanderer of Charles Meredith, the new Morosco leading man—have contributed no small measure to the instant success of this Morosco offering.

Ray's Garden.

With an increase in attendance over the opening day last Monday, "When a Woman Sins," the latest super-production of Theda Bara, the screen's foremost vampire, started on its second and last week yesterday at Ray's Garden. "When a Woman Sins" is the story of a modern Magdalen, and gives the public a glimpse of a woman's soul as it stands unveiled before the shrine of luxury. Miss Bara is cast first as a student nurse, and later as a woman of the world whose only ambition is to wear fine clothes and enjoy life, regardless of the cost.

Eddy Brown Tonight.

The Eddy Brown violin recital, originally scheduled for last Thursday evening, December 5, will be given tonight at Trinity Auditorium. Tickets dated December 5 will be honored without further change at the box office.

Eddy Brown had gained a substantial reputation in Europe before he returned home three years ago; since that time he has appeared as soloist with the principal symphony orchestras of America, and in recitals throughout the East, in every instance gaining unstinted praise from the critics and the hearty approval of the music patrons.

Theda Bara,

FLASHES.

STARTS SOMETHING.

PRODUCERS SORE BECAUSE ALL FILMS MUST BE CUT.

By Grace Kingsley.

When a certain well-known exhibitor made the statement, in print, last week, that he had to cut most of the pictures he shows, he certainly started something among the directors.

One of the best-known directors—perhaps the most famous of them all—stated yesterday that the first exhibitor who cut anything from one of his films would, if detected, be sued by him.

"Supposing," said this famous director, "a bookdealer should suddenly decide that some of his books didn't fit his shelves, and so thought he'd cut them down to fit. That would be on a parallel with the action of some of the exhibitors in cutting our pictures."

Thereby hangs a long tale. I saw a picture the other day, in which the heroine fainted away, away off in a forest all by herself. The next time I saw her she was safe at home with no explanation of how she got there. Another one I saw showed the hero, lonely and adrift on the desert, and presto! the next time we see him he's seated on a perfectly good steed which must have sprung up from the ground!

Word comes that in a certain upstate town in New York, where "The Great Love" was being shown, bad cutting revealed Lillian Gish in a burning room, in one scene—from which, according to the picture, she never was extricated!

Lila Lee to Return.

Orpheum.

Great variety characterizes the bill at the Orpheum this week—something for every taste, as the cannibal said when he stewed the missionary.

And, speaking of missionaries, if Eva Tanguay becomes one—and adopts the wild regions—as she promises—or threatens—she will, at least, as Wally Reid remarked the other night, be good eating!

Miss Tanguay remains the headliner, with two or three new songs and her former bewildering repertoire of gowns. She's her old self again this week, vivid, radiant and charming.

I'll bet "Honey" is the little blonde one! I'm talking about those engaging southern girls, the Campbell sisters, and their delightfully clubby little singing-banjo-piano-playing act, with which they win their way right into your heart. Those old southern songs of theirs—say, they wouldn't sound the same sung by anybody else—they'd be like mint julep without the mint.

Al Herman is back among us with his trick cigar and the line of kidding which has only one reason for getting by as it does, and that is—Al Herman! He kids the audience, too, and makes 'em like it. The w. k. Billie Bletcher came in for his share yesterday afternoon.

There's so little dancing on the bill that the graceful efforts of the Ford sisters were doubly welcome. Arthur Anderson obliges at the piano while the girls are out changing their dresses, and shares honors with them. Their most unique number is the Billposters; the military number is timely, but it's the truly wonderful jigging and buck-and-wing stuff that brings down the house.

An impressive and artistically-presented act, as well as a timely one, is the allegorical one, "All for Democracy," in which various of our national heroes figure, including George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Ulysses S. Grant while President Wilson is represented as merely listening to the others make speeches.

James C. Morton and company present what they call a comic travesty, "the company" consisting of three girls. They dance and kid and please the house.

Clune's Broadway.

It's rather an odd trick of fate which causes us to see the late Harold Lockwood for the last time in a role in which he plays the part of one returned from the dead, as he does in that capital comedy drama, "Pals First," which is on view at Clune's Broadway. And, it's a matter of congratulation with us who knew and were fond of the popular film idol that his last role was one that fitted his talents so well, and that he did the very best work of his career in the part.

What stage play ever was written which adapted itself better to the screen than has "Pals First"? I don't know of one. It is so full of breathless incident and poignant situation—as when the Squirrel comes back and accuses the Pals before their enemy of their crimes—its mysteries deepen so absorbingly, to the final delicious denouement, when—but, it wouldn't be fair to tell you. Only you mustn't miss this picture if you like to see all that is best of pictures of this kind stand for.

Garrick.

A nice fat show for a thin dime is that offered by the Garrick, where two features, also a news film and comedy are being given. Whoever thought of stories so delightful as did that kindly humorist, O. Henry? "Everybody's Girl" has been expanded by Vitagraph into a five-reel story of exquisite charm, in which Alice Joyce plays the name part. The essence of the warm, vibrant human O. Henry genius, is in this story, which has been transferred to the screen without loss of the original spirit.

Probably you know the story—and repetitions of stories are tiresome, anyhow—but just to refresh your memory, the characters are those of two worldly wise and delightfully slangy shop girls, denizens of Brick Dust Row, who have to meet their friends on the streets, because there's no parlor in their boarding-house, and of the rich young fellow who discovered that Coney Island wasn't vulgar after all, but it was the real idealists who frequented it—"Fairyland gone into vaudeville," as O. Henry describes it.

The other feature is a corking crook story, "Get-away Kate," in which Helene Chadwick plays the leading role. A pretty girl crook escapes her captors, takes refuge in the garden of a rich man, who confesses he, too, was once a fugitive from justice.

FILMS.

"THE FORBIDDEN CITY."

A VIVID PICTURE OF ORIENTAL LIFE AT TALLY'S.

By Antony Anderson.

Kipling once made the broad declaration that East and West shall never meet. But sometimes they do, nevertheless—and when they do, the devil's to pay. West, in the shape of an impressionable young fellow from the American Embassy, met East, a fascinating little Chinese girl, in George Scarborough's photoplay, "The Forbidden City," and thus the tragedy started, almost repeating itself in the next generation, for the half-cast daughter of the union also met an impressionable young American, who was ward of the first, and who was also in the Embassy.

The pictures are being shown at Tally's Broadway this week, with Norma Talmadge and Thomas Meighan in the leading roles. It is one of the best things ever presented by Miss Talmadge, a photoplay full of color, of passion, of poignant pathos and tender beauty. Miss Talmadge assumes the two roles of San San and her daughter, Toy. In the first her make-up is remarkable, and she differentiates the two characters with the most exquisite discrimination. Meighan, too, shows his versatility as an actor when he offers us the same man at different periods, buoyant youth and serious middle age. A character of picturesque power is given us by Rogers Lytton, whose Emperor is one of the most striking figures ever seen in pictures. There are genuine Chinese actors in "The Forbidden City," and on the whole the casting is unusually well done.

The whole play, indeed, is quite unusual in setting, even if the story reminds you irresistibly of "Madam Butterfly," and the music that accompanies it at Tally's is cunningly arranged to heighten the glory and deepen the gloom of the plot.

But alas! we note bad spelling and bad grammar in the subtitles. For instances, "Manilla" and "He came to take instructions in Chinese." What instructions? Why, lessons in the language. Our motion-picture producers seem to be shy of editors.

"The Law of the North."

An unusually clever bit of melodrama has been written for Charles Ray, that most delightful of screen juveniles. And Charles Ray deserves good stories every time, for no one in pictures gives us the very spirit of ingenuous youth so pertectly as he. To be sure, "The Law of the North" is somewhat superficial and hackneyed in plot, and the characters are plainly "stocks," but the story moves with such rapidity, and Charles Ray's Alain de Montcalm, nicknamed L'Aiglon, since his father was known as L'Aigle (The Eagle,) has so much charm that we forget to be too critical.

It is an Ince production, and is shown at Grauman's. The photography is wonderful, full of light and beauty. Once in a while, to be sure, there is too much light as in the room of Virginie de Montcalm, which is supposed to be illuminated by nothing but a candle (we see how blow it out, yet great light still remains.) Que voulez-vous? Since one can't have everything, it appears, even from the most intelligent of directors, let us be thankful for the good things we get. And we get a great deal in "The Law of the North"—a thrilling story, excellent acting, many wonderful pictures of snowy fields at noon, at night and at dusk.

Ray is always well supported, and thus the ensemble of his pictured story never suffers. It is finely complete. In this photoplay we have such sterling actors as Robert McKim, Charles French, Manuel Ojeda, Doris Lee and Gloria Hope.

"Kiss or Kill!"

High romance clings to Herbert Rawlinson. He always gets away with it in such flying colors that his many admirers (of whom I am one, almost two) hope he will never get away from it. He belongs in that atmosphere, he fills the canvas perfectly.

What though "Kiss or Kill," which is showing at the Superba this week, is a tissue of the most amazing, the most delightful improbabilities? We who glory in romance, who eat it up whenever spread out for our delectation, would not have it otherwise. If you make it probable you turn it into realism, the flattest and most unprofitable of fares for the delicate palate of the imaginative man.

The hero of "Kiss or Kill," young Jack Warner, is described as just an average young man, but he proves himself to be something far beyond that when the opportunity for adventure is thrust upon him. He rises to the bait as a nimble trout to a golden hook, and he wins money and a bride and no end of glory—all in twenty-four hours. (The dramatic unities of Ibsen and the Greeks are closely followed here, as you see, and they were also observed in "The Law of the North," mentioned above.)

Warner becomes a crook, willynilly, but only for a night, and he steals money and a girl and a lost will. Which is going some, even for Herbert Rawlinson. Priscilla Dean is the girl—and who can blame him for his precipitation in love? Alfred Allen and other good actors support the two.

If you want thrills and laughs go to see "Kiss or Kill."

"The Lady of the Dugout."

When merry Robin Hood dwelt in Sherwood Forest, an outlaw, plundering the rich and helping the friendless, motion pictures "just wasn't." Therefore we have to confine ourselves to reading of him and his merry men.

With Al Jennings and his sentimental brother, Frank, it will be different a thousand years from today. Their outlaw deeds; the little acts of humanity they did not foreswear with respectibility; perhaps a bit of the romance of the outlaw heart, are immortalized on celluloid, and are now shown at the Mason.

In "The Lady of the Dugout," a romance of outlawry that might well stand with those of Outlaw Hood's, Al Jennings, former "stick-up" man, "ex-con," late of the evangelistic platform, and now a scenario writer and movie actor, lives over incidents for the immortal eye of the camera and the critical eye of the public.

Which said public, even though critical, evidenced its keen appreciation of this first offering. "The Lady of the Dugout" is simple in plot, and beautiful, too. There are touches in "business" and "props" that make it invaluable as history of a certain period in a certain section of our country. And there is none, absolutely none, of the aimless and monotonous chases over hill and dale that have identified the 5-cent "western" thriller as a movie bromide.

It is real stuff that Al gives us, and even if he does precede the screen entertainment with a lengthy preface, a la Bernard Shaw, albeit delivered in person, we forgive all and say, "Shake, old man! You've got the real dope!"

Charles Meredith,

New Morosco matinee idol, in "Pals First."

CATE CASE TODAY.

Hearing of testimony in the trial of Attorney Clyde E. Cate, charged with embezzlement of $400 from Mrs. Ines L. Wilcox, will begin this morning before Superior Judge Frank R. Willis. A jury for the trial was obtained just before closing of court yesterday. It is alleged in the complaint that Mr. Cate received $700 from Mrs. Anna Shields to pay on a mortgage held by Mrs. Wilcox, and that Mr. Cate held $600 and paid the balance on account.

SHRINE CHARITY BALL IS TOMORROW NIGHT.

GREAT AFFAIR TO AID STRICKEN OF THE CITY TO BE HELD AT FEZ TEMPLE.

Postponed from Thanksgiving eve on account of the flu ban, the twelfth Shriners' Christmas ball, a great charity event, will open at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening at Shrine auditorium.

LeRoy Edwards will be in charge of the floor committee, and there will be all the dancing anyone could desire. Leo V. Youngworth, chairman of the reception committee, will be at the door to greet the arriving throngs.

Letters received at Shrine headquarters, No. 332 South Spring street, show serious conditions as a result of the flu. Many cases are reported daily, which show families, ordinarily able to care for themselves, in pitiful conditions. Wage-earners have been idle, whole families have been bedridden, debts have piled up and a cheerless and destitute Christmas faces more families this year than ever before.

One letter says: "I am a little boy 9. Have three sisters older and three younger. I have had the flu and am not able to go to school yet. My father is just getting over the flu and not able to work, and my mother is in bed with pneumonia, leaving us without any Xmas unless you give us some."

Special appeal is made for men's clothing, used suits, shoes, trousers and shirts, as requests for these are very great, and headquarters has received very few donations of this kind. All clothing is needed in the work.

COLORED HISTORIANS.

A mass meeting of colored people was held last evening at the Westlake M. E. Church to organize a colored way history committee for this city, to be affiliated with similar organizations throughout the State. Officers elected were: President, Rev. A. P. Shaw; vice-president, Rev. C. P. Jones; secretary, Rev. G. P. Brown; treasurer, Rev. C. T. Cleghorn; city historian, Mrs. G. E. Offutt; fiscal agent, W. H. Sanders. A large crowd was present and much enthusiasm displayed.

BRING BACK MY BONNIE.

About seventy-five thousand women workers now in France are due to return at once. Seeing the girls home should continue to be the most popular of outdoor sports.

PREPAREDNESS NOTE.

The War Department of our beloved land announces that it has over four million overcoats on hand. The administration is prepared for a hard winter; but how about the rest of us?

LEAVE IT TO SHANKS.

Gen. Shanks has charge of the task of getting the American soldier home after he has arrived from France. It has an ominous sound and rather suggests a long walk, but we are assured that there is nothing to it.

NEEDING A GOAT.

The supply of goats in Germany increased nearly three million within the year. Heaven knows they will need a lot of them in the finish, but it is understood that the Crown Prince was not included in these figures.

RUSH ORDERS.

During the war rush a shipload of soldiers or supplies sailed for France every quarter of an hour. A fifteen-minute service to the world's battlefield beats all commutation records ever heard of. Shows what business and system can do when they put their heads together.

WHOSE THUNDER?

President Wilson has no patent on a League of Nations. Neither can he claim priority of discovery. The thought is old. Gen. Harrison Gray Otis amplified it and prepared the most practical and cohesive plan that has thus far been offered. Likewise it is of record that early in 1916, when President Wilson was still striving to keep America from foreign entanglements and alliances, the United States Senate passed a resolution authorizing and requesting the President—after a peace had been reached—to invite the nations of the earth into a conference for the purpose of forming a world-wide league. The resolution provided that the President should designate nine representative citizens as the delegates of America to such a gathering, which should be sponsored by the Congress of the United States. Now the President seems disposed to go ahead and form a league on his own hook, or at least without giving any credit or recognition to the Senate. The President can on occasion take the advanced opinions of others and send them forth arrayed in his own impressive livery. To this there is no objection, for it is nice to think of the Executive as representing the best thought of the people. But when he boldly goes to the Senate thunder box and flicks forth its choicest and most resonant bolts it becomes a different matter. The Senators will not remain dumb while they are being touched for their best-loved possessions.

BINDING UP THE WOUNDS.

Removed as we in this city are from war-scarred Europe, we are apt to forget the serious conditions surrounding the repatriates in France and Belgium. Two of the "drives," as they have come to be called, which are now in progress here should recall to us that our duty to humanity has not yet been discharged. The Red Cross membership campaign and the movement to send Christmas stockings to the fatherless children of France are both undertakings which should enlist our heartiest responses.

It is estimated that 350,000 homes in France have been wrecked, and no longer exist. More than 1,000,000 Frenchmen have been killed. The end of the war thus adds a great emphasis to the vast importance of very small persons in that country. Children more than ever before become a primary national asset. France in larger measure than any other great warring country has lost lives in two ways during the last four terrible years of bloodshed and suffering. These losses have been on the battlefield and in the inevitable and enormous increase in infant mortality. There is just one way partially to counteract such losses, and that is by the saving of life among the children.

Popular interest has for a long time centered on the insistent and dramatic demands for winning the war. With the war now won, a realization is crystallizing that of all the people in the devastated countries the children now count the most. For those of us who will have our soldier relatives and friends back in safety, there can hardly be a more touching thank offering than that we should, vicariously at least, take one little French orphan under our care at Christmas time.

LOS ANGELES LEADS THE WAY.

The $5,000,000 hotel group promised for this city within the next year is the largest single after-war construction enterprise of a private nature so far announced anywhere. With its forty-three acre site in the Wilshire district it will cover more ground than any other hotel in the world. Its erection will give this city three instead of its present two "greatest" claims. Los Angeles is now the largest city in area in the United States; in Griffith Park it has the largest municipal playground in the country; and the new hotel will cover more area than any other hostelry.

If anything were needed to emphasize the assured stability of Los Angeles's remarkable growth this great hotel project supplies it. For the new hotel is not designed for tourists in particular, but as a home hotel for Los Angeles itself, with a school for the children of people living there, with an auditorium and social-center facilities and other advantages to appeal to permanent residents. It is plain that the projectors of the enterprise feel certain that this city of over 600,000 population has reached a point where its growth to 1,000,000 within two or three years no longer can be doubted.

The romance and the beauty inseparably associated with Southern California will find their embodiment in the great group of hotel buildings. As Los Angeles, in its growth, has been the wonder city of the world, so the great Wilshire district project will introduce a new wonder note in city hotel architecture. How different it will be from the great hotels of the cities of the East, which have to go twenty or more stories skyward to see the sunlight and depend upon their roof gardens for their touch of nature! In this city of splendid expanses we can take our nature where nature lies. The gardens, the casino, the tea rooms and other adjuncts of the great hotel will be on the ground, yet losing nothing of the sun's stimulating smile nor of the inspiration of wonderful scenery. All the charm that is California may be seen from the hotel's various vantage points.

While the hotel is not to be built especially for tourists, it is inevitable that it will attract large numbers of easterners. Men who have lived where the battle of life has been strenuous and climatic conditions trying have learned to make California their resting and recreation ground. These in ever-increasing numbers will seek to slip away from the struggle with unkind nature to the gentler mood of the Southland. The proximity of this city to mountain, canyon, foothill, forest, seashore and island is a magnet which, with the end of the war and the building here of a great and luxurious home-hotel, will attract new thousands to this city, many of them to become permanent residents.

It is a happy inspiration of the designers to follow Italian lines in the architecture of the main buildings, with thirty or more bungalows on the intervening spaces. Southern California generates naturally the same spirit that has made of the Italians a nation of artists and art lovers, and Italian architecture fits appropriately into our scenic background. As we have here gardens all the year, flowers, shrubs and trees are a stable factor in the beautification of buildings, of which we can make use to an extent possible in only a few localities. As it has been poetically phrased:

More perfect than a string of pearls
We hold the full days of the year;
The dawn troop by like flower girls,
And all the days are ours here.
Full tide each day the year can give.

These climatic and scenic perfections will be displayed in a continuous Los Angeles "exposition" at the new hotel. Easterners who heretofore have tarried mostly at big tourist resorts elsewhere, visiting this city only for a few days, will, after its completion, be able to make the metropolis of the Southwest their headquarters. This in nowise will impair the business of our many handsome commercial hotels, which at each recurring season of heavy travel find their accommodations overtaxed. In every way the new hotel will be a big asset to the city, and, incidentally, it is to be expected, of ultimate handsome profit to its builders.

OUTGROWTH OF LABOR UNIONISM.

New appeals have been made to the Allies for intervention in Russia, Austria and parts of Germany to quell the wild disorders of Bolshevist anarchy. The Red Terror has become a menace that cannot be ignored. Americans are slow to realize its significance, for the reason that we cannot conceive that the populations of any of the great nations are incapable of governing themselves. A century and a quarter of self-government, with its free schools and uncensored educational institutions, has brought the level of intelligence in this country to a height that the sophistries of the reds cannot attain. But conditions in Petrograd, in Berlin and in Vienna offer a proof that their middle classes are not able to combat successfully the spread of Bolshevism and that, if help does not come from without, the whole social and economic fabric will be destroyed.

Bolshevism has reigned undisputed in Petrograd for twelve months. Latest reports are to the effect that the population of the city has dwindled from 2,000,000 persons to 500,000 and the upper and middle classes have disappeared. It is reported that 20,000,000 persons are starving to death in Russia under Bolshevist rule; property rights and human rights have ceased to exist; educational institutions are closed; and the country is lapsing into the semi-barbarism that marked the decadence of civilizations of former centuries. The cycle of the Dark Ages has returned.

Yesterday's dispatches from Berlin reported that in the elections to fill vacancies in the revolutionary government the places had all been captured by the soviets and that the Radical Socialists are now in full control. The Radical Socialists are of the party of Lenine and Trotzky; they are working in full accord with the Russian Bolsheviki to extend the soviet rule over the whole of Germany. "Soviets" is a Russian term for councils. To the Bolshevist councils no owner of property, no member of the middle or so-called aristocratic classes is admitted. The councils are the outgrowth of the labor-union movement in Europe. The membership is composed of those who work with their hands as opposed to those who follow intellectual pursuits; brain workers are barred. They are controlled by demagogues who conceal the fallacies of the movement under a luxuriant growth of promises.

The Red Terror is in reality a labor-union movement which has drifted into the control of the radicals. The advocates of violence to enforce demands have gained control; and its success in Russia has attracted to it all the violent elements of society. It is dominated by men of the type of Tom Mooney and the McNamaras. The conservative labor-union leaders have been deposed and the radicals are in the saddle.

Education is the only remedy for this malady. A people that has taken a course in industrial freedom and remembers its lessons is immune; but such a course was not possible in the great European despotisms where ignorance was a necessary condition to political bondage. For more than a generation The Times has uttered warnings against the danger to the republic back of labor-union violence. It has asserted that the force of disorder must be met firmly and unflinchingly by the organized forces of society. The justice of its views has received a startling demonstration.

In the confusion attendant on the fall of despotism the reds have gained temporary control of vast territories and populations. They are using that control to legalize plunder. Before reconstruction can begin self-government in which every class is represented must be restored. The same force must be directed against the Red Terror that was developed to overthrow autocracy; that force "without stint or limit," which only free peoples, submissive to lawful restraint, can exert.

IN THE DEPTHS.

A lot of these moth-eaten monarchies and defunct duchies that attempt to start out as full-fledged republics all by themselves are pretty certain to bring up in the swamp. A county government fit about what they need to begin with and after they have practiced a while they might possibly work up into a State. But to assume the dignity of a man's-sized republic is journeying too far afield for a youngster, and many miserable mistakes will be made. They should not be permitted to wander so far into error that the people will begin to wish themselves back under the yoke of the Hohenzollerns, but that is pretty certain to happen under some of the attempts at self-government where the Bolsheviki or other senseless radicals gain the upper hand. Take, for instance, the former limited monarchy of Braunschweig, or Brunswick. Although much smaller than Los Angeles, it has assumed the forms of an independent republic. It is announced that the President was, until some weeks ago, a junk buyer; the Vice-President was a juggler and vaudeville acrobat, and the Minister of Education a woman who could not write her own name. Certainly there is room there for one of the old-time musical comedies; but what sort of a showing does such an outfit make in a dignified peace conference? Is it worth while to shed blood to make the world safe for a democracy that goes slumming for its leaders? Some of these sawed-off amateur governments ought to be herded in the bush leagues for a while before being admitted to the full dignity of the majors.

The brewers always did have a way of throwing their money away in the work of propaganda, and the testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee shows that they have learned nothing by experience. Boosters of various kinds have found no easier money than that of the brewers.

Watching Them Go By.

THEY WILL SAY ANYTHING.

William Randolph Hearst telegraphed as follows to his Los Angeles Examiner and it was published therein on March 1 of this year: "I think our whole cause is likely to be injured by any delay in recognizing and supporting the Bolshevik government in Russia."

In a full-page editorial in last Sunday's Los Angeles Examiner appears the following: "To call Russia's condition of anarchy, murder and chaos a 'government' is like calling the meaningless crying and screaming of a newborn infant a 'language.' Russia is today the horror of Europe; a warning to the whole world."

Thus we have exhibit A, a full-page editorial in all of the Hearst newspapers, signed by the boss himself, praising the Bolshevik "government"(?) as the "truest democracy in Europe;" and exhibit B, a full-page editorial in the Hearst newspapers on December 3, calling the same Bolshevik government a "horror." As the saying goes, "You pays your money and you takes your choice." For another choice example before we point the moral of this essay on "Consistency, Thy Name is Hearst," recall how, since 1914, the Hearst newspapers have printed pages of news articles and editorials lying about England and belittling Great Britain's efforts to rid the world of Hearst's late friend, William Hohenzollern. Yet, last Saturday the Los Angeles Examiner Zeitung outraged its pro-German and Sinn Fein friends by printing at the top of the first page in colors a British flag!

Do you recall the town drunkard who always pretended to swear off the demon rum every time a revival came along? Everyone smiled at his eleventh-hour protestations of sincerity. And so the public is wise to the Hearst papers, the sots of American journalism, staggering on to their inevitable finish.

"DO UNTO OTHERS."

Courtesy is almost unvarying in the A.E.F.—in the offices of R.T.O.'s, A.P.M.'s, everywhere, in fact, where soldiers are serving their fellow soldiers. The Golden Rule seems to be observed as if it were a general order.

Sometimes, however, when a soldier sees a soldier reveling in brief authority and misusing it, he wishes there might fall to this man what they say came to a lieutenant in a certain A.E.F. rest area.

The story is that this lieutenant was bossing a detail when a mild-looking gentleman in a derby hat walked around a corner and inquired politely:

"Lieutenant, what part do you happen to be playing in the war?"

"I am the supply officer of the Umptieth battalion!" retorted the officer with combative dignity, as if scenting a chance to bawl somebody out. "And who is it wants to know?"

"I am the Secretary of War," said the man in civilian clothes.—[Stars and Stripes.

THE THRIFT OF YEARS.

Every man should strive to live at least 100 years and die all hitched up in working harness. Many a man feels that he would like to retire at about 60 and spend the rest of his years with nothing to do but lead a gold-headed cane around by the hand. It is thrifty to stay on the job just as long as possible. Every man should make the century plant his favorite flower and the undertaker his worst enemy!—[Thrift Magazine.

WHAT GOES UP MUST COME DOWN.

Gen. Sir David Henderson watched a young cadet aviator who showed signs of trepidation while preparing for his first flight.

"Don't be nervous, man," said Sir David. "You'll come down again. There's no known instance of an airplane not alighting."—[Chicago News.

THE DAY.

Written by Katherine Elspeth Oliver in Liberty Fair Week.

[The Germans were wont to drink a pledge to "Der Tag"—the day when the Huns should dominate the world.]

The day—the day!
Fling out the flags! Play, bands!
Fill the free air with blare of trumpets
Rout care, and those old, hourly fears that clutched
The heart! The price is paid—laid is the hideous
Threat. Forget the yesterday of pain—out,
Out with the flags!

Flags of the four—the mighty
Brothers, and those others, sealed
With the kinsmanship of that hard cup
Of blood and death; bond of those
Who held, nor asked for respite
Till the task was done.

The day—the day!
Not that day pledged by a fool
And the son of a fool—not that infamy
Drunk by his haughty lords, not the drevell
Of his Rhenish swine, with jowls fat from the bread
Of babes! Not the day when the world
Should be won to the Hun!

But our day—ours—
Whom this boaster thought
To o'erride—to stride 'cross
The world in his clanking spurs—awe the Universe—make lackeys of free men, cause honor
To cater to knaves; of the steel of good men
Make a tool for his villainies—
Oh! the fool! Our day, spoke
By the voice of belching guns—the doom
That runs in the withering flames; the death that rains
In the winged lead—the steel of an outraged host

Unfurl the flags! Make way,
For the parades. Bring out the drums—
Raise sound—to reach the world around—the saved
World, where the swift, fierce stroke of the Avenging strong, in name of hellish wrong
Girt with eternal right, made fight-victorious—
On tyranny. Night of the ages, gone! Say
To the whole world: "The day—kind God—
The day has come!"

RIPPLING RHYMES.

EARLY SHOPPING.

"We'll do our Christmas shopping early," said Kaiser Bill to Eitel Fritz, "so when I've made my mustache curly, we'll go up town and blow two-bits. It is a time for stern retrenching, we can't spend lavishly, that's sure, while hunger, like a fiend, is wrenching the vitals of our German poor. Some simple gifts—none ostentatious—for friends who have been leal and true; our giving these will seem as gracious as though a lot of marks we blew. A can of ox-tail soup for Ludy, who let the tail go with the hide, will cheer him up, who is now moody, since he saw all his triumphs slide. For Tirpitz, too, soup would be fitting—the kind that's made of navy beans; he spilled our beans and sent hope flitting when he sent forth his submarines. Mock turtle soup we'll given to Hinden, for he's a mockery, the dub; we thought him bigger than a linden, and find him smaller than a shrub. Beef soup will do for Kronprinz Freddy, for he will beef where he should fight; we might have won this war, already, had we but kept him out of sight. A can of soup for every fellow, clam chowder is the stuff for Max, for it's a sort of sickly yellow, and tastes a lot like liquid wax. Come, let us go and see the grocer, and buy what soup he has in stock, before the Allied guns draw closer and shoot the helmet from my block."

WALT MASON.

MERCY FOLLOWS THE FLAG.

The American Red Cross follows closely on the heels of the American soldiery as it moves across Alsace and Luxemburg upon German soil. The Red Cross extends its merciful aid not only to the injured but to the suffering. Germans are already the recipients of its mercy in food and clothing.

The German has not aroused the sympathy of Americans by his sudden and shrill calls for help. It was only a few weeks ago that he was boasting that he could hold out forever. It was only a few months ago that his hatred of America and his avowed determination to punish America as he has punished every other country that has come into his power was his daily prayer. He has not won so soon the confidence of the world in his honesty of statement or intention. We trust him to be good when a gun is leveled at his head.

We shall decline to take his word for anything until he has given substantial testimony of repentance. We shall decline to take chances with him until we are convinced that he has abandoned his criminal designs and put under permanent restraint his criminal impulses. We will help him with the necessaries of life so far as it is safe and so far as it does not involve robbing those who have prior call upon our generosity. We should, in short, keep the almoners of mercy behind, not in front, of the army of occupation.—[Syracuse Post-Standard.

THE MISSIONARY.

BY OLIVER TOWNE.

It has been suggested that the Peace Conference provide an open door for missionaries. It is urged that when the League of Nations gets to working on full time it shall be guaranteed that the humble but zealous missionary shall find a welcome and protection in every corner of the earth.

But sometimes that is not what the missionary wants. There is about him a good deal of the crusader spirit that thrives on contest and controversy. He doesn't want the barbarian to come joyously in and join the church on the strength of a dalatly-engraved invitation. He wishes first to beat the infidel to a pulp and then persuade him to accept his especial brand of faith instead of having his ears cut off. He wants to bump him into the fold.

There's a militant hint in almost every creed and enthusiasts have ever gone forth into the world with the book in one hand and the sword in the other. Some of the church's favorite hymns are songs of battle and of strife. Many of old earth's liveliest scraps have been in the name of a creed, and men have sailed through bloody seas to plant the standard of a faith.

The missionary spirit is still strong in America. Inspired ones are eager to gain the outposts of the world—in fact, some of them are so eager to reach the frontiers of civilization that they miserably fail to keep the home fires burning. They want to minister to the Kaffirs or the Zulus, but they forget all about Hollywood and Boyle Heights, where an example of faith and good works might really be of enduring value.

Now that the war is closing the missionary spirit seems strongly revived. With some it doesn't seem to make much difference where they go so long as they get there. For two or three years it has been hard to get out of the country, and so this slump in brand-plucking must be corrected. There are well-intentioned women who have wished that they might go as missionaries to Germany! Probably they do not forget that Uncle Sam already has a husky army of champions of the faith in that field so much as that they would like to be with them. They would follow the wake of war. They argue that by reaching the homes and the home life of the German people and bearing a message of hope they would best express the attitude of their country as well as the faith they serve.

Exactly what the Germans would think of Milwaukee and St. Louis sending missionaries to Dresden and Leipsic they do not care to consider. If they can't go to Germany maybe they can visit France or Belgium and minister to the minds and bodies of those who have suffered. Anywhere but Pasadena and Santa Barbara.

It is noticed that the average soldier and sailor man is not noisily enthusiastic over the missionaries of his country. Naval officers stationed in the Far East have been heard to say that some of them are doing more harm than good and that their own petty denominational jealousies bring discredit to the entire Christian religion. The missionary is not often a diplomat and sometimes he embarrasses his country when he exercises zeal instead of tact.

Speaking of an open door for missionaries, a naval officer recently out from China declared that it would be fair all around if the disciples of Confucius and Buddha were given equal opportunity to convert Boston and Providence, and that the Pharisees should be welcomed in Pittsburgh provided the fire Insurance rates were not raised. He said that if any League of Nations ever touched the missionary problem there should be a civil service as well as a theological examination, and that the candidate should be assigned to the field wherein it was figured that he could best serve his country as well as his cause. He would never permit a missionary to go where he did not understand the language and the customs of the people. He even grew sarcastic about it and said that the safest thing of all would be to have a clearinghouse of missionaries at The Hague where the champions of all creeds might be stationed. There the Brahmins and the Baptists might patiently strive to convert one another while the Mahometans and the Methodists waited in the anteroom for their turn. Every now and then the averages could be given out as they are in the big leagues. He thought in this way a good deal of international embarrassment might be avoided and at the same time no champion or cause could complain of not having had a square deal.

All in the Day's Work.

In the Country Club at Ottawa there was a woman who assisted the cook by peeling potatoes. She had a son who was at the front. For extraordinary gallantry he was personally decorated by King George with the Military Cross.

A self-appointed committee of women members of the club went out into the kitchen to inform the mother of the event and to congratulate her upon her son's valor.

"Isn't it wonderful!" said one of them. "Three times your son went out into No Man's Land under heavy fire and brought in wounded men."

The answer of the mother shows that in Canada they seem to take heroism very much for granted.

"I always knew Jimmy had a strong back," she remarked, and resumed her task of peeling the potatoes.—[Philadelphia Ledger.

PEN POINTS

BY THE WAY

Things are starting.

It's to be a great year for Los Angeles.

Yes, the name of the President of the United States is spelled with two "l's"—Marshall.

The British forces have reached Cologne. From there they will probably move on to Limburg.

In spite of the dry laws there will still be a lot of trouble over the kinds brewed in the country.

With Gen. Bliss as one of the American peace delegates, there ought to be no friction among the delegates.

With government control of all utilities everybody would be worst of it but the "army of the employed."

Four kings, it is announced, repay the visit of President Wilson to this country the coming year; in that case we shall give the American aces.

Uncle Sam has offered to help settle the troubles between Czecho-Slovaru. Has he become the world's neighborhood policeman for the settlement of the world?

The delegates at the peace table will have something to do besides chalking down the score, as those who lost the last game of pinochle stuck for the drinks.

What a ducking of heads there was following the laying of cornerstones before the Senate Investigating Committee by A. Mitchell Palmer and Louis Post of the Department of Labor.

Would it surprise you to learn that all of the points involved in the meat of the peace settlement had been settled before President Wilson even reached the shores of France?

"Hail Ebert as German leader," so runs a headline. It sounds like a famous line in the poem entitled "1492," how dare the German people call Ebert when the soldiers' and workmen's councils of Berlin are reigning?

Gen. March says he will have all citizen soldiers back in the United States within four months. The official declaration of peace by Germany means they will be at home in time for a glass of "beaux."

It looks as if Secretary Daniels is telling the cold truth when he says that he will not be a candidate for the Presidency in 1920. He informed the public long ago that there is a limit to the number of times a man can be elected President.

Lloyd George says that the world was saved by England and the American soldiers and sailors. Admiral Davy does not say that the United States government is demanding payment of $130 for every soldier transported—to save the world for the Allies.

We should not allow Germany again to sink to the deplorable level of helplessness that marked the decade preceding the war. There is hope for the future of the world's millennium, but until it has arrived we shall need soldiers and sailors and marines to protect the country from invasion and spoliation.

The government has fixed the price of the wheat growers will receive, and England goes to the trouble of buying all the wheat at $2.50 per bushel. Johnny Bull buys at $2.50 and sells for more; we shall have to pay $3.50 for our own use—at $2.20 a bushel. Even the humble cup runneth over and the cup of woe is expensive; we have a bushel of wheat, and it is plenty to pay.

When Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is received at the English court she will repeat itself. She is a lineal descendant of Princess Pocahontas, ruler of all the Indian tribes on the Potomac region in 1608. Pocahontas married John Rolfe, a prominent citizen of the Virginia Colony, and accompanied him to England, where she was the guest of the court and Queen and ladies of the court. Pocahontas died in England about to return to America, and was buried in England at the side of her husband.

A PEACE SONG.

Sing not the praise of Victory
Their songs are sung no more,
But sing the ways of Peace
Of peace and rest from shore to shore:
A single day of heaven is worth
A thousand years of earth.

My native land! In days of yore
But not the pomp of war
But of the fields and woods and streams
Us peace and wealth bestow thanks
To Him whose bounty makes them flow.

The mother breast doth overflow
The fields again
No stern alarms nor battle
Disturbs the quiet
A Holy Presence
To heal the wounds

So let us climb the hill
Let "Peace" be
Before our eyes to
This world long
woe:
A single day of heaven is worth
A thousand years of earth.

SHOPLIFTERS PLYING TRADE.

Nimble-Fingered Ones Annoy Beach Merchants.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Dec. 9.—Taking advantage of the present time to operate on an elaborate scale because of the less risk of being observed on account of the holiday throngs that are now crowding the downstown stores, shoplifters have become unusually active in this city the past few days.

As a result the local merchants have employed a corps of special store detectives to break up the gang, the leader and most clever member of which is a woman with three hands, who is reported to have been particularly active the past week. Wearing a muff from which protrudes a gloved false hand, this crook lays her muff down over the article which she has selected to steal, and works it up through the bottom of the muff, which is open, with her real hand.

Other women with hooks on the inside of large coats are said to be getting away with considerable loot, while many are even stooping to the old and time-worn umbrella system, where they apparently accidentally slip an article off the counter into the top of an umbrella they hold conveniently near-by. Clerks are practically all said to be onto this latter scheme, and many women are being caught trying the parasol trick.

Local mercantile proprietors, who say they will prosecute to the very limit every shoplifter caught in order to discourage the practice, declare that nine-tenths of the thieves are either boys from the age of 10 to 15 years, or old women in their second childhood, from 60 years on, the latter being in the majority. Police Judge Hawkins stated today that he will co-operate with the merchants by exercising his authority to the fullest extent in dealing with this class of thieves.

ELECTED COMMANDER.

J. T. Bangham was today elected Commander of the local post, No. 181, Grand Army of the Republic, at the annual meeting and election of officers. Other officers elected were: W. F. Boges, Senior Vice-Commander; H. Davis, Junior Vice-Commander; L. B. Palmer, Quartermaster; J. C. Magee, Chaplain; J. P. Carlin, Surgeon; Barney Brown, Officer of the Day; J. E. Emmenin, Officer of the Guard.

BEACH SCHOOLS OPEN.

Long Beach city schools opened today with an 80 per cent. enrollment after having been closed for a period of two months on account of the influenza epidemic. School officials expressed gratification at the first day's showing in the turnout of the pupils. High School football practice will not be resumed for two weeks yet.

BAY CITIES REPORT EPIDEMIC WORSE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA BEACH, Dec. 9.—The City Council this morning voted to enforce a drastic quarantine of houses where there are cases of influenza. This afternoon policemen under the direction of Mayor Berkley, who is head of the health department, tacked influenza signs on sixty-five houses. There were fifteen new cases reported today. Doctors say that the epidemic is worse now than at any time since October 1. As yet there has been no move to close amusements.

A HOME RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR

How to Make an Inexpensive Mixture That Will Darken Streaked or Faded Gray Hair.

Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately made black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

Merely get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for mixing and use come in each box.

You need not hesitate to use Orlex, as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex powder does not contain silver, lead, zinc, sulphur, mercury, aniline, coal-tar products or their derivatives.

It does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger.

"Cured a 'Grouch' by Internal Baths"

Mr. Joseph A. Wells writes Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York as follows:

"On the 15th of June, 1915, I purchased a 'J. B. L. Cascade.' The results it has produced are simply marvelous. For 20 years I used cathartics, but have used nothing but the Cascade for almost a month. I feel like a new man; I want to be pleasant to everybody. Before I used the Cascade I was a grouch. Did not like anybody and could not be pleasant."

If you bathe intervally with the "J. B. L. Cascade" you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable. Poisonous waste in the lower intestines makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal baths are Nature's own cure for constipation—just antiseptic warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

It is produced by Chas. A. Tyrrell, M. D., of New York, who has specialized on Internal Bathing for 25 years, and will be shown and explained to you by The Owl Drug Co., who will also be glad to give free on request an interesting booklet called "Why Man of Today is Only 50 per cent. Efficient," which covers the subject in a very thorough way.

Clip this out as a reminder, and ask for the booklet the first time you are in the neighborhood of an Owl Drug Store. —[Advertisement.

BARNACLE SOUP ADDED TO MENU.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Dec. 9.—Barnacle soup is the latest concoction prepared by the marine chefs of this city for delectation of the Southern California public. It has taken its place alongside clam chowder for popularity in a number of local cafes, and will be turned out in great quantities by harbor canning plants.

It is estimated that 100 tons of the soup-making material will be obtained when the barnacles and other similar sea creatures are stripped from the Pine-avenue pier piling, according to the estimate of Alva Reynolds, who has signed a contract with the city to clean the pier supports and protect them with a device which he has patented.

The Pacific Sea Food Company of this city has recently experimented successfully with barnacles as a basis for a delectable soup with a distinct marine flavor that is rapidly winning its way.

As the industry grows it is planned to contract, it is said, for the barnacles removed from the bottom of ocean-going craft that visit this port to go on dry dock for the removal of the heretofore scorned and lowly sea denizens.

SANTA ANA CANYON ROAD AGAIN CLOSED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Dec. 9.—Once again is the Santa Ana Canyon Road closed, halting travel between Orange and Riverside counties direct. A rise in the river sent water over the by-pass at Sandstone Point, above Sulphur Slide, which has been in use for several months past, while the new road was being constructed on the slope above. If the water goes down so the by-pass can be replaced it will be opened again, but if the wafer remains up, as appears likely, the canyon road will be closed until the new road is opened up a few weeks hence.

ANOTHER BARN FIRE; 24 TONS HAY GONE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Dec. 9.—Another mysterious barn fire, which destroyed twenty-four tons of hay and four sets of harness besides the barn, occurred at 3 o'clock this morning on the Andrew Cock place near Springdale. Incendiarism is blamed for the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barnes, who were living on the Cock place, were both away, and when neighbors discovered the blaze it was far beyond control. Two horses in a corral adjoining the barn, huddled in the far corner, but were singed before they could be released.

PLAN TOURNAMENT FLOAT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA BEACH, Dec. 9.—A mass meeting of civic bodies has been called for Tuesday night at the City Hall to decide what to do about participating in the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena. Two years ago the Santa Monica float captured first prize in its class. Mayor Berkley favors entering a float this year as he believes it is good publicity for any community. The Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce will probably push the plan to have a large representation of beach people at the New Year's Day event in Pasadena.

DIDN'T LIKE "HOOKEY."

Thirteen-Year-Old Runs Away from Salt Lake to Go to School, He Tells Police.

Lenwood Titus, 13 years old, ran away from his home in Salt Lake City so that he would not be compelled to play "hookey" from school, he told E. B. Lukens of No. 882 East Forty-seventh street, who picked the boy up in Ontario on Sunday and turned him over to the juvenile authorities here yesterday.

Lenwood told the police that he had lived with his mother, Mrs. Erma Dell Titus, a widow, at No. 122 L street, Salt Lake City, and that he left home in the latter part of October so that he "could get to go to school." His story will be investigated. Meantime he is at Juvenile Hall.

FINLAYSON TO HEAR ELECTION CONTEST.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 9.—Judge Finlayson of Los Angeles County Superior Court has been asked to hear the testimony and give judgment here in the contest of election filed against seating Judge-elect T. N. Harvey to the Superior Court bench here on January 1.

The case will be heard next Thursday in Department No. 2 of the Superior Court. The election of Harvey is contested by Judge W. W. Kaye, the incumbent, who alleges in a complaint filed by Alfred Siemon and A. E. Klein that Harvey is ineligible to office because of a tangle over his citizenship papers when he became naturalized several years ago. Harvey was formerly a Canadian, but has been in this country about fifteen years. Kaye and Klein were defeated in the election by Harvey, the latter having a majority of 200 votes.

"NO GOOD," TRIES TO DIE

Man Who Is "Sorry for All the Wrong" He has Done Attempts to Commit Suicide.

William Kelsh, 40 years old, of No. 118 South Avenue Eighteen, last night attempted to end his life by placing a revolver to his head and pulling the trigger. The bullet entered the skull, inflicting what the surgeons say may prove a fatal injury.

"I am sorry for all the wrong I have done. I don't think I am of any good to anyone in this world, so no one will miss me when I am gone. If God could only forgive me—"the man wrote in a note found by Patrolmen Lucas and Armstrong of the East Side Station when they entered the room.

At the Receiving Hospital Assistant Police Surgeon Goodrich operated in an effort to save the man's life. Kelsh is supposed to have a sister somewhere in the city.

AFFIRM FORECLOSURE AND ASSAULT RULINGS.

Affirmation of the judgment of Superior Judge Works in allowing a new trial to the defendants, in an action brought by Gilbert Schmidt against the Santa Monica Commercial Company and a number of other individuals and firms, to foreclose liens for unpaid assessments on a contract for street improvements on Elena avenue, Venice, amounting to about $6000, was given by the District Court of Appeals in a decision handed down yesterday. The proceedings were had under the Vrooman Act. The judgment in the Superior Court was in favor of Schmidt, but that court allowed a new trial, and it was from that judgment that the defendants appealed.

The District Court of Appeal affirmed the judgment of conviction in the Orange county Superior Court, against Jim Elgar, who was found guilty of making a criminal assault upon his 13-year-old step-daughter.

INVESTIGATE AIR TRAGEDY.

Officers Who Fell to Death Here May Have Fainted, Says Commandant.

Following a session which lasted nearly all Sunday night, a board of inquiry composed of Rockwell Field officers named to investigate Sunday's double air tragedy here returned to San Diego from this city yesterday afternoon. Their findings as to the causes of the fatal fall of Lieuts. Herbert N. Chaffee and Charles J. Drake were not made public, but will be sent direct to the War Department. The board was composed of Lieuts. G. McK. Moster, John B. Jaqua, and Husted, the latter a medical officer.

Col. H. B. S. Burwell, commandant of Rockwell Field, expressed the opinion last night that the accident may have been caused by one or both of the aviators fainting, thereby jamming the controls, or by both men trying to operate the machine at the same time. According to aviators, the machine controls were free when it fell. No Rockwell Field officer took any stock in the report that the lieutenants had exchanged their 'plane at Arcadia for a more powerful one with which they were not familiar, as both were among the most expert instructors on the field and each had over 400 flying hours to his credit. They had official permission to make the flight to Los Angeles and could have made a side trip to Venice, as it is thought they were doing, without exceeding that permission.

Maj. Max Fleischman, commanding the Balloon School, said yesterday that it is not unusual for visiting aviators to exchange 'planes for trial trips with other birdmen from their own fields, but that he does not know if Lieuts. Chaffee and Drake did so. He added that he has no authority over such visitors.

The Willett undertaking establishment has been instructed to ship the body of Lieut. Drake to his father, F. I. Drake of Jewel City, Kan., tomorrow. Lieut. Chaffee's funeral will probably be held from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Chaffee, No. 1111 North Los Robles avenue, Pasadena, tomorrow at 10:30 o'clock a.m. Details will be determined today. An escort from Rockwell Field will be in attendance and the services will be military in character.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The final report of the county grand jury will be ready to present to Judge Willis of Department No. 18 of the Superior Court this week, it became known yesterday. The report is nearly completed. It will embrace the work of the grand jury for the year and includes recommendations. The names for veniremen for the next grand jury will be drawn within about two weeks.

HURRY MAIL FOR CHRISTMAS.

Send Gift Parcels Early and Prepay Postage, Says Postmaster.

Postmaster Brown yesterday requested the public to mail Christmas packages early, to prepay postage fully, and to address all parcels plainly. Parcels should be carefully and securely wrapped, but not sealed, he said, as sealed parcels are subject to postage at first-class rate.

It would be well to insure parcels, the postmaster advised, the rate being as follows: Not to exceed $5 in value, a fee of 3 cents; not to exceed $25 in value, 5 cents; not to exceed $50 in value, 10 cents; not to exceed $100 in value, 25 cents.

Parcels may be marked, "Do not open until Christmas." Written inscriptions, such as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year" and "Best Wishes" are permissible, but no other writing.

NEED THE MONEY.

Labor Temple's Annual Report Shows More Outgo than Income—Hat Passed.

A plea that labor unions which shy at holding their meetings at Labor Temple move into the Maple-avenue building and help along with some necessary income was one of the features of the annual meeting last night of the Union Labor Temple Association. While the annual report showed that the Temple had taken in rentals for the year ending September 30 of $17,498.01, the expense of running the building was all of that plus $181.39.

The report of the hat passing among the unions for the purchase of stock, interest, etc., brought in $11,604.21. The bartenders reported that they had been unable to contribute as the citizens had voted them out of jobs and several unions on strike had no money for the temple. The association has liabilities of $107,614.04, and assets in the land, building and furniture, if more tenants would appear, the secretary, Mrs. Daisy A. Houck, reported.

FOR PUBLIC HEALTH.

The regular meeting of district No. 1, Southern California Organization for Public Health Nursing, will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock on the tenth floor of the Metropolitan Building. There will be an election of officers.

FUNDS FOR PORT ASSURED.

Rivers and Harbors Bill will Carry Appropriations to Aid Our Commerce.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Los Angeles' solid Democracy of the South is naturally protecting the gulf ports, and the Western Congressmen and Senators are trying hard to get a proportionate amount for the Pacific.

Congressman Osborne, who is a member of this committee, has concentrated on the really deserving ports of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, and hopes to be treated as well as the East and gulf proportionally.

New York's appropriation has been increased $1,000,000; Philadelphia, $2,000,000, and other eastern ports on the same basis and everywhere preparations are being made to care for the greatly increased ocean shipping that will follow the proclamation of peace.

It is in line with this development of port and harbor facilities and with the spending of government money where it will really aid commerce that President Wilson wrote the following letter to John H. Small, chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee and it is on this policy that Congressman Osborne hopes to get adequate funds for Los Angeles and every west coast harbor:

"Presuming, as I do," wrote the President, "that the annual River and Harbor Bill will be reported and considered in the special session of Congress, I take the liberty of writing you just a line about it. I hope that you will not think that I am taking an unwarranted privilege in suggesting a line of policy.

"Every national circumstance has combined since we entered the war to emphasize what was before that very clear in the thoughts of men who are studious of the subject, namely, that the water transportation system of the country should be developed and promoted in every legitimate way and co-ordinated, wherever possible, with the railroads and other instrumentalities of traffic. The Rivers and Harbors Bill, therefore, scientifically treated and developed, has become of more direct importance to the country than ever before.

"May I suggest, therefore, that wherever projects have been completed they should be by all means adequately maintained, and that improvements which have hitherto been authorized but not completed should be finished. I assume, of course, that appropriations made for maintenance and further improvements will not in any case be in excess of the sums recommended by the Secretary of War and the chief of engineers, the War Department through the corps of engineers being the agency which has been authorized by Congress to submit estimates.

"May I suggest also that if new projects are adopted, they should be scrutinized very carefully indeed, in order to make sure that they are in the public interest. Appropriations for the improvements of harbors and rivers can only be justified on the ground that they promote commerce. If there is not a reasonable certainty that the channels improved will be used when provided the expenditures of the public moneys cannot be justified.

"Local interests, it seems to me, should provide water terminals and the means of interchange of water traffic with connecting lines of railroad and take it for granted that we shall have to depend on private enterprise to provide river boats of a suitable type and size.

"While the nation rightly demands economy, particularly at this time, in the expenditures of the government, I think that it will justify adequate provisions for the improvements of rivers and harbors along the lines I have ventured to suggest.

"Cordially and sincerely yours,
[Signed] "WOODROW WILSON."

TO SUPREME COURT.

Highest State Body Must Decide County Counsel and District Attorney Dispute.

The formal motion of Dist.-Atty. Woolwine in Judge Jackson's court yesterday for a substitution of attorneys in the case of Ezra Stimson against the county, and the county counsel J. W. Cropp, was denied. This paves the way for taking the controversy to the Supreme Court for a decision to determine whether the county counsel or the District Attorney is entitled to handle the county's legal matters.

Judge Jackson not long ago held, when the District Attorney asked for a substitution of attorneys, in favor of the county counsel's department, on the ground that it was established by the charter. The District Attorney holds that his department is empowered as the county's legal adviser under the general law.

Dr. Carl S. Patton Given Welcome Home by Women Members of Congregation.

Dr. Carl S. Patton, pastor of the First Congregational Church, who has just returned from the French front, where he was engaged in Y. M.C.A. war work, was honor guest last evening at a reception given by the women of his congregation. Mrs. Patton shared honors with her husband. The affair, which was in the nature of a welcome home, was held in the parlors of the church. The reception room was decorated with poinsettias and potted plants and the supper room with yellow chrysanthemums and marigolds.

Among the women in charge of the affair were Mrs. Harry S. Ford, president of the Women's Society, and Mrs. Sidney M. Haskell, chairman of the committee. Three hundred guests were present. A short programme of music was given.

POSTPONE HEARING ON NATURAL GAS ISSUE.

Hearing in the United States District Court, yesterday, on the order to show cause why the temporary injunction restraining the municipality of Los Angeles from the enforcement of what is known as the natural gas ordinance voted on by the people at the November election, requiring distribution of natural gas only through pipes and mains here, went over for two weeks, on an agreement between the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the city.

SUIT TO BE RETRIED.

Death of Juror Necessitates Rehearing of Action for Alienating Affections.

With the evidence almost complete in the lost-love action of Mrs. Rhoda M. Taber against Mrs. Genie Blackman Lyman, the suit will now have to be retried because of the death of one of the jurors, J. D. Ashbaugh of Claremont. Yesterday Judge Monroe dismissed the action and ordered a new trial, to be heard by Judge Houser.

Mrs. Taber declared that Mrs. Lyman told her she loved her husband, Wendell Z. Taber, formerly a druggist of Pasadena. She charged that Mrs. Lyman and the latter's mother, Mrs. Mary Blackman, conspired to induce Mr. Taber to leave his home. The case against Mrs. Blackman was dismissed some time ago.

Mrs. Lyman is also alleged to have told Mrs. Taber that she was not a big enough woman to make Mr. Taber happy. She said she was more to make him [illegible] one else. Mrs. Lyman denied alleged statements, but admitted she had known Mr. Taber for years, and in no way attempted to leave home.

SPIRITUAL LAW RULES DISEASE.

Christian Science Lecturer Discusses Application.

Restorative Ministry Told of by Former Physician.

Power of God to Heal Said to be Available to All.

A large audience of business men and women gathered at Clune's Auditorium yesterday noon to listen to a lecture on Christian Science by Dr. John M. Tutt, C.S.B., of Kansas City, Mo. Dr. Tutt, who is a member of the board of lectureship of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., said in part:

"As one of the many who have returned from going down into the pit, I testify gladly to the power of Christian Science in my own experience. Because of the bias of medical and theological education I was for many years deprived of the benefits of Christian Science. When my eyes finally were opened I found health and spiritual awakening I had never known in the old ways of medicine and theology. I then discovered that the growth of Christian Science is due entirely to the fact that it 'meets the heart's great need' as no other system has met it.

"Throughout thirteen years of the study and practice of Christian Science, in proportion to my understanding and application of its divine principle, I have felt the abiding consciousness of God's presence and power, and have come into an ever-enlarging sense of dominion over all that is unlike good. I have experienced healing and have been witness to the healing of many others. These cases include acute and chronic conditions, functional and organic diseases, nervous and mental disorders. I have seen all types of disease and sin healed and their victims restored through spiritual power alone.

"After practicing medicine for three years I was forced to the conclusion that to ignore the spiritual man is to be unprepared to cope with the mental processes underlying the discordant manifestations we see in the physical body. Medical experience taught me, as it has taught others, that regardless of diagnosis and treatment a very large percentage of patients recover, a small proportion are unaffected, or grow worse, and a few die.

"It is significant that the earliest systems of religious philosophy made no separation between religion and medicine. The pagan gods of medicine were called upon to heal sickness, just as the gods of war were appealed to for victory, and the gods of peace for plenty. Medicine began to separate from religion as medicine became more material and religion grew less so. Material medicine had so developed into a system apart from religion, that when Jesus began his restorative ministry, and healed the sick by purely spiritual power, he was termed both by the theologians and the matter physicians a miracle worker, so unheard of had it become to invoke the healing power of God.

"The only reason mankind has not turned to God, the great physician, in the time of physical distress, is because of the material bias of its education. Mankind has been taught to look to God for salvation from sin, but to rely upon matter for the cure of matter and its dire beliefs. Because of the seeming increasing power of false material education, mankind has been unable to grasp the simplicity and adequacy of the spiritual laws of God applied to the discords of the flesh.

"Jesus knew these laws, employed them, and laid upon all Christians the injunction to imitate his healing works. It may be argued that Jesus conferred the power to heal upon his contemporary disciples only. Yet he said unequivocally: 'These signs shall follow them that believe.' But if the contention be true, how did Paul, who was not Jesus' immediate disciple, acquire the art of Christian healing? It must be admitted that Paul used none but spiritual power in his restorative ministry. The Master, alluding to his divine principle, the healing and saving Christ, said: 'Lo, I am with you always.'

"This Christ was available to Paul and he rose in spiritual consciousness to the realization of it. The power of God to heal and to save, so wondrously present with Jesus, and with the early Christians, for 200 years, is available to all today, and when understood and employed, in Jesus's way, becomes the witness of 'Christ in you, the hope of glory.'"

CHURCHES PLEDGE AID TO STRICKEN.

MINISTERS AND FLOCKS WILL RAISE BIG SUM FOR RELIEF OF ARMENIANS.

Full responsibility for the share of this city in the raising of $20,000,000 for the starving and destitute people of Armenia was assumed by the churches of the city yesterday at a meeting of the Church Federation held in the Broadway cafe, when a resolution was adopted unanimously to take up the work.

The ministers and laymen will work in co-operation with the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee for Southern California, and will organize committees and workers in every precinct. Including the Sunday-school contributions at Christmas, previously pledged, the churches will raise a minimum of $300,000 here. The drive will be held simultaneously with that of the nation-wide one from January 12 to January 19.

The adoption of the resolution yesterday was preceded by a stirring address delivered by Ex-Judge H. N. Wells, manager for Southern California of the financial drive, and was supplemented by Dr. J. P. McNaughton, executive secretary of the committee. Dr. Charles Edward Locke and Rev. J. C. Pinkerton also spoke in favor of the movement.

At previous meetings during the day the associations of ministers of the Congregational, the Presbyterian and the Baptist churches of the city passed resolutions throwing their entire weight into the financial drive.

The work will be directed in Southern California by the committee, of which Judge Curtis D. Wilbur is chairman, Charles H. Barker, secretary, J. P. McNaughton, executive secretary, and Mr. Wells.

TEACHERS WILL BE PAID TODAY.

Arrears Incurred During the Vacation to be Settled up Today.

Salaries of the school-teachers of Los Angeles city, which were held up on account of the closing of schools during the influenza epidemic, will be paid today, it was announced last night by County Superintendent of Schools Keppel.

Mrs. Keppel approved the warrants, amounting to about $420,000, yesterday, and this morning will send them to County Auditor Payne.

"The warrants will be honored," said Mr. Payne last night, "providing the new contracts have been signed. These contracts provide for the payment of specific sums covering the amounts in arrears, to each teacher."

SCIENTISTS ASK TO OPEN IN PASADENA.

SEEK INJUNCTION AGAINST FLU BAN ON GROUND THAT IT'S ILLEGAL.

Application was made yesterday to Judge Weller of the Superior Court by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Pasadena, for an injunction against the continued enforcement of the ban against public gatherings re-established in that city on November 26 on account of a recurrence of influenza conditions.

The injunction is asked for on the ground that the Pasadena closing order is "invalid, null and void, in that it is not a valid or lawful ordinance of the commission of the said city of Pasadena, as the legislative body thereof, and it is an attempt by said commission to delegate to, and by said defendant, Stanley P. Black, as Health Officer to usurp from said commission the legislative power of the said city of Pasadena."

The defendants named are the city of Pasadena as a corporation, Stanley P. Black, Health Officer; A. L. Hamilton, Allin, H. F. Newell, W. F. Crellier and H. M. Salisbury, Commissioners of the city of Pasadena, and J. W. E. McIntyre, Chief of Police of Pasadena.

The application on behalf of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Pasadena, was presented to Judge Weller yesterday by Douglas L. Edmonds, an attorney. Mr. Edmonds is first reader of Ninth Church, Los Angeles, and was one of the defendants and attorney in the test case made here.

Justice White has yet to give his decision on the cases of Mr. Edmonds and the other four defendants charged with violating the Los Angeles closing ordinance. Judge White announced before he was taken ill that he would probably rule in favor of the Scientists and against the ordinance.

G. F. Hiles is president of First Church of Pasadena, and John Nichols Van Patten is first reader. The church building is located on Oakland avenue near Colorado street.

URGED TO KEEP FLU QUARANTINE

with influenza shall be reported to the health commissioner and all such persons so affected shall be excluded from school until seven days from date of recovery, and all persons residing in the household where said disease exists shall be excluded from school for the same period of time.

"Any person from a household where influenza exists may by permission of the health commissioner be removed to an uninfected place and if after a period of seven days the person shows no sign of the disease the health commissioner may issue a permit to return to school."

IN THE COUNTY.

Supt. N. R. Martin reported to the Board of Supervisors yesterday that Jean Coggin, ambulance driver for the County Hospital, died Sunday night of influenza. Mr. Coggin had driven the ambulance for five years, and was known as a man fearless of disease. He had a splendid physique, but when the influenza attacked him all efforts to save his life proved fruitless.

Mr. Martin states that many nurses are ill with the influenza and that a large number of patients have been admitted to the hospital this week suffering from the disease than heretofore.

Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, County Health Officer, has placed the sections of the county where influenza is epidemic under quarantine. He finds that some physicians are not reporting victims of the flu, and in order to have a complete record of the epidemic, he states that physicians who fail to report cases under their charge will be charged with a misdemeanor.

FOR STEALING COCAINE.

Former Insurance Man Held to to Answer Charge of Burglarizing Drug Store.

Kenneth McKaskell, 35, said to have been at one time local manager of the accident department of the National Insurance Company, was arrested in a sanatorium at No. 1521 South Hope street, Saturday, by W. B. Luckenback of the State Board of Pharmacy, on a charge of looting the Angelus Drug Store at No. 5457 Central avenue of a quantity of cocaine on November 10, last. McKaskell was traced by the motor car which he used in the alleged robbery, and which is the property of "Dr." Hon Ching of this city, according to Mr. Luckenback.

The latter states that on a previous occasion McKaskell was arrested in company with "Dr." Ching at No. 2715 South Figueroa street and fined $200 under the Poison Act. On the present charge McKaskell was given a preliminary hearing yesterday in Police Judge Crawford's court and was bound over to the Superior Court on a felony charge.

FILM TO SHOW THE WORK OF RED CROSS.

MASS MEETING PRELIMINARY TO MEMBERSHIP DRIVE WILL BE HELD SUNDAY.

Word was received at Red Cross headquarters yesterday that the new four-reel Red Cross film depicting the actual work of this organization in France and Italy would be shown at a mass meeting to be held at Shrine Auditorium next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This film shows views of the big Red Cross warehouses, the landing wharves where the American troops entered the zone of activities in Europe and many of the other features that have never heretofore been shown on the Pacific Coast. An interesting story is woven through the entire film. Admission is free.

Chairman H. M. Haldeman announced yesterday that he expects all precinct workers and chairmen to be present, as well as the public of the city. The programme for the afternoon, in addition to the showing of the film, will include music and a talk by a man who has just returned from France after a long period of front-trench duty, and who has a real live message to bring to the people.

This Red Cross Christmas roll call campaign will be conducted through the precinct organization, and every home in the city of Los Angeles will be solicited by the precinct workers. Every citizen is urged to take a Red Cross membership. All that is required is a heart and a dollar.

Honor window emblems arrived yesterday from Washington for every home in the city. Upon these emblems a small Red Cross will be pasted for each membership taken out by the household.

The campaign starts next Monday and lasts one week.

ARRESTED AT HOLLISTER.

J. Padillo, who is charged with grand larceny of $550 from George Deneff of Los Angeles, was arrested at Hollister, according to word received yesterday by the District Attorney's office from Sheriff J. J. Croxon. According to the complaint against Padillo, he invited Mr. Deneff to share his room in this city. Mr. Deneff claims he subsequently missed the money. Padillo will be brought here by a deputy sheriff.

TAKE FATHER AND SON.

Physician Charged with Improperly Prescribing Drug; Youth, with Vagrancy.

Dr. G. W. Finch, 67, and his son, George C. Finch, 33, a carpenter, were arrested shortly after noon yesterday at their home, No. 505 Wall street, by W. B. Luckenback, operator for the State Board of Pharmacy, who charged the doctor with "prescribing morphine not in good faith," and the son with vagrancy under the State Poison Act.

Dr. G. W. Finch is the physician who signed the certificate alleging that Mrs. Bertha May Wiswell, whose death by foul means was suspected, died of influenza.

When Dr. Finch was arraigned before Judge Richardson yesterday he found the name misspelled "Dr. Finish" and made a grim comment that the way it was spelled might prove very appropriate.

TO LIGHT VAN NUYS.

An ordinance was adopted yesterday by the Council ordering the maintenance of lighting posts and appliances on Sherman way and other streets in the Van Nuys district.

HALT RUNAWAYS.

The Same Being Motor Cars, Now Forbidden to Park on the Fourth-street Hill.

Parking of automobiles on Fourth street between Olive and Hill streets will be prohibited in the event the Council adopts a resolution approved yesterday by the Public Safety Committee. It was stated that the street is dangerously steep within the described district, that many automobiles have "run away" there and it is unsafe for them to be parked on either side of the thoroughfare.

EXCUSE WAS GOOD, BUT HE PLEADED GUILTY.

William Johnson pleaded guilty in Judge Bledsoe's court yesterday to the charge of having failed to register under the selective service act and was given sixty days in the County Jail.

Johnson said that when he applied for registration in Portland, Or., that he was told that he was too old. He did not press that excuse, however.

Business Page: Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Mines, Finance.

SKIES ARE SILVER LINED.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

The business optimism which has been revealed in Los Angeles since the signing of the armistice is not local, in spite of the effort on the part of some of our professional pessimists to make it appear so. From all sections of the country, even those localities which are hardest hit by the necessity for unexpected readjustment, comes the same story of confident outlook. A medley of business page sentiment covering the principal newspapers in cities from coast to coast gives a composite view of an early determination to resume business as usual. These writers find, many of them, that business was not suspended, only interrupted, and that it will be resumed with less friction than seemed probable in the hurly burly of the war.

Financially this composite view indicates that the country will be perfectly able to absorb, without ill effect, provided the problem is scientifically handled, its heavy loans. These we have made to ourselves, and we have paid our way as we went along. The plan for the Fifth Liberty Loan, which has recently been attributed to Secretary McAdoo, and which intimates that the loan will be for a short term and will pay 4½ per cent., finds warm favor with bankers everywhere. It is said that this will disturb the money market to a lesser degree than another loan on the old plan, and also that because of these two attractive features, i.e., short term and increased interest rate, it will be taken up in larger amounts by the monied interests, especially as by the time it is called preparations will have been completed for meeting the income tax, also considerably reduced by the turn affairs have taken. The tax bill will carry about six billion dollars instead of the eight billions originally contemplated. It is the thought finding expression in several quarters, but lacking anything like official confirmation, that the new loan will be for five billion dollars, and that it will be offered about April 1. The old sales organizations have been retained throughout the country.

The steel industry is already being rapidly turned from a war to a peace basis. England was the first to recognize the altered condition, when she turned an order for 200,000 tons of war material into an equal amount of peace supplies. France will need in the immediate future about 7,000,000 tons of iron and steel, and Belgium and Italy will require great quantities. The prompt action of England gives rise to the opinion that the work of reconstruction will not be long delayed. A flood of orders from South America and the Orient has also been dammed up during the war, and will now be released. All of these, in addition to the tremendous home demand, is going to make good times in the steel marts of the country, or else our financial seers are far from the bullseye.

Hon. Bernard Nadal Baker, former head of the Atlantic Transport Company, and a shipping and overseas transportation expert, has recently been in Los Angeles. He would have this port make certain its own export trade independent of the East by developing to its uttermost the electric possibilities of our mountains and then use it to provide cheap and effective power to operate smelters and other manufacturing industries within touch of tidewater. Mr. Baker glimpses California as a great industrial State, not only feeding a large part of the earth, but developing its own finished products, iron, steel, refined oils, cotton goods, and above all building up a great merchant marine to ply the seas and carry the results of our handiwork to the four corners of the earth. It is a prophetic vision, but it WILL COME TRUE.

While the Los Angeles stock market is moving upward in a free and easy manner, with trading active and the cards apparently face upward on the table, the New York dealers are not so transparent. In fact, there is some evidence that the so-called big interests represented in the eastern exchanges are holding out to see which way the cat is likely to jump. The public is eager and anxious to participate in the good things that are said to be going by and coming up, but just as a stock seems well on its way to wherever it is going, there is a tug on the brake and the activity slows down or stops altogether. In a word, there is a dearth of professional trading going on. I should reiterate, however, that this condition does not exist locally where business is booming in stocks and bonds and everything seems as merry as the well-known marriage bell.

In addition to purchasing a good many billions of its own bonds, United States investors have taken up about eighty millions in the various Canadian war loans. This country is in the position of a rich uncle to his poor relation, but at that Uncle Sam is not such a bad banker, because he has borrowed at 4 and 4½ per cent. and loaned out at 5 and 5½ per cent., wherefore his "interest receivable" account is a very refreshing part of his international book-keeping.

Following a precedent set by the larger banking houses of New York and Chicago, the Citizens' National Bank has added a bond department to its activities. It is believed that the immense sales of Liberty Bonds and their attendant campaigns has educated the saving public to bond buying, and to care for the needs of their customers in this direction the bond department of the Citizens' National Bank was created. John M. Burbaw, formerly head of the collection department of the Citizens' National, has been made bond officer by President Waters. The bank from time to time will buy and deal in government, municipal, railroad and corporation bonds and such securities as are legal investments for national banks.

F. P. Allen, local representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Markets, received word yesterday from Washington that his bureau would from this time forward be called upon to inspect and pass upon all beef purchased in the Los Angeles territory for shipment to our army and navy and to the Allies. The standard required for beef of this grade is very high in order that it may stand the packing and long journey. Its fiber must be absolutely sound, and Mr. Allen says the beef that goes from this market will be A1. His jurisdiction also extends over local shipments to Southern California camps, Kearny, Rosecrans, army and navy barracks, balloon school, etc. One order of 1,500,000 pounds of beef has just been completed, and it is probable that other big contracts will be placed by the government in the near future for local shipment. The appointment of the popular local representative for this important work is by way of promotion, and carries with it both added responsibilities and pay. He will probably be given an assistant to help in arduous grading duties involved in the new work.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The moderate and irregular movement shown by today's stock market was mainly ascribed to the favorable tenor of week-end advices respecting general trade and industrial prospects, as reported by the Federal Reserve Board and other authorities.

Dealings were again light and contracted, concentrating in steels, shippings, motors, oils and several of the high-grade rails, as well as minor transportations, notably Southern Railway and Texas Pacifics.

Speculative specialties as represented by the distilling group also formed a considerable part of the trading, industrial alcohol gaining five points and distillers a point. The most excessive gain of any stock was that of Cuba-American sugar, which advanced 16½ points on a single sale. Marine Pfd. fluctuated within a 2½-point range, but yielded towards the close, despite assurances of progress in the proposed sale to the United States government and Mexican Petroleum lost half of its substantial rise. Sears-Roebuck, May department stores, American Car, American Can and coppers furnished the other firm to strong issues, metals being sustained by unofficial reports that the War Board intends to hold the supplies now on hand.

United States Steel and kindred shares were at their best with tobaccos at the fairly active close and Studebaker, which ranked among the few backward issues, made up practically all its loss of 1 3-4 points, utilities alone displaying heaviness. Total sales amounted to 365,000 shares.

Liquidation of Liberty Bonds preceded the fourth 4 1-4s making a new low quotation of 95.64, while the second 4s duplicated the year's minimum at 92.00. Rails and internationals were steady. Total sales, par value, aggregated $10,225,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

GRAIN PRICES RISE AS DAY ADVANCES.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Lowest prices for grain were made in the first hour followed by a ready absorption of the offerings and with light selling pressure late in the day prices advanced and closed at about the best with January leading the finish, showing 2¾ cents up on corn and ¾ cent on oats, while other deliveries of corn were 1½ to 1¾ cents and oats ¼ to ¾ cent higher in Chicago.

Corn in the southwestern markets was ¼ to 1¾ cents and oats unchanged to ¾ cent higher, the latter in Kansas City. Oats in Minneapolis gained ⅝ to ⅞ cent and in Winnipeg ¼ to ⅝ cent.

Traders who have been bearish and short corn and oats in expectation of large arrivals, depressing prices, had an illustration of its effect today. It is not expected to work the same at all times, but those friendly to the buying side call attention to the fact that after a period of light arrivals buyers hold off and when there is a glut run they come into the market. They did it today on a liberal scale and the result was an advance and strong close after an early break.

Corn was under pressure early and declined 1 to 1¼ cents on selling by the local element. The latter got short on the break while their offerings passed into the hands of strong commission houses on resting orders, and there was little for sale when they tried to cover. A bulge of 2¾ to 3 cents followed with the close within ¼ cent of the top. December was 1.35½; cost, January 1.31¾ and February, March and May 1.30.

Oats futures were sold by the local element

War Labor Board Examiners Open Inquiry Here.

Company Refuses to be Bound by Any Findings.

Employees Tell of Pay, Cost of Living, Etc.

Raymond D. Swing and William E. Kelley, special examiners for the War Labor Board, yesterday morning began the taking of testimony of employees of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation in regard to charges filed by R. P. Dix and five other employees. The hearing continued until 5 o'clock last evening, and will be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock. It is probable that it will not be completed before tomorrow night.

The charges on which the hearing is based are alleged inadequacy of wages, discrimination against members of the union, and unsatisfactory working conditions in "swing" runs. From the testimony taken yesterday it developed that the complainants apparently are also dissatisfied with the operations of the co-operative association and with the requirement of payment of 50 cents per month as hospital fee.

The complainants, who, it is understood, are acting for the Los Angeles branch of the Amalgamated Union of Car Operators, are represented by R. P. Dix, president of the local union, and B. F. Bewbeer, Coast representative of the union.

CANNOT BE BINDING.

Although Sam Haskins is attending the hearing as the legal representative of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, it was made plain at the beginning of the hearing that the corporation could not bind itself to abide by the findings of the special examiners of the War Labor Board. In fact, notice to this effect had been given the secretary of the National War Labor Board on November 27.

Mr. Haskins read a comprehensive statement from W. E. Dunn, vice-president of the corporation, setting forth the corporation's position and the reasons it declines to be a party to the submission of any of the questions raised to the War Labor Board, insisting that the board has no jurisdiction or authority at this time to decide any controversy between the corporation and its employees.

COMPANY'S ATTITUDE.

The statement which had been sent to the War Labor Board, and which was included in Mr. Dunn's statement yesterday, says:

"The Los Angeles Railway is the result of growth and development along the lines of the growth of the city of Los Angeles for many years, until it represents an investment of more than $30,000,000. It has never paid dividends to its stockholders and for the past four years has suffered actual losses of more than $1,000,000.

"The loss for the first two and one-half years was occasioned largely by an irresponsible jitney competition which was finally disposed of by the people.

"By the time the jitney competition was eradicated, the recent phenomenal raise in operating expenses, materials, wages, etc., came into effect, with the result that the Los Angeles Railway today is losing in excess of $50,000 a month.

"The wages of platform men have been raised from a minimum of 36 and a maximum of 39 cents per hour, existing immediately before the war, to a minimum of 38 and a maximum of 44 cents per hour as paid today.

OPERATING EXPENSES.

"The operating expenses of the company are approximately $1,500,000 per annum in excess of what they were immediately before the war, and, as said above, the losses are in excess of $50,000 a month. The stockholders of the company are meeting this monthly loss in the hope that normal conditions will return and the cost of material, etc., be lowered sufficiently to enable us to carry on our business, which covers much the greater part of the entire local transportation system of the city of Los Angeles.

"The people of the city of Los Angeles are trying to deal fairly with our company by helping us to introduce economies of various kinds, in order to avoid if possible a raise in fares. We are today living with the State Railroad Commission complete information and a request that they recommend some action that will relieve our company, at least to some extent, in its present dilemma. There is grave doubt in the minds of many public officials and in the minds of many officials of our company as to the effect of a raise in rates. Many of our people believe, that in this climate, which is nearly always pleasant, a raise in rates would tax us the short riders, and we feel it would certainly lose us the kindly interest of the people.

WAGES AND LIVING.

"We are sure that no reasonable raise of fares would furnish sufficient increase in earnings to meet existing conditions, and it is absolutely certain that the Los Angeles Railway cannot meet or sustain any additional financial burden.

"A large proportion of the concessions demanded in the documents before you are already in effect on the lines of our company and have been for some time. It will be utterly impossible, for us to meet any further concessions that involve additional operating expenses.

"Our wages are as high as any in the United States, cost of living considered.

"Our working conditions are the best and pleasantest in the country.

"For all these reasons we must decline to be a party to the submission of any of these questions to your Board."

NO JURISDICTION NOW?

In addition to this, the statement made yesterday sets forth that war emergency conditions have ceased and the board therefore has no jurisdiction or authority to decide the controversy; that the board has no power to provide for an increase of the revenues of the corporation, and without such increase it is impossible to meet demands for increased wages.

"No just cause exists for any complaint against this company by its employees," says the statement. "All charges of the complaint herein implying unfairness or injustice by this company toward its employees are contrary to the facts."

The testimony yesterday was from motormen, conductors and operation inspectors, relative to the amounts they earn, the cost of maintaining their households, hours required on "swing" runs, and amount of time they have to be on hand without pay.

EIGHT TO PENITENTIARY

Alleged Plotters to Escape from County Jail Among Those to Start Serving Terms.

Eight prisoners, including some alleged to have been in the plot to escape from the County Jail a week ago, were yesterday sent to the penitentiary.

They are Charles Wallace, sentenced to from one to five years at San Quentin for burglary; James Green, sentenced to two years at San Quentin for assault to commit murder; Wylie Dent, Jr., one to ten years at San Quentin for grand larceny; Francisco Uribe, one to ten years at San Quentin for embezzlement; Carl Carlson, one to ten years at San Quentin for highway robbery; Gilbert Furrow, one to ten years at San Quentin for burglary. Leonard Reader, alias Charles Murphy, convicted of embezzlement, and Kenneth Whidden of burglary, were sent to Ione.

SEEKS GUARDIANSHIP.

Mrs. Kate T. Wolfe filed a petition with the County Clerk yesterday asking to be made guardian for her daughter, Katherine, 13 years old, who has an estate of $2447.91. The father has been dead several years.

OFFER ACREAGE TO THE COUNTY.

Landholders Would Swap Valuable Tract for Flood Protection.

A delegation headed by H. W. O'Melveny, attorney for the Bandini estate, and S. C. Graham, representing the Laguna Land and Water Company, waited on the Board of Supervisors yesterday and stated that if the Supervisors will put in permanent works on the river to protect the property of their clients, that they will convey to the county eighty-five acres as a right of way. This land, it was said, is worth $500 an acre, or a total for the tract of $42,500.

It is estimated that the cost of this improvement under the flood control plan will be approximately $60,000. The Supervisors said they would take up the matter next Monday and suggested that, meantime, the proposition be put in writing.

KAFITZ ESTATE FIGHT BEGINS TOMORROW.

NEPHEW AND NIECE ON ONE SIDE, WIDOW ON OTHER IN COURT CONTEST.

The contest over the estate of the late William Kafitz, who died on November 22, leaving an estate valued at $75,000, begins tomorrow morning, when the contestants will gather in Judge Rives's court. On one side is Willy Kafitz, a nephew, and Mrs. Lizzie Migeot, a niece, who offer the will of their uncle appointing them as co-executors and, after making several bequests, dividing the estate between them. Opposed to them will be Mrs. Maude M. Kafitz, whom Kafitz divorced last May. She declares in a contest filed yesterday that Kafitz was of unsound mind when he made the will; that he was pro-German and that the nephew is a former Prussian officer, is not loyal to nor a citizen of the United States, and that Mrs. Migeot is likewise German.

The hearing called for tomorrow was planned originally to be a contest by Attorney J. L. Murphey, representing the nephew and niece opposing the giving of letters of administration for the estate to Charles H. McGwire, Mrs. Kafitz, the widow, having filed a contest to the will. Attorney Murphey yesterday filed an answer to her claim that Kafitz was of unsound mind when he made the will, and it is probable the will contest will be heard before the question of revoking the letters of administration previously issued to Mr. McGwire.

Both Mr. McGwire and Mrs. Kafitz filed their answers yesterday to the charges made. They are represented by Joseph Scott. Attorney Murphey said last night he will file further affidavits.

OCCIDENTAL CORPS WILL BE REVIEWED.

STUDENT ARMY TRAINING MEN WILL BE DEMOBILIZED LAST OF WEEK.

Men of the Student Army Training Corps at Occidental College will pass in a final review tomorrow afternoon before the complete demobilization of the unit is effected. For over two months several hundred men have been in training at the college, and during that time groups were sent to officers' training schools. The organization has been a complete success, it is stated, under the guidance of Capt. Walter G. Frantz, who was sent there by the War Department from Camp Mabry, Tex.

The review will commence at 4 o'clock and every available officer and man in the unit will participate. Immediately following the review, Capt. Frantz will make a definite announcement regarding the exact date demobilization will start, which is believed to be Friday or Saturday. The men of the S.A.T.C. will be permitted to wear their uniforms three months from the date they are mustered out, as is every soldier who has been in the service.

While a majority of the officers sent to Occidental College are eastern men, without exception all are going to make their future homes in Los Angeles, they state. The officers are: Capt. Walter G. Frantz, Capt. Christian Hartke, Lieut. Edwin H. Thayer, Lieut. Arthur Kulser, Lieut. Lawrence H. Bruxer and Lieut. H. R. Wilson.

Dr. F. W. Siegmund is the contract surgeon, and officials accredit to him the excellent record of the S.A.T.C. unit at Occidental in combating the recent epidemic of influenza, no deaths resulting.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE.

Unable to Reach Verdict in Young Woman's Damage Suit Against Pier Company.

A jury in Judge Houser's court which has been trying the $10,830 damage suit of Miss Miriam W. Churchill against F. P. Grieninger and the Neptune Pier Company, disagreed last night after a six-hour session. It was reported that for seven hours they stood eight to four for the plaintiff and then seven to five. Nine votes were necessary for a verdict.

Miss Churchill, the evidence showed, visited the concession known as the Thirty-third Degree, the feature of which is the "blow hole," a contrivance which, when women and girls pass over it, balloons the skirts and causes them embarrassment.

She observed the condition of the skirts of women who passed over the blow hole, and attempted to go out another way. This is a slide, but at the bottom there is a bumper and her foot became caught in an aperture and was sprained.

The defense set up that the device is harmless and that Miss Churchill would not have been injured if she had exercised ordinary care. She was represented by Attorney Jeffers. The counsel for the defendants were C. E. Mishler and J. F. Keogh.

SEEK TO LOWER FIRE INSURANCE

City Council may Abolish the Prevention Bureau.

Cost is High; Companies Pay no Portion of It.

Los Angeles Saddled with Part of San Francisco Loss?

Unless the fire insurance companies immediately reduce fire insurance rates in Los Angeles, steps will be taken toward the abolition of the fire prevention bureau. This statement was made yesterday by Councilman Mallard, who said that Los Angeles is the only city in the United States which pays for the operation of a fire prevention bureau, and he does not believe the burden should fall upon the taxpayers unless they are to be benefitted by it through a reduction in fire insurance rates.

"This bureau costs the city $50,000 a year," said Mr. Mallard. "Its work is efficient and far-reaching. In all other cities the fire insurance companies pay for the maintenance of fire prevention bureaus and there is no reason why they should not do so here. Our bureau last year reduced the cost of fires 42 per cent., and the fire insurance companies should show their appreciation by reducing the rates.

"After we have laid the facts before the insurance companies, I shall take action unless they take the right attitude. My present plan is to introduce an ordinance eliminating the bureau."

The question came up at a meeting of the Public Safety Committee, which will make a formal request to the fire insurance companies for a reduction in insurance rates. It was stated that the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, the Chamber of Commerce and other civic and business organizations will assist the Council in the steps that have been started by Councilman Mallard.

A representative of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association yesterday informed the committee that his association may be depended upon to do its part.

During the discussion, Councilman Mallard made the charge that the fire insurance companies are depending upon Los Angeles to help pay the losses incurred by the big fire in San Francisco ten years ago. He said the companies will not reduce the rate until compelled to because they lost so much by the northern conflagration.

THANKS FROM BRITAIN.

Message to Local British Consul Expresses Appreciation for Saturday's Celebration.

A dispatch from the British Embassy at Washington, communicating the text of a cablegram from Lord Balfour, British Foreign Secretary, has been received by C. White Mortimer, British Consul at Los Angeles. The dispatch is an acknowledgment of the celebration here and in other cities of Great Britain Day, last Saturday. In part, it is as follows:

"The people of Great Britain will ever remember this generous action of the American people. The celebration which His Majesty's government now gratefully acknowledges is a welcome proof that the same spirit of friendship with which the American and British nations have fought and conquered side by side in the struggle for justice and liberty will continue to unite them in the coming days of peace. Strong in the knowledge of this friendship the British people can face with confidence all the problems which the new era may have in store."

CITY WILL DEFEND SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

As the result of a collision for which he says the city was responsible, L. B. Daniels has filed a suit for $10,115 against the Board of Park Commissioners, and the trial will come up this morning. The defendants are Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt, Ernest Braunton and W. M. Bowen.

The case will be defended by Deputy City Attorneys Henry James and T. G. Anderson. Mr. Daniels avers that a city employee removed a certain rope in Exposition Park, permitting an automobile to get on the race track and a few minutes later the machine ran into a horse he was riding.

ARTIFICIAL GAS HELPS.

Industrial plants were completely shut off from their supply of natural gas, and harbor shipyards were materially affected, early yesterday morning, when heavy washouts in Cajon Pass caused a serious break in the Midway gas line. The demand was met a short time after the break by the ability of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company to supply large quantities of artificial gas.

Last night all of the industries using natural gas were in operation with the straight artificial product. This will be manufactured and served to all consumers exclusively until the break is mended, which it is expected will be soon.

TO PROBATE WILL OF WOMAN DEAD ABROAD.

A petition for the probate of the will of Mrs. Lilian Elizabeth Lilian Macdonald of Pasadena, who died in France on October 20, leaving an estate valued at $5000, was filed with the County Clerk yesterday.

In the will the three daughters of Maj. H. H. Sherk, assistant to the Adjutant-General of the State, are mentioned as beneficiaries. The daughters are Margaret, Elizabeth and Helen. G. A. Gibbs asks to be made executor.
